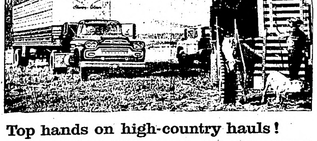
Two Chevy middleweights prove their rawhide stamina!



Top hands on high-country hauls!

Ask any trucker who's been over Wolf Creek Pass, 10,850 feet up in the San Juans: a 9-mile pull to the summit and low gear all the way down. Mr. C. H. Phillips of Alamosa, Colorado, has a 6103 and a 6503 Chevrolet truck that are up over this route the year round, taking sheep and beef to pasture, later marketing the stock in Denver. In less than a year, his Chevy middleweights have averaged about 50,000 miles of this kind of treatment—and they're going stronger than ever!

Watch Chevy trucks at work out in range country. It's a sight to see the way they pack into high-up mountain pastures and handle through brush and rock like a cowman's favorite cutting horse. Take any truck work for that matter. Chevy middleweights probably handle a bigger variety of jobs than any trucks alive. About anything you name, including work that used to be reserved strictly for bigger rigs. When a truck's built the way a Chevy is, lean-muscled and rawhide-tough, it takes to ugly trails the same way most trucks roll over the highway. It just keeps going, without a big to-do, but looking good every mile of the way. How they do it is your Chevrolet dealer's department. He'll be glad to supply details and specifications on the type of models you need.

Trapping Season for Fur-bearers Listed

Minnesota's fur trappers today learned the details of the 1959 trapping seasons from James W. Kimball, state director of game and fish.

Plans call for the establishment of a northern and southern zone again this year. Mink, muskrat and badger may be taken without limit in the northern zone from October 31 through November 30, inclusive. These furbearers can be trapped in the southern zone from November 7 through December 6, inclusive. The northern and southern zones are separated by a line beginning at Breckenredge, following Route 210 to Motley, then on Highway 10 to St. Cloud, and then on Highway 95 to Taylor Falls on the eastern boundary of the state.

"It should be explained that our Saturday, October 31 opening of the trapping season in the northern zone was established this year to avoid a concurrent opening with the deer season on Saturday, November 7. Many trappers, while satisfied with our fixed opening on the first Saturday in November, expressed their disapproval of a common opening with the deer season", said Kimball.

"Trappers have to contend with many problems when both seasons open together, especially in the northern zone. Shorted deer seasons in the southern part of the state are not expected to cause trappers as many problems as further north, being largely over shortly after the opening of the trapping season on November 7", said Kimball.

The mink harvest last year of 56,087 was up slightly from the year before. Donald Balser, state fur specialist, revealed that his studies indicate an adequate harvest is being made. Trappers last year received nearly $898,000 for their mink pelts. Lowered pelt prices for most species, however, has tended to discourage many trappers, as evidenced by a decline in trapping license sales. Nevertheless, some 221,700 rats were taken last year worth $133,000.

Raccoon populations, while still relatively high, have shown some tapering off this year. Raccoon trapping in the northern zone will be from October 31 through December 31, and in the southern zone from November 7 through December 31. No limit has been placed on the number of animals that can be taken.

The trapping harvest of raccoon fell off markedly last fall with about 15,500 animals being taken. This in spite of the fact that a later 'coon trapping season was established last year to allow trappers to take more prime pelts. Trapper interest in 'coon has been declining along with the market for this fur. Reports of widespread agricultural depradations from 'coon have spurred game officials to set a longer season this year in hopes that a better harvest might result.

The total value of the fur harvest in Minnesota last year exceeded $1,300,000. The average income per trapper during the full harvest was approximately $112.

1959 Duck Situation 'Extremely Critical'

Results of this year's Annual Game Survey by the Minnesota Emergency Conservation Committee, based upon more than 600 reports received from county agents, game wardens, sportsmen's clubs, newspapers and legislators, disclose the seriousness of the Minnesota game situation. However, facts should not be concealed even though some selfish interests may hope by silence or criticism to stop the facts as presented in the survey, said Charles L. Horn of Minneapolis, committee chairman.

The 1959 duck situation is extremely serious, even worse than the poorest year on record, 1932, according to the reports, not only in Minnesota, but in the Dakotas and the Canadian prairie provinces. Mallards, the bread and butter duck, are down more than 40 per cent over last year, and they were exceedingly scarce in 1958. Canvasback, redhead, ruddy, and coots have been severly hurt. Canvasback and redhead, literally speaking, are "hanging on the ropes", Horn declared.

Bobwhite quail continue to be down to almost a minimum in number. Sharptails have shown little increase. Ruffed grouse are up in some localities. The native upland game birds may not be down to the dregs, but the situation is not good.

Pheasants and deer present the brightest picture. The mild winter of little snow provided ideal conditions for both species. The dry spring made the pheasant nesting season an excellent one, perhaps the best in 25 years. However, the loss of important marsh areas in the pheasant belt has materially cut-down the pheasant potential.

The deer population will be as high or higher than in 1958, with density of numbers continuing to move further and further south in the state.

According to federal, state and Canadian province authorities, the productivity of waterfowl of the entire Mississippi flyway is approaching the zero point. And that includes everything, vegetation and all the environments for aquatic life. Reports on the water areas show a decrease of from 45 to 80 per cent. Breeding duck populations are down as high as 68 per cent in Minnesota, North and South Dakota and the prairie provinces of Canada.

Forest and Grass Fire Season Opens

Dry Weather of Recent Weeks Olncreases Danger

Added to curtailed sprinkling, brown grass lawns and withering soy beans as a result of a rather severe water shortage, is the report of the first forest and grass fires by Don Wilson, forster in charge of fire prevention and control, Minnesoa Division of Forestry.

"The fires burning now are several weeks ahead of normal," Wilson said. "Most of the fire area has suffered from a lack of normal rainfall all this year, even with the good rains in May and June. A serious lack of water in the soil, both shallow and deep; the many dried sloughs and usual wetlands, and the above normal hot days of this summer have combined to make fires easy to start."

Wilson said one lightning fire and several started by campers and berry pickers have been reported. Fortunately they have been held to small areas but evry large fire always starts from a small one and extreme caution must be exercised by evryone in the woods.

Foresters are manning all the towers in the far northern counties and at Brainerd, Bemidji and Hibbing. These areas have not had rains for weeks and the fire hazards are growing.

Soon Congress will give up and go home. After a brief pause, the work of drawing evasive answers from reluctant witnesses will be resumer, by school teachers.

DEEP IN THE WOODS

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	John	11	33-36
Monday	Psalms	34	1-8
Tuesday	Job	1	8-17
Wednesday	Isaiah	9	1-6
Thursday	Jeremiah	31	15-17
Friday	Lamentations	3	22-26
Saturday	John	14	6-12

Have you ever been deep in a woodland, where it is so dark that you think light can never enter? Then suddenly a shaft of sunlight strikes through the trees, and you find yourself standing in unexpected beauty.

Life can be like that, too. At the darkest moment, suddenly there can be light—if you have the power to see it. But that's an important "if." So many of us fumble through the days and years when the greatest candle of all, the Church, stands ready to light our path.

If you have been depriving yourself of the guiding strength of the Church, start now attending its services. It will help you find your way both in sunlight and in shadow.

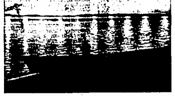
How Well Do You Know Your America?



These multiple exposures of the sun that does not set were taken, of course, in our 49th State, Alaska. Taken over a two-hour period, these exposures show how the Alaska midnight sun dips to the horizon but does not set during the long summer days. The sun remains above the horizon for 84 days at Point Barrow and 36 at Kotzebue. The silhouette in the foreground is that of an oomiak—a large Eskimo boat made of walrus skin.

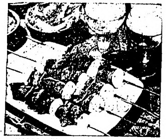
Shish Kebab For A Crowd



Shish kebab, traditional cubed lamb and crisp vegetables broiled on skewers, is a perfect choice to serve a crowd. It originated centuries ago in the Near East when Armenian shepherds impaled their food on sticks and cooked it over open fires. Americans are finding it fun to prepare on their barbecue grills.

A small amount of beer in this marinade adds flavor and helps tenderize the meat. Fluffy rice, a green salad and goblets of cold, sparkling beer are good accompaniments to shish kebab.

Shish Kebab

- 1 leg of lamb (5 to 7 pounds), boned
- 1 peeled, minced clove garlic
- ½ cup salad or olive oil
- ½ cup beer or ale
- 1 teaspoon crushed oregano
- ½ teaspoon crushed thyme
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 6 to 8 green peppers
- 16 to 20 small white onions

Have meatman remove bone from leg of lamb. Cut boned lamb into 2-inch chunks, removing gristle and most of fat. Combine garlic, salad or olive oil, beer or ale, pepper, oregano, thyme and salt. Pour marinade over lamb chunks in shallow pan and let stand in refrigerator at least 1 hour or overnight. Cut green peppers into 2-inch pieces. Cut peeled onions into halves. When ready to cook, alternate marinated lamb chunks, green pepper pieces and halved onions on 8 to 10 long metal skewers. Brush vegetables with olive oil or melted butter. Broil 3 inches from heat source or over coals until tender, about 15 minutes, turning skewers to brown food evenly. To serve, push off onto individual plates.

Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

Weights of Be and Oats Fall below Record '58 Figure

Rain during the past week slowed down harvesting, but except where hail hit prospects of a good harvest are seen in the reports of area elevators late last week. Combining of grain was resumed Friday with the return of sunny weather.

The oats harvest is about 40% completed with both yields and weight a little lighter than last year's bumper crop. Last year, the weight averaged 38 to 39 pounds to a bushel compared to 35 to 38 pounds this year and elevators also report that the color is "off a little bit" in the shipments they have received.

Hail, which has pounded the area repeatedly, was described by one buyer as the "worst he has ever seen." He further described it as "hitting every fourth farm."

Barley receipts have been "a little lighter" to "quite a bit lighter in yield," according to grain elevator operators, but weigh only slightly less than last year. Last year's harvest averaged about 46 to 47 pounds compared to 43 to 44 pounds in this year's crop. One operator reported that earlier receipts this year averaged 47 pounds before the rains, but since that time have been about 44 pounds.

Wheat received this year have averaged 56 to 58 pounds to a bushel compared to 59 to 60 pounds this year with a smaller yield per acre the general picture.

Predictions for a good flax season have been coming in with most expecting as good or better season this year than in 1958. Harvesting of the crop is expected to get under way in about two weeks.

Ronald Peterson, 15, of Middle River was admitted to Northwestern hospital at 8 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 13, following a shooting accident which happened an hour earlier on his father's farm north of the Mud Lake refuge.

According to the report, Ronald was hunting with Dwight Johnson, 20, at the time of the accident. They were on opposite sides of a ditch when Peterson asked Johnson to throw a 20-gauge shotgun across the ditch to him. The gun struck the ground and discharged striking Peterson in the palm of the left hand.

Following the accident, the victim drove the pickup truck which the young men had used to go hunting to the home of his brother, Ervin. The latter then brought his brother to Northwestern hospital.

An early examination showed a large, gaping wound had been blown through the hand and it is feared that further damage to bones may have been done. Hospital attendants describe Peterson's condition as satisfactory.

Two Girls Injured in Auto Accident N.W. of St. Hilaire

Barbara Ortloff, Age 14, Driver of Car, and Girl Companion Are Injured

Two traffic mishaps, one of which caused injury to two girls, were reported by the sheriff's office today.

The more serious of the mishaps occurred about 9:15 Saturday morning when a car driven by Barbara Ortloff, 14, city, left CAR 67 about eight miles northwest of St. Hillaire, near the Carl Mosbeck farm, and rolled over, coming to rest with its wheels in the air.

Deputy Sheriff Eugene Prestegaard reported that Miss Ortloff and her passenger, Virginia Johnson, 13, rt. 5, were both hospitalized here.

The 1953 model car belonging to Clarence Sevre, rt. 5, was reported a total loss. The girls had borrowed the car to practice driving, it was reported, and apparently rolled when Miss Ortloff tried to bring it back up on the road after it ran onto the bank.

Sevre was tagged for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a motor vehicle. Prestegaard reported the case is still under investigation.

Miss Ortloff was reported in good condition today but the Johnson girl was said to be still in serious condition from internal injuries.

The second mishap was investigated by Sheriff Charles Richards, who said a car driven by Jimmy Asp, Goodridge, struck a Hereford calf belonging to Lloyd and Nordeen Urdahl on CAR 63 about six miles northeast of the city. The incident occurred about 8:45 p.m. Sunday. Richards said about $50 damage was caused to the car and the calf had to be destroyed. No tags were issued in the case.

5 Business Places at Plummer Robbed of $1,000 Thursday

Five business establishments in Plummer were burglarized of about $1,000 Thursday night, Aug. 13, by unknown persons whom Sheriff Carl Kankel of Red Lake county described as "a gang with a professional touch."

Locks on the front doors of the Co-op store, the Morrisette store and the municipal liquor store were forced, the rear door of the lumber store was used as an entry and the side door of the Plummer Grain company was also forced.

As far as can be determined, the burglars were after only cash, although there is a possibility that a few cartons of cigarettes, and some candy may have been taken at the Co-op store.

"From the amount of work done and by the time they had to do their work, there most likely was more than one person involved," Sheriff Kankel said. No one has reported seeing or hearing the thieves although several people live near some of the stores broken into.

Kankel's office investigated the robberies as soon as they were reported, and promised every effort to solve the case.

14 New Cases TB Reported Locally In Past Five Years

Pennington county had 14 new cases of tuberculosis reported to the Minnesota department of health during the five years ending in 1958.

This makes the county's average annual TB case rate 20.9 per 100,000 population, according to a state Christmas Seal association release. Pennington is one of 16 counties in the state in which the TB case rate has increased during the past five years.

New cases in the state totaled 1,151 for the last year, and 6,707 for the last five years.

Recent outbreaks of active TB in different areas of the state increase the need for more intensive community case-finding surveys if we are able to keep the disease under control, states J. G. Neal, managing director of the state Christmas Seal organization.

Because there are usually no symptoms in the early stages of TB, everyone should be checked for tuberculosis periodically. From one-fourth to one-third of the American people are infected with TB germs, reports Dr. James E. Perkins, managing director of the National Tuberculosis association.

Highway Chief Studies Route to N. W. Angle

L. P. Zimmerman, Minnesota commissioner of highways, with other state and district highway department officials, conferred Wednesday in Winnipeg with Province of Manitoba public works officials on problems relative to the proposed highway linking Minnesota's Northwest Angle to the state. The Manitoba and Minnesota officials agreed that the province and state district engineers should proceed at once with a survey of the area and submit their recommendations for location and construction as quickly as possible.

Mr. Zimmerman is acting under legislative authority and an act of Congress which permits the Minnesota officials to negotiate directly with the officials of Manitoba for a joint road project in Manitoba from the border north of Warroad to the Northwest Angle. The road from Warroad to the border was designated as a trunk highway by the legislature at this year's session.

The Minnesota officials expressed satisfaction with the attitude of the Manitoba officials toward the proposal. The highway to Northwest Angle would be the first link of a high type road that will extend northward to the trans-Candada highway, completing a loop around Lake of the Woods that could serve as the north terminal of the Mississippi Parkway.

Final action on the project will require the approval of Congress as well as the state legislature and it is hoped that federal funds will be made available to pay the Americans' share of the costs. Mr. Zimmerman stated that there seemed to be agreement that, once built, the highway in Manitoba should be maintained by the Province. The road extending into Northwest Angle from the Manitoba highway would be the state's responsibility, he said.

The Minnesota officials drove from Thief River Falls to Winnipeg over international highway No. 59. The construction on the Canadian side of the border has been completed and most of the highway has been paved or black-topped. They found it to be a high standard road that should carry a substantial portion of Winnipeg tarffic north and south. Province officials gave assurance that it will be maintained from Winnipeg to the border this winter.

Minnesota has completed the

Enrollment to Hit New Peak in TRF Schools

Students to Report for 1st Day Classes Tuesday, September 8

With the Labor Day observance set for Monday, September 7, the Thief River Falls public schools will open as usual on the following Tuesday, September 8, it was announced today by Superintendent Irwin T. Mickelson.

Joseph Iverson, director of secondary education, predicted a record junior-senior high school enrollment of 1,125, about 100 more than a year ago, with indications that the senior class would number fully 200 students. The high school teaching staff of 54 is complete except for the appointment of a guidance counselor.

An enrollment of 1,315 is expected in the kindergarten and first six grades. Only one of the 50 teachers remaining to be named is a half-time teacher for the Knox fifth grade.

Iverson stated that a teacher workshop will be conducted from Wednesday, September 2, thru Friday the 4th. All faculty members are expected to report September 2 to receive Mantoux TB tests in accordance with a new state law.

Pupils who will be entering the seventh grade this fall are asked to report at the high school Friday, September 4, for a two-hour orientation period, during which the course of study will be outlined and a tour of the school building will be made. Transportation must be arranged by the pupils or their parents, since the buses will not yet be operating.

Students enrolling in junior-senior high school are reminded to bring the $3 activities fee the first day of school. The fee covers lockers, towel service, school paper, athletic events and several other items.

Seventh grade boys are asked to secure gymnasium outfits consisting of navy blue shorts and white T-shirts, while seventh grade girls should provide red one-piece gym suits. Uniformity is desired, it was explained, since the pupils will give demonstrations at athletic events during the year. The suits will be available in local stores.

The radial arm table saw was being used to cut off lumber when Ranum, according to the report, slipped or fell into the rapidly-spinning blade.

At the hospital, following an examination shortly after 4:30 p.m., the arm was amputated and Ranum's condition Friday morning was reported as "good" by hospital officials.

Lifeguard Is No Longer on Duty at Tindolph Pool

Due to the recent cool weather with the resulting few swimmers, the service of a lifeguard at the Tindolph park pool were dispensed with, effective last Saturday, August 15. Quentin Jones, waterfront director, stated today. He added that the facilities will be open for those who wish to swim.

Jones also announced that three more pupils completed the sixth grade swimming test during the past week. They include Mark Peterson, Northrop school; Judy Edgekowski, Washington; and Robert Gall, St. Bernard's.

STRANDQUIST Work on the new Strandquist school is progressing rapidly and a spokesman last week said he expected the building would be completed "in about a month." Fire destroyed the two-story school last year and all that was saved was the new gymnasium seen at right.

Police and Sheriffs to Attend School in TRF September 14-25

Law enforcement officers from an eight-county area Thursday evening had a preview of a police school which will train members of police forces and sheriffs' departments under a new law passed by the last session of the legislature.

The school, to be held in Thief River Falls Sept. 14-25, will give students an 80-hour course in a variety of subjects ranging from juvenile statutes to first aid, from traffic laws to fingerprint classification.

The sessions in Thief River Falls will be the first offered since the new bill was passed. Other schools have been scheduled in Benson during October, in Bemidji during November and in Rochester during December.

Classes will meet five days a week for a period of two-weeks from 8:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Those who enroll must attend all sessions, take notes and will be examined on the subject material offered to receive a certificate of completion. Course grades will be forwarded to their supervisor and the governing body of the department in which they serve.

Minnesota will be one of three states which have state-sponsored schools of this kind. Courses will be taught by members of the state bureau of criminal apprehension, bureau of narcotics, federal bureau of investigation, national auto theft bureau, state fire marshal's office, state highway patrol, member of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth police departments and other agencies.

The ultimate goal of the area police schools is to give every police officer in the state at least two-weeks of training with the possibility of advanced training at a later time.

Those who enroll in the September school will be from police departments and sheriffs' offices in Pennington, Marshall, Polk, Kittson, Roseau, Lake of the Woods and Red Lake counties.

Present at the meeting were Ed Mattson, ass't superintendent of the state bureau of criminal apprehension; Willard Morris, bureau training supervisor from Brainerd; John Barry, bureau investigator from Willmar; Max Graham, bureau investigator from Thief River Falls; police and city officials from Thief River Falls, Warren, Crookston and Greenbush; sheriffs and deputies from Pennington, Roseau, Marshall, Polk and Red Lake counties and press and radio representatives from Roseau and Thief River Falls.

T. R. Falls Teacher Attends Workshop

Frank Hamerlinck Back from Lake Koronis Event

Commissioner of Education Dean Schweickhard and former State Senator Elmer L. Anderson addressed 180 Minnesota teachers at a banquet marking the closing sessions of the annual Minnesota Education (MEA) Workshop at Lake Koronis Assembly Grounds last week.

Workshop registrants, representing local teachers associations affiliated with the MEA, met to discuss the coming year's professional activities and committee plans. Consultants presented materials on such areas as professional ethics, teachers salary, legal assistance, professional standards, school legislation and school finance.

Attending the sessions was Frank Hamerlinck, president of the TRF Education Association.

Highlights of the workshop program included first meeting of the state ethics commission authorized last spring by the MEA delegate assembly. The 13-member body will serve as an instrument of professional ethics interpretation and enforcement in the field of education.

Another unique feature was a sample board meeting sponsored in cooperation with the Minnesota School Board Association (MEA). Emphasis was on techniques for teachers committee in making a salary recommendation to their local boards.

second Wednesday of each month for the time being, it was decided at the meeting.

Also discussed was the possibility of getting a plane based here for use by the members. However, it was emphasized, a cadet program will have to be organized. Plans for getting the local unit's program under way will be made later, Illies stated. Anyone interested in joining the CAP, whether as an adult member or a cadet, may inquire of Illies at the airport, Kenneth Miller at Forkenbrock Motors, or Willis Johnson at Tunberg Motors.

Zimmerman Has Meeting on New N.W.Angle Road

new road from the border south to Lancaster and construction now in progress or that has been authorized will provide a new highway most of the distance from Lancaster to Thief River Falls, paralleling the Soo Line tracks. The new road will be the most direct route from Winnipeg to Thief River Falls and points south and east of here.

From Winnipeg the Minnesota officials proceeded to Kenora Wednesday afternoon and returned to St. Paul Friday from Baudette after a boat trip on Lake of the Woods that took them to the Northwest Angle. With Mr. Zimmerman from the St. Paul office was John Swanberg, chief engineer. District engineer Carl Larson of Bemidji and A. O. Torgerson of Detroit Lakes, formerly assistant commissioner, and William LaFave and W. E. Dahlquist of Thief River Falls made up the rest of the party.

Mr. Zimmerman met with representative groups at Lancaster and at Baudette to discuss highway problems of local interest. The visit to Baudette enabled him to see the new bridge across the Rainy River, now under construction, and which may be in service the latter part of next year.

School Enrollment Rises in Marshall

Declining Trend of Past Three Years Is Reversed

After three consecutive years of decreased enrollment in Marshall county public schools, enrollment increased by 55 pupils from the 1957-58 total of 3,450. The statistics were released by the office of John O. Pearson, Marshall county superintendent of schools, from a report compiled and prepared for the Minnesota Department of Education.

Although increased from 1957-1958, the 1958-1959 enrollment was less than the total of 3,472 recorded in the 1956-1957 and 3,479 noted in 1955-1956. The decline, prior to the upward trend begun this school year, came after a period of several years when school enrollment had been on the increase.

Fosston Man Faces Serious Charges

Useldinger Charged with Assault in Wife's Injury

Gregor Useldinger, 61, of Fosston was charged with assault with intent to do grievous bodily harm when he was arraigned in Crookston municipal court Thursday.

The charge stemmed from an alleged attempt by Useldinger last Thursday to run down his wife, Gladys, 43, with his automobile on a Fosston street.

Mrs. Useldinger, who was hurled from her shoes and through a plate glass window of an auto parts firm, was released from a hospital Sunday, August 9, after treatment for cuts and bruises.

Bond for Useldinger was set at $500 by Judge John R. Kelly.

Judge Kelly also set a preliminary hearing on the case for Sept. 1. Useldinger was represented by East Grand Forks attorney Henry Tweten.

An additional charge of careless driving against Useldinger will be heard in Fosston justice court later.

Not much hail damage was reported in this area and combining will start in earnest this week if there is no rain.

IOWA CORN? No, this was raised right here in Pennington county. Art Bartelson, center, and his two sons show off some of the 28 acres of which they are very proud. The Funk's G-188 hybrid seed, bought from the Peterson-Biddick company, has produced stalks measuring eight to 12 feet high and Bartelson says his field is the best he has ever raised. The Bartelson farm is four miles east and one mile south of Thief River Falls.

The annual Potato Field Day at the Red River Valley Potato Growers association's potato research farm will be held Thursday, August 27, at 1:00 p.m. Central Standard Time, according to Lyle W. Currie, executive secretary of the association.

The field day is planned to give growers and others interested, an opportunity to view the field research projects on the farm and to discuss potato problems with research workers from the University of Minnesota, N.D.A.C., and U.S.D.A. personnel of the Potato Research Center. The farm is located four miles south on Highway 81 and one west of Grand Forks; or 1 mile south of Shannahan's Corner on Old Highway 81.

Tractor-drawn trailers will again be used this year to haul visitors through the plots. To give a better opportunity to see and hear, those attending will be taken through the plots in groups with each group starting at a different plot so that all will complete the tour about the same time. A special tour of the plots has been arranged for county agents of the area at 10 a.m., Central Standard Time, the same day.

Pre-school Health Exams Are Urged

Minnesota Medical Group Points out Advantages

School days, in order to be happy days, must be healthy days. With increased emphasis upon good health for the pupil entering school for the first time, as well as the more advanced student, the pre-school health examination has become increasingly insignificant.

A pre-school health examination can serve a two-fold purpose, explains the Minnesota State Medical Association. It can help the family physician to detect and correct, whenever possible, existing health problems of the child. It can also serve as an educational process to teach the child why certain corrective steps taken now may be to his advantage in later life. He must also be taught to live with any existing chronic conditions or physical handicaps.

Parents should be present at the time of these physical examinations in order to be able to fully understand the physician's findings and to help the child to carry out prescribed therapy.

The pre-school health examination can help to provide the teacher with important information about the growth and development of the individual pupil. It can disclose which pupils are in need of medical or dental services and can help to determine which students have health problems which require attention other than medical and dental treatment.

Buying of Savings Bonds Continues

Pennington Co. People Invest $20,436 In July

Purchases of Series E and H Savings Bonds in July, 1959, totaled $20,436 in Pennington county, bringing the year to date purchases to $111,274 or 53.9 per cent of the county goal for 1959, J. M. Roche, county chairman, announced today.

"The President's recent proposals for improved terms of Savings Bonds are still being considered by the Congress," Roche said. "The Treasury has emphasized that all bonds purchased on or after June 1 will benefit from the new terms, if the legislation is approved, regardless of the terms printed on the Bond. Under the proposed new terms it will be to the advantage of bond holders to hold on to their old bonds rather than to redeem them for purchases of new ones."

Crookston Midgets Win Tourney from TRF

Playing errorless ball behind the two-hit pitching of right-handers Mike Charron and Jim Turner, the Crookston Midgets, on Saturday afternoon on the Fair Grounds diamond, defeated the Thief River Falls Midgets, 7 to 0, in the championship finals of the Midget baseball tournament conducted and sponsored by the local Eagles aerie. It marked the second straight year that the Crookston Midgets have won the tournament championship.

In first round tournament play on Friday, coach Larry Gilbertson's Thief River Falls team defeated the Goodridge Midgets, 16 to 3; the powerful Ada Midgets, entering the tourney undefeated, trounced the Fosston Midgets, 25 to 4; and the Crookston Midgets, behind the steady pitching of Pete Mickelson, defeated the Red Lake Falls Midgets, 6 to 2.

In an exciting semi-finals game played Saturday morning, the local Midgets, with right-hander Jim Weckwerth turning in a stout-hearted performance, upset the favored Ada nine to score a 6 to 4 triumph. The locals, trailing by a 4 to 0 score entering the 4th inning, shoved across four runs in that frame to tie the score, and then added a pair in the 5th inning to score their victory.

Crookston gained the finals when the Lake Bronson Midgets, unable to field a complete team, failed to make an appearance for their game against the Pirates.

In the championship finals, Crookston moved into the scoring column in the 1st inning, when Mickelson and Jerry Wilkens drew walks and then tallied on Charron's double to the fence in left field.

The locals made a strong bid to score in their half of the 1st inning when John Aune and Mike Aune were given walks; Paul Klungness flied to left field; and Jim Weckwerth (who was given the starting assignment against Crookston) walked to fill the bases. Jim Turner was brought in from third base to snuff out the rally, and the burly fast-baller forced Gary Klungness to bounce into a force play, second to home, and whiffed Larry Poole to end the threat.

Crookston, after picking up a run in the 4th, scored four runs in the 5th inning to put the game beyond the reach of the locals. In the four-run 5th inning, Crookston utilized a bunt-and-run game to good effect, beating out a pair of bunts for base hits and causing the local defense to commit several errors in their haste to field the infield taps.

Following the game, the players and their coaches, and the tournament officials, were the guests of the Eagles at a "bean feed" at the Eagles hall.

Ducks Unlimited Open Membership Drive

In order to "keep 'em flying," Minnesota chapter of Ducks Unlimited today launched the biggest membership drive in its 22-year history.

Behind the big drive for new members and added funds is the realization that the migratory waterfowl of North America face another crisis, despite continuous work in Canada to provide and maintain wetland areas where ducks can nest.

The central Canadian provinces — Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba — have suffered through three years of growth. Experts still aren't sure that some late season rainfall came in time to help nesting and feeding and boost the shrinking duck crop this year.

"Our goal this year is one Ducks Unlimited member for every 20 federal duck stamps sold," John Ward, Minnesota chairman, said.

"Hard-working committees have been set up in every one of our 87 counties. If they reach the goal in Minnesota, this alone will increase our national membership 25 per cent."

The membership drive kicks off August 15. Minimum membership fee is $5 a year, though many enthusiastic duck hunters give anywhere up to $200 each.

The Ducks Unlimited program was set up nationally in 1937 to help bring back a fast-disappearing duck population.

Federal duck stamp funds legally cannot be used outside the United States, despite the fact that more than 65 per cent of all migratory waterfowl originate in the Canadian breeding grounds.

Funds collected through memberships are poured into wetlands and marsh reclamation programs — in this case returning parched farm land to ponds and marshes through damming of creeks and drainage projects.

This work began in 1937 when the first dollars collected by Ducks Unlimited began to pour into the Canadian restoration of breeding and feeding areas.

The three Canadian provincial governments and private owners provide all the land and part of the cost of construction. The American organization then pays for part or all of the reclamation work.

Red Lake County Fair Gets under Way Next Friday

Attractive Program Is Arranged for Annual Three-day Exposition

Held a month later than last year, the '59 three-day fair will be held completely on the park grounds as it was last year. An exhibit-demonstration quonset 40x80 erected in time for last year's fair will be augmented by the new 40x100 livestock building now going up.

The new building will be able to house a considerable number of farm animals, County Agent Abel Anderson said this week.

Friday, Aug. 21, will be entry day with the registration of exhibits between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. Carnival grounds by the Martin Co. Several demonstrations are also scheduled the first day.

Big day of the fair is Saturday with a host of events on the program. 4-H activities will be in full swing and so will judging and demonstrations which start at 9 a.m. A grandstand show is slated in the afternoon and a parade at 2:30 with a number of floats from 4-H clubs and county businessmen. Marshal for the parade is Carsten Mead of Red Lake Falls. In the evening, a group of girls from Detroit Lakes will present a dancing show.

Sunday's program will feature the Martin carnival's Kiddies Day. An area talent contest is scheduled in the afternoon following a doll buggy parade with prizes to be awarded.

The Vic Aalbu variety show is scheduled with Dick Norquist, MC. Featured in the act will be Rita and Pat in a number of musical numbers along with magic, comedy and impersonation acts.

A fireworks display will end the three-day event late that evening.

Soo Line Appoints Public Relations Staff Director

The Soo Line railroad today announced the establishment, effective September 1, of a new position in its public relations and advertising department. Wallace W. Abbey, Western editor of Railway Age magazine at Chicago, will join the department's staff as assistant to vice president, public relations.

Abbey has been Western Editor of Railway Age, the railroad industry's news weekly, since December, 1956. Prior to that time he spent three years on the public relations staff of the Association of Western Railways, of which the Soo Line is a member.

WOMEN OF WORLD GROW MORE BEAUTY CONSCIOUS

"A beauty salon in every block, beauty colleges more and more crowded; England emulating their lovely queen and princess, Paris and Rome adopting the Bardot or Loren look. Only Russian women remain indifferent." This summarizes observations made on the most recent of Myndall Cain's tours abroad. That any woman can look ten to twenty years younger than her age is the contention of this widely known Minneapolis beautician, and that more of the women of the world are consciously making the effort is her belief. She feels that the growing invasion of tourists will soon change even the Russian attitude that it is unpatriotic to be beauty conscious — an attitude hardly reflected by the lovely vivacity of the Russian dance troop recently performing in Minneapolis.

Thieves Nip Cass Lake to Win No. Minny Title

In a come-from-behind effort, featured by the hitting of Frank Gunderman and the sturdy relief pitching of Arlan Hjelle, the Thieves on Sunday afternoon defeated Cass Lake, 8 to 7, in a playoff game at Bagley to win the Northern Minnesota baseball league title for 1959.

As a result of their victory, the Thieves will be hosts on Wednesday night for the first game of the league's double-elimination playoff series. The Thieves will meet Fosston, the league's fourth place team, on the Fair Grounds diamond at 8:30 P.M. on Wednesday. On Thursday night, at Bagley, the Cass Lake team will play the Bagley team in a first round game.

In Sunday's league-championship tilt, Cass Lake picked up a run in the 2nd inning on a bunt by Bob Montebello, an error, and a double by Russ Smith. The Thieves, in their half of the 2nd, moved into the lead by scoring a pair of runs.

A single by Ron Ness, a sacrifice, and error, and single by Montebello accounted for two Cass Lake runs in the 3rd inning. And in the 4th inning, a walk, an infield out, a ground single by Ness, a triple by Glen Peppel, and an error chalked up three Cass Lake runs for a 6 to 2 lead for Russ Smith's club.

The Thieves began to move back into the game in the 5th inning when Dennis Bakke led off with a walk, and then stole second. Harley Drees singled past shortstop, with Bakke stopping at third. Hjelle was out, pitch to first, with Drees taking second and Bakke holding at third. Rod Max banked a single to center field, scoring Bakke and sending Drees to third. Glenn Carlson grounded out to first base, with Drees scoring on the play. Gunderson doubled to left-center, scoring Max.

In the 7th inning, the Thieves moved their game-winning run across the plate. Drees walked to lead off; Hjelle beat out a bunt down the first-base line; Max sacrificed, pitch to first; Carlson was nicked by a pitched ball, loading the bases; Gunderman drove a single into left field, scoring Drees and Hjelle, and Carlson coming around to third base. Gene Leslie's long fly to center field allowed Carlson to tally after the catch, giving the locals an 8 to 6 lead.

Hjelle, who had entered the game in the 5th inning, gave up a double to Smith in that inning, a single to Ness in the 6th inning, a double to Montebello in the 7th inning, and a triple to Peppel in the 9th inning. Peppel's triple, with one man out, was the lone hit that was turned into a run. Peppel scored on South's fly ball to John Drury in left field. Hjelle ended the game by striking out Annette, the whiff being the ninth chalked up by the young righthander in his five-inning stint.

A Welcome Visit

Harold Woodrow (Babe) Paulsen, head of the physical education department at Slippery Rock (Pa.) Teachers College, was a welcome visitor in town Thursday afternoon.

Babe, of course, is well-known to the hockey fans in these parts for he was a high school hockey coach at Roseau and, during the 1946-47 and 1947-48 seasons, he was coach of the Prowler varsity here.

In addition to his coaching duties, Babe was a stand-out member of the senior hockey Thieves, playing at right wing. Senior hockey in those days was a tremendous effort, and the States-Dominion league produced some of the finest semi-pro hockey and excitement that this area has enjoyed. Babe played on the line that was centered by lanky Bill Zippel and with Connie Stanbridge at left wing.

Who, of the old-time senior hockey fans, can forget that three-game league playoff series with the Grand Forks Amerks in March of 1948? The first game of the series was played at Grand Forks, and and Cliff (Fido) Purpur's Amerks scored a 6 to 3 win. The series moved to Thief River Falls for a Sunday afternoon tilt and, before a jam-packed Arena (the gate receipts for the game totaled $987.00), the Thieves, on a pair of goals by Paulsen, scored a 2 to 1 win, forcing a third and deciding game. Babe, with about a minute and a half to play, scored the game-winning tally when he picked up a pass from Zippel and skated in from right wing to score.

In the Sunday night game, and the receipts for this game was above the $850.00 mark, the Amerks scored a 5 to 4 win to nail down the league title.

Along with Babe on that squad were such hockey luminaries as goalie Charles (Greek) Swanson, defensemen Tony Dorn, Lloyd (Pug) Lund, Rob Amundson, and Bob Protz, and forwards Bill Zippel, Bud Brossolt, Lloyd Johnson, Bob Bell, and Connie Stanbridge.

Oh yes, we mustn't forget that Babe had talents as a softball player, and left greetings for Bob Carlson. Bob will never forget the home run that Babe poled over the left-field fence, when the games were played at the Fair Grounds. In those days, the deadly rivalry was between the Oen's, managed by Gordy Reierson, and the Poppler's, managed by Glenn Carlson, and in one of these games, Bob made the mistake of tossing a change-up to Paulsen. According to Bob, the ball must still be in orbit, for at last sight it was disappearing over the left-field fence.

A New Record for the Course

Reid Stromberg kicked over the golfing traces at the local club on Sunday afternoon when, on his third round in the 27-hole medal play tournament, he carded a five-under-par 31, setting a new record.

Back in July of 1953, Dick Evenson of Minneapolis, playing a qualifying round for the local club's invitational tournament, shot a 31, having the following card: 443 343 421. That 31 was a new record, breaking the previous marks of 32 set by Vic Jung and Fargo's Chuck Beyers. Evenson's card revealed birdies on the 3rd, 6th, 8th, and 9th holes, and the course played in par 35 in those days.

Stromberg's effort on Sunday was on a par 36 course, and he had the following card: 444 243 424. Par for the course at present is as follows: 444 354 435, so you see that Reid picked up birds on the 4th, 5th, 6th, 8th, and 9th holes.

Thieves vs. Fosston

Thief River Falls, Cass Lake, Bagley, and Fosston are the four teams that will compete in the Northern Minny league's double elimination tournament that will begin here on Wednesday night, with the Thieves playing Fosston at 8:30 P.M. on the Fair Grounds diamond.

On Thursday night, at 8:30 P.M., on the Bagley diamond, the Bagley Merchants will meet the Cass Lake nine.

In games played on Sunday, Thief River Falls, by an 8 to 7 score, defeated Cass Lake to win the league championship; and on Sunday night, Fosston edged out Erskine, 6 to 5, to win fourth place in the league standings.

Defending champion Jerry Amundgaard and Wilson were tied at the conclusion of the 50-bird event, with identical 25-21 scores. In the 25-bird shoot-off, Wilson dropped but one bird, posting a 24; while Amundgaard scored a 20. Si Schantzen and Stan Wilson tied for third place in the Class A competition, with Schantzen having a 22-25 and Stan Wilson a 23-21.

In the Class C shooting, Russ Embury posted a 22-21 for a 43 and a first place; while Bill Ranta had a 19-21 for a second place.

Reid Stromberg Wins Golf Event

Bill Watzke, Stan Larson In Tie for Second Place

A red-hot third round by the local club's Reid Stromberg, who carded a record-making 31, gave the sturdy shot-maker a three-round total of 110 and first place in the 27-hole medal play tournament played over the local course on Sunday. Stromberg's earlier rounds were 39 and 40.

Deadlocked for second place, necessitating extra-hole play, were Bill Watzke and Stan Larson, both of the local club. The two golfers had a three-round total of 117, with Watzke scoring 39-38-40, while Larson had three 39's. Watzke was the winner after three extra holes.

In flight competition, the golfers competed on a match play basis, and the flight winners, runners-up, and consolation winners were: First flight— Ken Nelson, Ed Broughton, and Russ Embury. Second flight— Jim Solsten, Arnie Lee, and Vic Kvickstad. Third flight— Roger Olson, Earle Anderson, and Bert Brosseau. Fourth flight— (18-hole medal play, with handicap) Lars Haga and Jesse DuChamp tied for first place with net 74's.

Physical Fitness to Be Theme of Bemidji Conference Sept. 12

A northwestern Minnesota Physical Fitness Conference, called by the Minnesota state physical fitness committee, is scheduled for Bemidji on September 12th.

To be held at Bemidji State College, the conference will be attended by persons in the area who are interested in the improvement of physical health in Minnesota, and its objective will be to encourage the conferees to implement an improved physical fitness program in their respective communities. The meeting will be one of many encouraged by the promotions of President Eisenhower's national physical fitness committee.

An imposing list of speakers, including physicians, educators, and parents will be included in the three hour program which will begin at 1:15 p.m. in the laboratory school auditorium.

William Proffett, M.D., chairman of the Governor's physical fitness committee, and one of the speakers at the District 2 Conference, has pinpointed the problem. "There is a big job to be done to curb the growing tendency toward softness and to get our American youth on their feet. Each new standard of living advance creates further problems in physical fitness."

All parents, teachers, youth leaders, and other interested in physical fitness are invited to attend the Bemidji meeting.

Special emphasis is being placed on getting large turn-outs from Park Rapids, Bemidji, Pine River, Warren, Roseau, Crookston, and Thief River Falls. Plans are well under way for the development of local councils and programs in these communities.

Myrtle Hunt and Harry Fritz of the Bemidji State college physical education staff and Quentin Jones of the Thief River Falls public schools, head committees in charge of arrangements.

Around Our State

A public service feature provided by Minnesota department of business development.

Horace Greeley's Criticism

Horace Greeley was noted for his famous advice to young man to "go West" but he never advised them to go to Minnesota. In fact he said they should stay away from this newly developed territory. In the early 1850's he wrote most discouragingly of this new land in the New York Weekly Tribune. He said the lands were poor and the climate worse. He said that Minnesota was good only for its cranberries and its muskrats. His comments so disturbed the early settlers of the territory that they sent General William LeDuc with an exhibit of products to the World's Fair in New York in 1853. The exhibit included vegetables from the military garden at Fort Ripley, ears of corn from Cottage Grove and Sauk Rapids, and a captive bull buffalo. If Mr. Greeley were aware of the 3 million vacationers who annually visit Minnesota, his famous slogan might well have read "Go to Minnesota, young man."

Lumbering overshadowed mining in Hibbing's early years but when iron deposits were discovered under the town, the entire community was moved two miles south. The Greyhound Bus System was originated here as a commuter service between the old and new town sites, and was established by two men using 1914 Hupmobiles.

TOUR OF THE WEEK: Begin this week's tour at Elk River, named for the herds of Elk which Zebulon Pike found in this vicinity. Most of the early settlers were expert lumbermen from Maine, but when the lumber industry began to decline in the early 1900's, dairying took its place as the chief occupation.

Journey northwest on highway 218 to St. Cloud. The colored granite from nearby hills has made the entire country familiar with this city. The region's finely ground stone has been used in the finest buildings throughout the world. It ranges in color from coal black to reds and pinks to a clear white. Of the abandoned quarries, 29 have been stocked with trout and the surrounding areas abound with lakes and streams where bass, sunfish, crappies and other varieties of fish may be caught. St. Cloud is the site of the largest railroad car manufacturing shop of the Great Northern Railway. Continue in a northwesterly direction along highway 52 to Sauk Centre which was one of the pioneer communities in central Minnesota. The town-site was begun in 1856 when a dam was built across the Sauk River. A small log house was built in 1857. The first store appeared in 1861 and in 1862 with the coming of the Indian Wars, came a stockade of substantial size. The stockade and its military force managed to keep the Sioux tribes away during this outbreak. In 1865 most of the town was destroyed by fire. Sauk Centre is reputed to be the source of information for the novel "Main Street" by one of America's foremost authors, Sinclair Lewis. At first the novel drew heated controversy from local residents who considered its contents a rebuke. With the passing of time and the rise of Sinclair Lewis' stature in the literary world, the controversy waned and local pride remained.

In 1908 there were only 67 miles of paved roads in Minnesota. Today there are over 25,000 miles of smooth surfaced highways that visitors can travel over and enjoy the scenery.

Northern Section of State Has Ample Rain

Except for the southeastern corner of the state, subsoil moisture is at critically low levels everywhere in Minnesota south of a line from Crookston to Duluth.

That's based on a state-wide soil moisture survey as of August 10, according to Donald Baker, soil climatologist at the University of Minnesota.

Baker says recent showers temporarily raised topsoil moisture levels in the dry areas. However, the showers didn't amount to enough to add to the deeper portion of the soil from which plants draw most of their moisture at this time of year.

Plants usually draw between 0.14 and 0.17 inch water per day from the soil in August. This means the rains up to Aug. 10 supplied only enough moisture for one or two weeks' use— without adding to the subsoil reserves at all.

Watonwan county was the driest area found in the survey, reporting only .03 inch available moisture in 5 feet of soil in early August. Maximum level in a soil layer that deep usually varies from 12 to 14 inches. Mille Lacs county was second driest with only 1.54 inch available.

In the extreme southeastern counties, rains up to Aug. 10 brought topsoil moisture reserves up to nearly maximum levels. And subsoil moisture in that area has been generally good throughout the season.

The same is true of the area north of the line between Crookston and Duluth; subsoil moisture has been adequate for most of the summer and recent rains improved topsoil moisture levels.

The survey was conducted cooperatively by the University soils department, U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the state climatologist for the U. S. Weather Bureau.

3-STATE AREA GETS NEW GERMAN CONSUL

The German Consul General to the U.S., Dr. Friedrich Baron von Lupin, came from Chicago to install Walter U. Haser, Minneapolis attorney, as honorary German consul for the states of Minnesota, South and North Dakota. Consular duties are to look after the interests of the Federal Republic of Germany, especially as to commerce, shipping, travel, and cultural relations, and to assists German nationals in this area. A native of Minneapolis, a practising attorney for more than 40 years, and a veteran of the first world war, Consul Hauser is a member and a former or current officer of numerous professional, civic, cultural, and similar organizations. One of eight American jurists who visited Germany as Government guests to study their legal, civic, industrial and social system, he is eminently well qualified for his new post.

"Our whole position in world economic affairs is determined by the health of our economy and the soundness of our money. If we should neglect these at home we could soon become powerless abroad—our prosperity, our security, our freedom could be in jeopardy."
President Eisenhower

All Will Benefit

At long last, trunk highway No. 59 is moving into its final stages of development as an international road. From the Canadian border to Winnipeg construction has been completed and surfacing is well along. From the border south, a new road has been completed to Lancaster and work is in progress or contracts have been let for all but a short distance of the new road that will parallel the Soo Line tracks from Lancaster to Thief River Falls. All of this new construction is on new short-cut locations and does not interfere with traffic on the old road. We now are justified therefore in recommending No. 59 as another alternate route to Winnipeg.

As the short-cuts are completed this highway should become increasingly popular. Without the short-cuts that are in the making it is already the shortest route between Erskine and Winnipeg. From Erskine to the border on 59 is 116 miles according to Minnesota's highway maps, and by way of T.H. 75 the distance to the border at Noyes is 125 miles. No. 59 also has a distance advantage from the border to Winnipeg. When the short-cuts are completed Winnipeg will be more than 20 miles closer to Erskine by way of 59, and that saving in distance should do much toward overcoming a highway handicap here in Thief River Falls. For the first time we will be on a main road.

All of our corner of the state will benefit by the better roads that are in the making north and south of the border. Our neighbors in the Province of Manitoba are just as interested as we are in getting these north and south road connections, making more accessible the vast area of lakes that lies north of us. The Province is eager to get a good road north and south along the west side of Lake of the Woods. The bridge at Baudette, now under construction, will not only make the east area of Lake of the Woods more accessible but, as a part of a new Canadian highway being built to the east, will open a new playground in Ontario north of the eastern portion of our state.

Too often too many of us look with disfavor upon highway improvements that are not directly beneficial to us or that may be more beneficial to a competing community or area. We are inclined to overlook the common interest in an overall development. The traffic in and out of Canada thruout all of northern Minnesota is going to increase rapidly in the years ahead of us and the tourist dollars are going to become more important to the entire area. As the overall traffic increases, a part of that increased traffic will come this way.

No Restrictions?

The labor bill supported by President Eisenhower gained House approval by a comfortable margin last week and now goes to the Senate for consideration. Those who speak for organized labor say the House bill goes much too far and would impose undue restrictions on the activities of properly managed unions. There seems to be general agreement however that there is need for more effective controls of those labor organizations that are dominated by racketeers and the fact that Congress is favorable to the more restrictive measure is due to widespread public indignation over the hoodlum tactics of Hoffa.

In stating his opposition to the views expressed by President Eisenhower in his television appeal for an effective labor law, George Meany, speaking for the AFL-CIO, said that organization "would not support or accept any legislation under the guise of reform legislation that would restrict and punish honest trade unions."

We can go along with the thought that no labor organization should be "punished" for proper conduct. Neither should any other groups or individuals be punished for proper conduct, but good and bad, we all submit to legislation that is "restrictive" in both the public interest and in our own best interest.

All laws against crime in all its forms are restrictive, and the same restrictions apply to both good citizens and bad. There are many laws and rules and regulations that restrict our conduct, most of them imposed upon us in order to protect the rights of others, and such reasonable restrictions are not resented.

And there is little danger that any honest labor organizations, acting properly, will ever have unreasonable restrictions imposed upon them. Organized labor now is Big Labor, and there is just as much justification for restrictive legislation governing the conduct of Big Labor as for Big Business.

There have been many abuses of power by labor organizations. There is a growing awareness, shared by many of the workers themselves, that labor organizations have become too powerful and that reasonable controls are essential if we are to maintain a free economy. If not restricted a Hoffa could become the virtual dictator of our country. That would be the worst thing that could happen to American labor.

Let's Take A Second Look

The proposed federal gas tax increase to provide the additional funds needed to pay the government's share of the interstate highway program costs at least has the merit of being honest. Those who propose the "borrow and spend" method of providing the additional revenue needed are not keeping faith with the pledge that this program would be maintained on a strictly pay-as-we-go basis.

Our reaction to the problem is that the program should be slowed down to whatever pace can be maintained by funds that are available. And maybe a second look would be in order to check on some of the planning, which, by our standards, calls for a type of construction that, in some instances, will not be needed during the life span of the next generation.

There is a need for a program of this kind in the congested areas of our larger cities, and also for many of the approaches to the congested areas. But we can see no justification for underpasses or overpasses or cloverleafs every three of four miles in sparsely settled areas that would be better served if present main roads were made more adequate.

If this interstate program does not get some better management quick it will go down into the records as the greatest piece of engineering and political stupidity of our generation.

Hawaii's Model Election

(Christian Science Monitor)

Hawaii's first elections as a state place the island closer to first than fiftieth on the list of American states. Both the manner of voting and the results were a model of working democracy that many older states might seek to emulate.

A record 93 per cent of the registered voters turned out at the polls.

The final vote showed no lopsided party strength—both Democratic and Republican organizations appear to be vigorous.

Candidates of many races were elected without the slightest sign of friction in this multiracial state.

Two men of East Asian descent now join Indian-born Dalip Singh Saund in the American Congress. The impact of this news in Asia will be strengthened, we hope, by an understanding that these men were elected by their multiracial constituents to serve their district and state; not appointed, like Peking's puppets from Tibet, to convince the world of a unity that is spurious.

Daniel K. Inouye, a Japanese-American war hero, took the single House seat for the Democrats. Hiram L. Fong, a Chinese-American businessman and self-made millionaire, won a Senate seat for the GOP.

William F. Quinn, the last appointed Governor and of Irish extraction, recaptured his post on an elected basis as a Republican. His Lieutenant Governor will be James K. Kealoha, a native Hawaiian. Oren L. Long, a former Democratic gubernatorial appointee and long-time island resident, took the other Senate seat.

The remarkable thing about these men of various races and parties is that they are all Americans, and have a vigor that should remind mainlanders of the enthusiastic spirit in which their democracy grew.

REPORT from the GOVERNOR

by Orville L. Freeman

We have read and heard much in recent months about great advances being made in education in the Soviet Union. I was impressed the other day by the report of one educator who had visited many institutions in Russia, who said that there was one question to which no Russian would give an answer. That question was "What do you do for those who are handicapped?"

The only conclusion to be drawn from this consistent refusal is that they do little or nothing.

Services for Handicapped

The provision of services for the handicapped is one of the more important measures of the development of our society and our civilization. There are few areas in which appropriate programs can contribute as much to individual human happiness as in this field. At the same time, there are few areas in which both the social and economic returns are as great.

Here in Minnesota we have made great progress in recent years, — yet there is much more that remains to be done.

Too Little Public Information

Recent questionnaires have provided us with some interesting information about how much — or how little — the average citizen really knows about those who are handicapped, and about what is being done, and what can be done, to help them. We can expect public support for adequate programs only when the public as a whole is given more information and better understanding.

Retarded Children

Most Minnesotans are surprised to learn that mental retardation involves three out of every one hundred people. Thus this handicap affects many more children than any of the other permanent handicaps about which we are concerned. There are more than 90,000 people in our state who stand to gain by the progress we make in this field. And in the past few years we in Minnesota have made more gains for retarded children than in any similar period in our history.

Wide Variation

There is as much variation in the abilities and capacities of the mentally retarded as there is among the rest of the population. A retarded child can seldom be identified by his appearance. Only a few are so severely retarded that they must receive constant care. The great majority can learn simple tasks, and many can be trained to be partially or completely self-supporting. But all are limited to the extent that without special attention, training, and education that is suited to their needs they will be seriously handicapped in everyday living throughout their lives.

Help is Possible

This is why our new buildings and institutions set up especially for the training of such children are of major importance. And this is why our new laws requiring all school districts to provide special training for those who are educable are such a great step forward.

This is why it is important to find all the children who can benefit by special programs. It is important that parents and communities know what programs are available. And it is important for all citizens to know how prevalent this problem is how much can be done toward its solution.

YOUR SENATOR REPORTS

from the Desk of SENATOR HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

Food for Peace—The Senate's Committee on Foreign Relations has approved and recommended favorable for Senate action S. 1711, the Humphrey International Food for Peace act of 1959. The committee said its favorable recommendation was based upon: (1) recognition that United States production of food and fiber will continue to exceed maximum domestic requirements for some time to come, and that this excess production should be used more effectively and shared more generously as a means of alleviating hunger, disease and poverty among less fortunate peoples; and (2) determination to utilize further the sale and grant of surplus agricultural commodities, as an instrument for the maintenance of peace and of United States foreign policies designed to encourage the growth and development of free societies by increased opportunities for better health, education and human well-being; and (3) to assist in the development of expanding and viable economies.

Expanded program—The Food for Peace act calls for expanding Public Law 480 into a three-year program, authorizing sale of $2 billion worth of commodities each year for foreign currencies — these in turn to be used for the constructive purpose set forth in the act. Other changes include creation of a Peace Food Administrator appointed by the President to direct the program; authorization of grants of food to build national food reserves as a protection against famine in other countries; authority to establish binational foundations devoted to promote educational, cultural, and scientific training; and enumeration of other new uses for the foreign currencies accruing from sale of agricultural commodities.

More New Uses — Additional purposes for which such foreign currencies would be authorized under the Food for Peace Act include an expanded exchange of persons program; medical and scientific research; cultural and educational development; health, nutrition, and sanitation; for financing technicians of the UN Food and Agricultural Organization and the World Health Organization engaged in advising and administering programs on nutrition and operation of national food reserves; to meet emergency and extraordinary relief requirements; financing local costs of projects undertaken by a United Nations Special Fund; for the preparation, distribution and exhibition of audio-visual materials abroad; for relief and rehabilitation projects undertaken following disasters, or for assistance to refugees. In addition, the measure retains former uses under PL 480, including financing of market development activities to promote new markets for American farm products, and loans to American business firms engaged in private enterprise in other countries. The measure also calls for increased cooperation with voluntary agencies such as religious groups and CARE in food distribution programs abroad.

Our LAND

Appearing in newspapers of the Minnesota Editorial Association through the cooperation of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture.

Keeping soil at home can sometimes be a chore—especially when unchecked wind is the vandal that keeps carrying it off. LaVerne Ludwig, cooperator in the Douglas county soil and water conservation district has found this to be true. "If I would not have had wind strips laid out last spring, the neighbors would have had the best part of my farm." According to Bob Amborn, SCS technician assisting the local district, Ludwig plans to supplement the strips with field shelterbelts next spring.

Get twice as much feed from that pasture? You might be surprised to find out how easy it can be. Kanabec county agent Roland Skelton says Marvin Oslund, Mora, used to need 25 acres of pasture land for his 20-cow herd. Now, Oslund uses a ration-a-day grazing system and feeds the herd for an entire summer on an even dozen acres. Yet, he gets more milk and more income. Ration-a-day makes for more efficient use of the pasture; it means giving the cows just enough pasture for a day's grazing, and moving them to fresh grass every 24 hours.

Is peat really wasteland? Don't believe it for a minute. Soil scientist Rouse Farnham at the University of Minnesota says that properly handled, peat will produce as lush a growth of high quality forage or pasture as any other soil. And it won't call for more work, either. He says the key to success with peat is proper fertilization. Soil tests show that most Minnesota peat is low in phosphorus and potassium. Also, acid peat needs lime and boron if you intend to establish legumes.

For a large-scale dairy operation, it may be wise to confine the cows and feed them from storage around the calendar. That's the opinion of Ray and Ralph Geier, twin brothers near Hutchinson. According to Vernon Hoysler, McLeod county agent, the Geiers have 50 Holsteins which stay in a paved barn lot and get all their feed from storage. Herd average is above 400 pounds butterfat per cow. Idea of the confinement, the men say, is to control more carefully what the cows eat.

One of the principal advantages of ditching is often nothing more than "squaring up" the fields. But that alone is mighty important. Roger Mickelson, Goodridge, last fall put in a mile and a half of ditches to remove spring runoff water. "This made it possible to seed all of my fields, with no by-passing of patches here and there," Mickelson says. And he gained about 20 percent more crop acres that hadn't been very useful in the past. He tells Pennington county agent Paul Stelmaschuk of another advantage: Cows come home clean instead of covered with mud.

A new development that could make Aspen more valuable for commercial lumber has been made at the University of Minnesota. Basic forest products research has yielded some clues on why the surface of some aspen lumber takes on a wavy washboard effect during kiln drying. The findings could lead to drying methods which will avoid the waviness. If that can be done, aspen will be much more valuable lumber for manufacturing. It has good color, even grain, holds nails well and is easy to paint. And it's the most common tree species in Minnesota.

Like any sound investment, Conservation farming pays good dividends. So say the Slira brothers near Brandon. As cooperators in the Douglas soil and water conservation district, they contoured 114 acres, put in nearly an acre and a half of grassed waterways, laid 3300 feet of tile and put in 1.7 miles of open drains. They also have 460 acres in a conservation crop rotation and have set up a wildlife refuge area, with plans for two more. They got a good deal of help from Bob Amborn, SCS technician assisting the district.

Soil-testing is saving $3.20 per acre in fertilizer costs for Orson Hempstead and son, Dillon, Houston. Until this year, the Hempsteads had fertilized mostly by guess. Then last fall they took 9 samples of soil from the fields. Dillon and Harlie Larson, Houston county soils agent, worked out the fertilizer recommendations and found the farmers would save $286 over previous years. Yet, the fields got all the nutrients they needed; they had been over-fertilized in years past.

Birdsfoot Trefoil is fine pasture for beef cattle on the Rueben Kolsrud farm near Spring Grove. According to Wayne Hanson, Houston county agent, Kolsrud 3 years ago started renovating about 5 acres of old bluegrass sod annually, seeding locally-producing birdsfoot trefoil. The legume has become well established and is producing much more than did the bluegrass. So far, Kolsrud says, there's been no bloat trouble.

A combination of soil conservation practices helped lick the soil drainage problem for Robert Guyaux, Salol, vice-chairman of the Roseau county soil conservation district. He put in a 6-year crop rotation, including 2 years of alfalfa-brome for hay and pasture. Then last fall he constructed surface drains and bedding systems on 200 acres of cropland—all as part of his farm plan.

Corn yields have jumped 20 percent for Ray Heckscl, Watertown, since 1948. He gives the credit to contour strips and sod waterways which he put in to stop the devastating erosion on his rolling farm. His strips have now gone through three rotations of corn, grain and two years of hay. These practices solved a thorny problem for Heckscl, because in early years he decided he — "had to do something — either move or remedy the trouble." He is now chairman of the board of supervisors of the Carver soil and water conservation district.

Gordon Siebert near Lewisville has raised corn for 9 years in a row on the same fields — and gets good yields. But according to John Ankeny, Watonwan county agent, Siebert proceeded with care. He checked a soil map before selecting the level fields to keep in "continuous corn," and left the slopes for contour stripping. Then he poured the fertilizer onto the corn ground — by soil test, of course. He gets high yields and still has checked the erosion on his slopes. Pat Kennedy, SCS worker, helper Siebert set up the plan.

BOAR SACRIFICES TUSKS FOR SHOW BUSINESS

HEAVY-DUTY DENTISTRY is practiced by L. D. Vangsness of Kenyon, Minn. He is using an enormous pair of clippers to trim the tusks of his best Tamworth boar before taking it to the Minnesota State Fair swine show. Mrs. Vangsness is serving as a dental technician. All boars one year old, or older, must have their tusks trimmed before competing at the fair in order to protect judges and exhibitors from possible injuries. Preparing Vegetables for Show

Exhibiting produce grown in the home garden is part of the fun of gardening. A good exhibit attracts attention and arouses interest in new varieties and in better cultural practices.

It's important to select good-quality vegetables free of insects, diseases and defects. All specimens should be properly trimmed for show purposes. Here are some ideas on grooming vegetables:

Cut the tops of carrots and other root vegetables off 1½-2 inches above the crown. The tap roots of beets should be 1½ inches long.

Don't skin onions. Each specimen should have a hard dry skin. The necks should be small and well cured.

Leave sweet corn in the husk. The shank should be trimmed short.

Don't trim cabbage too much. Leave two or three outside wrapper leaves around the head. Select specimens without insect damage.

Exhibit beans and peas in the pod. Don't remove the small stems which attach the pod to the plant.

All vegetables should be clean. Washing is permitted for root crops and potatoes. But don't bruise the skin by scrubbing.

It's important to select specimens that are uniform in size, shape and color. Varieties must be true to type and should be properly labeled.

Be sure to check the premium list to see if you have the required number of specimens.

If, while you're painting, you manage to get some spots on your leather shoes, you can remove these paint spots by wetting the head of a kitchen match and rubbing this over the stains.

On August 3, 1942, Mildred Helen MacFee was commissioned a lieutenant in the Navy to become the first woman officer of that service, later heading the Waves.

Here's another tasty adventure in beer cookery. Cook as many small pork sausages as you'll require in beer for 10 minutes. Drain and cool. Prepare pastry or biscuit dough and roll it very thin. Cut in squares. Spread with prepared mustard and chopped onion. Wrap the sausages in it. Brush with egg yolk. Bake in a 425° oven 15 minutes, or until browned. Serve hot.

Sophocles' Diet
Sophocles, the famous Greek dramatist (496-406 B.C.), thought highly of beer and recommended "bread, meat, vegetables, and beer" as an ideal diet — one which most modern dietitians would find no fault with even today.

Early State Brewers
Many pioneer Minnesota brewing firms settled along the valleys, close to caves where beer was aged to natural goodness in the cool, even-temperature recesses. One such firm is the Fleckenstein Brewery at Faribault. In 1856 Ernst Fleckenstein built his brewery on the Straight River, and dug caves in the nearby sandrock bluff, using them to advantage. The firm is still doing business today, more than a century later, under the same name and managed by member of the Fleckenstein family.

MINNESOTA LAW SUPPLEMENTS
Containing Copies of the Laws Passed By the 1959 Legislature at the Regular and Special Sessions
ARE NOW AVAILABLE AT THE OFFICE OF THE Thief River Falls Times

By the time you read this column, it is possible that the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service may have announced the 1959 duck hunting regulations, but at this moment I do not know what they will be. On August 4 and 5 the Waterfowl Advisory Council, which includes representatives from each of the four Flyways, met with federal personnel in Washington. I believe the final regulations were submitted to the Secretary of the Interior on August 7, and the announcement of hunting regulations is usually made shortly after the order is signed.

During the past two months we have been hoping that the breeding waterfowl which were forced to move into the far north because of drouth conditions in the prairie provinces and states would bring off a good hatch. However, as is usually the case when this happens, duck reproduction apparently was very poor; and, we can be reasonably sure that there will be severe restrictions on duck hunting to prevent over-shooting of the remaining population. Again, we must remember that there is a harvestable surplus of all game which can be taken without reducing the population. With some game we do not take as much of this surplus as we could, but with ducks we have been shooting about one-third or more of the total population each year, and this appears to be about the maximum harvest. We must also remember that one year of poor reproduction can cut deeply into our duck population. When this occurs, it is only logical to reduce the take by hunters, because with a year or two of adequate rainfall we could again have good breeding habitat; and, it is important to retain a breeding population to fill this habitat when it returns.

This year may be reminiscent of conditions during the drouth of the 'thirties. Some of you may remember that from 1934 through 1937 we had a thirty-day duck season. Of course, at the time we had a bag limit of ten ducks a day, but there were fewer duck hunters. Then the rains came, the ducks came back, and in 1944-45 we had an eighty-day season with ten ducks in the bag. This was followed by another decline in 1947-48, when again we had a thirty-day season and this time with a four-duck limit. There is no way to predict how fast our ducks may come back this time. Mallards and the other dabbling ducks could make a rapid recovery if we have adequate rainfall in the prairies; but the diving ducks, particularly the canvasback and redhead, may have a harder time of it.

It is a reasonable guess that duck hunting in Minnesota may be relatively good when compared to other states. Many of you remember that during the former drouth in the Dakotas the southward migration of ducks was forced to come through Minnesota, where better water conditions prevailed. This could happen again.

A serious drop in the continental waterfowl population always appears to have one desirable effect. It makes the sportsman realize that something must be done if his sport is to be retained. It was such a "duck" depression" that engendered the National Waterfowl Refuge Program by the Fish and Wildlife Service, and the birth of Ducks Unlimited.

The fact that our ducks have declined in 1959 is disturbing and dangerous, but it is not the most serious problem. When the water comes back the ducks can come back. The serious problem facing our waterfowl is the permanent drouth caused by the drainage ditch. As long as we retain adequate waterfowl habitat, the numbers of ducks will rise and fall with weather conditions; but, if we permit the breeding habitat to be destroyed they will continue to fall and never rise agin.

Minnesota sportsmen have traditionally done their share and more to preserve waterfowl. In addition to the federal refuges in Minnesota, we have built such areas as Thief Lake, Roseau, Mud-Goose Lake, and the Moose-Willow River Project which is still under construction. Minnesota sportsmen in 1957 voluntarily added $1.00 to their small game hunting license, which is earmarked and used exclusively for the acquisition of wetlands, and in addition they contributed a great deal out of their own pockets.

The new $3.00 federal duck stamp has been earmarked 100 per cent for the acquisition of waterfowl habitat, and I hope you will buy it this year. This is also the year that I hope Minnesota sportsmen will again show their interest in preserving waterfowl by taking an active part in Ducks Unlimited. It is now a well-established fact that D. U. is doing a good job and provides American sportsmen with the only means of helping preserve Canadian waterfowl habitat.

a 6,000,000 lb. vegetable market

It would take a huge market to supply the vegetables eaten by the 33,000 northern Minnesota families whose livelihoods depend upon iron mining and related industries. Each year, these people eat more than 6,000,000 lbs. of fresh vegetables, worth nearly $850,000. In addition, they eat more than $750,000 worth of canned and frozen vegetables, spending, in total, more than $1,600,000 for vegetables. The Iron Mining Industry, in producing iron ore, provides jobs for thousands of people in Minnesota—jobs which, in turn, provide markets for the farm products of Minnesota—markets right within Minnesota's own borders.

It takes an EXPERT to bring out the best in your TV

When your TV or radio set develops trouble, chances are replacing one or perhaps several tubes will restore it to service. But, why go through unnecessary and irritating guesswork? Have an expert test your tubes. The fact is, tubes act differently in a tube tester than they do in your set. It takes an experienced technician using reliable test equipment to accurately check the condition of your radio or TV tubes. And remember, the quality of the reception you get depends upon the proper functioning of all the complex parts of your set including its many electron tubes. Only a trained service technician can quickly and accurately locate the source of trouble.

So play it safe. The next time your TV or radio set needs repair, call us for fast, expert service. When tube replacement is necessary, you can be sure we'll use dependable RCA tubes to give you the best performance your TV set can deliver.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Additional information or assistance on veterans benefits may be obtained by writing or visiting the VA contact representative at the Grand Forks VA office.

Q—I receive VA compensation for a service-connected condition. Recently this condition has been getting worse. What must I do to apply for an increase in compensation?

A—You must submit new medical evidence to the VA, such as an adequate statement from your physician or a medical report of a recent period of hospitalization. VA will arrange an appointment for you to come in for examination.

Q—I have a World War II GI term insurance policy. Do I have the right to borrow on this policy?

A—No. GI term insurance has no loan value. However, you may convert to a permanent plan of GI insurance, if you wish. Permanent insurance does build up a loan value, after it has been in force for one year.

Q—A friend has been telling me about an increase in the total disability income provisions for holders of GI insurance. I already have this disability coverage, under the old ceiling of $50 a month, if totally disabled. Has it been raised?

A—Yes. A recent law increased total disability payments to up to $100 a month. You may obtain the added coverage for a small additional premium.

Q—I've been thinking of using my right as a Korea veteran to get a GI home loan, but so far have done nothing about it. Is there a deadline for applying?

A—Yes. The deadline for Korea veterans is Jan. 31, 1965. World War II veterans have until July 25, 1960, to apply.

Q—I have a $10,000 World War II GI insurance policy. I am thinking of adding VA's total disability rider to the policy, which would pay me $100 a month if I became disabled for six months or more so I could not work. Would I have to go on paying the policy premiums to ensure my family would be protected?

A—No. As long as you qualify for the disability payments, your payments of premiums would be waived, and there would be no reduction of the protection your family now has under the policy.

Q—I have a nonservice-connected disability for which my doctor recommends hospitalization and treatment. Under what conditions may I be admitted to a VA hospital?

A—The law provides that veterans of any war with nonservice connected disabilities for which hospitalization is necessary may be admited only if they state under oath they are financially unable to pay hospital charges elsewhere, and if beds are available.

Q—I need to sell my GI house and move to another city. Does the buyer of the house have to be a veteran?

A—No. So far as VA is concerned, the new buyer may be either a veteran or a non-veteran. However, if you, the seller, are to be released from liability to the VA, the new buyer must be willing to assume liability for your loan, if there is an unpaid balance, and satisfy VA he is a good credit risk.

Q—I plan to start school this fall, under the Korean GI Bill. How soon after the school year begins can I expect my first allowance check from VA?

A—There is a waiting period of approximately two months before the first school allowance check arrives. VA is not permitted to mail you a check until after it has received proof that you have completed the month of school for which you are to be paid. Then, VA is allowed 20 days after that to process your school attendance certificate and get the first check into the mail. After the initial necessary delay checks will arrive regularly for each month of certified school attendance.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh
A Real "Novel" Idea

Had a call from Whitey Fisher, head of the Town Library's Emergency Committee. He's asked me to explain the situation.

This is the "emergency." The Library's moving into its new building next week—over on Bridge Street. Moving all those books will cost more than $200. At that rate we won't be able to afford any new books for a couple of years.

Whitey's got the solution—have everyone in town borrow at least five books, keep them a week, and return them to the new address!

From where I sit, cooperation among neighbors is the lifeblood of a town. People should work together . . . whether it's to help a library or fight intolerance. For instance, if you'll respect my right to an occasional glass of beer—and I respect the beverage of your choice . . . that kind of cooperation will do lots to help wipe intolerance "off the books."

Somewhere in the "Doctor Book" was the answer to what ailed you!

A generation ago . . . or even less . . . the big, black "Doctor Book" was nearly as common as the Bible in the American home. With its help in diagnosis and treatment, you could take care of minor ailments yourself.

The newest method of self-help in health service is far removed from the old "Doctor Book." It is accomplished through a cooperative-type organization which provides millions of Americans with a complete health service. It covers both prevention and treatment . . . on the high level which modern medical science can provide. It includes prepayment in regular, small, budgeted amounts so everyone can afford the service. It also includes group practice with modern facilities, permitting doctors to practice at their highest level of skills and specialization.

Cooperatives help more people share in America's progress

American Legion to Open Convention in Minneapolis Aug. 22

Folowing more than six months of advance preparations by local, state and national officials, the 41st annual American Legion national convention is scheduled in the Twin Cities August 22-27.

National headquarters of the American Legion were virtually moved from Indianapolis to Minneapolis last week, when more than 100 officials from headquarters in Washington, as well as Indianapolis, joined the advance staff in their Twin Cities offices.

More than 50,000 person are expected to attend the convention from out-of-state, as Legionnaires and their families travel to Minnesota, taking up the state's offer to "combine convention attendance with a visit to Minnesota's vacationland."

The first major event of the convention will be the senior drum and bugle corps Parade of Champions, Sunday, Aug. 23, at 7:30 p.m., in the University of Minnesota's Memorial stadium. The highly colorful event will feature the best of the nation's Legion drum and bugle corps in a competition to pick the champion organization. Tickets for the event are available from any Legion member throughout the state.

On Monday, Aug. 24, an all-day parade, the largest and most colorful ever to be staged in the Upper Midwest, will run for more than eight hours. The more than 40,000 participants in the parade will include bands, drum and bugle corps, color guards, drill teams, floats, military equipment, clowns and comedy units. Nearly 10,000 seats at $1.50 each will be available to the general public and Legionnaires in Minneapolis' Parade stadium.

The 41st national convention's keynote address will be delivered by Vice President Richard Nixon on Tuesday, Aug. 25, the opening day of official convention sessions. All general sessions will be held in the Minneapolis auditorium.

Other events on Tuesday will include a memorial service, presentation of American Legion Mercury awards to leading newsmen, presentation of the Legion Distinguished Service medal and reports of convention committees.

A naive of Minnesota, General Lauris Norstad, supreme allied commander, European forces, will deliver the major address at the national commander's dinner for distinguished guests, scheduled for 7 p.m., Tuesday.

Business sessions and an address by Harry S. Truman, former president of the United States, will highlight sessions on Wednesday, Aug. 26.

The final day's session Thursday, Aug. 27, will feature two major addresses by national figures and election of national officers.

Lyndon B. Johnson, senior senator from Texas, and Democratic leader of the U.S. Senate, will speak at 10 a.m.

George Meany, president of the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial organizations will deliver an address at 11 a.m.

Claims for Gas Tax Refund No Longer Need Notary Seal

State Tax Commissioner Says New Law Eliminates Need for Notary Public

Joseph M. Robertson, commissioner of taxation, today reminded Minnesota farmers that claims for tax refunds on gasoline used on farms no longer require notarization by a notary public.

Farmers who file refund claims now are required only to sign the refund form and return it directly to the state tax department, Robertson said.

The change in procedure was made by the 1959 legislature which eliminated the notary public requirement. Robertson said that those persons who prefer to have their application prepared in a notary public office may still do so, however.

The effect of the new law makes possible the use of a simple declaration instead of the notarized acknowledgment.

Robertson said that farmers and others filing claims may still use the old forms, but noted that new forms will be available the last week in August from banks, post offices, and county agents' offices.

Gasoline tax refund claims must be filed within four months after the time of purchase. Forms may be secured from the Petroleum Division at 555 Wabasha Street in St. Paul.

Robertson emphasized that the present refund form may be used until the new form is available in local areas and stated that if there were any questions on the new form, farmers should write to Joseph M. Robertson, Commissioner of Taxation, St. Paul 1, Minnesota.

ANONYMOUS APPLE

By Georgia C. Nicholas

THE door to the eighth grade classroom opened half way with Mrs. Richardson's strong right hand on its knob. Then it was on its own. Mrs. Richardson sighted a package on her desk, a package approximately four inches in any direction and neatly wrapped in wrinkled brown paper.

She hurried to open the package before any of her pupils arrived. If it was lethal at least she would not be taking with her several lives much younger than her own. But somehow this thought seemed facetious. After her first flash of apprehension was past she wasn't a bit afraid. It was true she had obtained the principal's permission before "paddling" some of the boys.

Removing the rough brown paper Mrs. R. found a carefully constructed box, cut to fit the object it held—whatever that object might be. Tissue paper stuck out at various edges and suddenly the box opened revealing a bright red McIntosh apple. Nowhere could Mrs. R find a note.

She heard rapidly approaching footsteps and recognized them as the principal's. Into the top drawer of her desk she shoved the apple with all its wrappings.

"Oh, Mr. Beade! Good morning."

"Good morning, Mrs. Richardson. Is anything amiss?"

"No, nothing's amiss, Mr. Beade. Why do you ask?" Mrs. R looked around and made a gesture of innocence.

"There must be something wrong. We must look for it. Mrs. Ordway from across the street called me up at home to tell me she saw a boy leaving."

"I'm sure," Mrs. R said, "I'm sure I don't know—"

Mr. Beade stomped out without saying another word.

Knowing that the children would soon be arriving, Mrs. R went to work grading those papers. But she kept wondering who had given her the apple.

She hoped Mr. Beade would not take it into his head to question the boys about the episode of last night. Perhaps she should show him the apple but somehow she felt that the boy who left it for her wanted the gift to be kept strictly a secret.

She heard some of the boys running up the steps then they stopped.

Mr. Beade's gruff voice was saying, "Willie Wallace did you enter this building last night?"

"No, sir."

"Are you sure? Because if you're lying and I find it out I'll whip you myself."

(Oh, Mr. Beade, please!)

"Honest, Mr. Beade, I ain't done nothin' wrong."

(Oh, Willie your grammar.)

Mr. Beade's phone rang and soon Mrs. R was confronting her entire class and anticipating a day of constructive study. But first, there was something she had to do. She held up the shining red apple. "Students, someone left this apple on my desk last night and I wish to thank whoever it was."

No one admitted to having left her the apple, nor did she expect them to. But there was one boy who kept looking down while all the others were looking at either her or the apple. That boy was Mark Schoenfeld, the boy whose parents had made the most fuss about the whippings.

"All right," Mrs. R said. "Frieda will you go to the board, please? And Robert and Rose and Mark and Willie. We'll take up our arithmetic lesson where we left off yesterday.

Some Classes in Vocational School Filled

Waiting Lists in Cosmetology and Practical Nursing

Enrollment in the Thief River Falls area vocational school is expected to reach a new high figure for the opening date of the fall term of classes on September 8, Stan Nelson, director stated today.

The practical nursing class is operating at a full capacity of 26 students and no further enrollments can be accepted in this course until July, 1960. The cosmetology course with a total capacity of 40 students has a waiting list of applicants extending into February of 1960.

The business department, with a normal capacity of 36 students has 46 applications on file at the present time, as well as a number of late inquiries relative to the various business courses. The auto body and fender repair course is completely filled to a capacity of 18 students with a number of students on the waiting list.

Some additional students can be accepted in the beginning electronic technician course, carpentry, aviation mechanics and auto mechanics, beginning on September 8, Nelson said. Additional students in the welding course can be accepted for enrollment beginning October 19.

It is anticipated that approximately 225 post-high school students will be enrolled in the area vocational school on September 8, with an additional group entering as soon as farm activities have been completed this fall.

Anyone desiring to enroll in courses which are not completely filled should contact the Area Vocational School office immediately.

Co. Farmers Urged to Order Trees for 1960 Planting Now

County Agent Announces Orders Should Be Placed During Coming Month

Orders for trees for farm planting in 1960 are due at the extension office in September, county agent Paul Stelmaschuk stated today. The trees will be obtained from the state division of forestry and can be used by farmers for farmstead shelterbelts, field shelterbelts and field plantings. They can't be resold.

The price this year will remain at one cent a tree for conifers, or $10 per thousand, and three quarters of one cent for broadleafed trees. Stock available in conifers will be white spruce, Norway pine, jackpine and white pine. In broadleafed trees there will be American Elm.

Orders need to be placed early, Stelmaschuk emphasized. In past years soil bank payments for tree planting and A.C.P. payments have increased demand to such an extent that only a fraction of the orders were filled. The trees are shipped on a first come first served basis.

In addition to the state nursery, willows of various species have been available from the Soil Conservation district at Twin Valley. Many commercial nurseries have also supplied tree stocks to farmers.

The Pennington county soil conservation district assists in planting trees and supplies a tree planter. Land for tree planting needs to be work thoroughly in 1959 and the trees need to be cultivated for several years after planting to insure a good survival rate.

TRF Couple Appear on National Television at Los Angeles Today

Two residents of the Thief River Falls area, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Urdahl, will probably be the unannounced visitors of their daughter who is appearing on a nationwide TV program today, August 20, it was revealed yesterday.

Mrs. James Sumpter, a former resident of the area, has been on the program, "It Could Be You," two days this week. Each day, the program's master of ceremonies has mentioned the probability of "mysterious visitors" dropping in on the Sumpters.

Wednesday, it was learned that Mrs. Sumpter's sister, Mrs. Dorothy Wilkins of Goodridge, had received a card mailed from her parents in Thief River Falls Sunday, Aug. 16, stating, "You will probably be surprised to learn we are in Los Angeles." Mrs. Wilkins said that she had been completely in the dark about the reason for her parents' trip until her sister appeared on the program.

Tuesday, the first day Mrs. Sumpter appeared on the program, she was presented with a television set and the old pump organ which had been given to her by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Norem of Goodridge. The organ, which has been in the home of her uncle, Nicoly Urdahl, for several years was shipped to Los Angeles about three weeks ago.

During the Wednesday program, Mrs. Sumpter was again asked about her mysterious guests and was given a complete bedroom suite to replace the old set "in the back bedroom."

Mrs. Sumpter, the former Margaret Urdahl, left the Thief River Falls area about 15 years ago. She is married to James Sumpter, a former Oklahoman.

Hot and Humid Weather Rules Here This week

Temperatures Range Around 90 Mark Here Tuesday, Wednesday

An additional rainfall of .22 inch this week brought the month's total to 3.56 and coupled with Tuesday's high KTRF reading of 88 and Wednesday's 90 made living in the Thief River Falls area much like the inside of the Elk's steam room. Temperatures over 90 were recorded both days in the downtown district.

Storm clouds which darkened the skies Tuesday and led many to expect a storm never materialized in violent weather or even rainy. By midnight, the skies were clear but the temperature dropped only to 67 for the night's low.

Wednesday was a repetition of the preceding day with alternate periods of clouds and clear skies. After midnight, .15 inch of rain coupled with wind hit the area but no hail was reported.

Partly cloudy and not so warm is the KTRF forecast for today. Occasional showers and thunderstorms are predicted today and tonight with highs near 90 and lows tonight from 57 to 65.

Tomorrow, the forecast is for mostly cloudy with occasional showers and thunderstorms with temperatures expected to be cooler.

11th Annual Purebred Ram Sale Scheduled in City September 14

Monday, September 14, was set as the date for the 11th annual purebred ram sale which will be held in the area in Thief River Falls, according to Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington county extension agent.

The date was set by directors August 14, and was moved up from the first part of October to permit earlier use of rams and earlier lambing.

This is the current trend in the sheep industry. Many sheepmen have their ewes come in the early part of the year to take advantage of the better prices in the spring and early summer months.

With a five-month gestation period for sheep, rams are used in late September and early October for late February and early March lambing. Sheepmen figure a 100-pound lamb in 3½ months which means lamb marketing from May to mid-summer.

Lambs produced under this system require housing in case of inclement weather and are put on a grain ration and fattened in dry lots for marketing. This system of lamb marketing has proven profitable on many farms, said Stelmaschuk.

Times Has $5 for Two Honest Girls

Girls Found Lost Purse, But Didn't Leave Names

A reward of $5 is waiting in the Times office for two blonde girls between the ages of 8 and 11 years old who found a purse and turned it in but didn't leave their names.

A letter to the Times signed "W. C. Searle, Middle River," said, "My wife left her coin purse in the telephone booth near the Tunberg Motor company. Two honest little girls found it and took it into Tunberg's who through a watch check in the purse, notified me. This was the only identification in the purse."

Mr. Searle continued, "We feel such honesty should not go unrewarded. The purse contained about $15."

If these two girls of their parents will come to the Times office and identify the purse, the $5 reward is theirs.

Total of $167,950 Building Permits Approved Tuesday

Work on the storm sewer project in district three began this week and the city council at its regular August meeting Tuesday evening, August 19, directed the city clerk and engineer to prepare the assessment rolls on property in that area.

The action was accompanied by a lengthy discussion with James Olson of the bond consultant firm of Juran and Moody, Minneapolis, on bonds to finance the project. A total of $133,000 will be raised by special assessments.

D. H. Stewart, consulting engineer, announced that the Third and Sixth street portions of the storm sewer will be finished this year and that there is a possibility that the entire project could be completed in 1959.

An informal bid by the Union State and Northern State Banks was presented to the council for $30,000 in revenue certificates for the airport shop building. The certificates would be paid through the rent of the building to the school district and would be payable September 1 and March 1 of each year. The interest would be 4%. Following the reading of the proposal, the council authorized the issuance of these certificates.

Applications for a bowling alley license and 3.2 beer license to be issued to Albert Brunelle, and a 3.2 beer license to be issued to Alvin Hoffman were approved. A petition to surface the 400 block of LaBree Ave. N. was held over for later action.

Building permits totaling $167,950 were approved at the Tuesday evening meeting. They include: Iver Nelson and Sons, Duluth Ave. N. and 11th St., dwelling, $17,000; Inga Berg, 108 Spruce Ave. S., dwelling, $11,000; Bridgeman's, addition of boiler room, $1,200; James Nepper, 515 Kneale Ave. S., dwelling, $14,000; Prichard Brothers, addition to Gamble store, $18,000; Lloyd Tanem, 204 Crocker Ave. S., dwelling, $8,500; Earl Jorgenson, 937 LaBree Ave. N., garage, $750; William Sandeen, six dwellings at 803, 811, 817, 823, 829 and 833 Kendall Ave. S., $10,000 each; Prichard Brothers, Birch Lane drive, dwelling, $18,000; Farmers Union Oil company, addition to north side of oil station, $16,000; Stanley Ranum, application to move dwelling from north side of Farmers Union oil station to Horace Ave. N. and

Sportsmens Group Plans Club House

Vote to Set Up Special Fund at Meeting Tuesday

A special fund toward the building of a new clubhouse was voted on and approved by members of the Pennington County Sportsmen's club at the regular August meeting held Tuesday in the downstairs meeting room of the city auditorium.

The proposed new building, when completed, would be used by several other clubs and construction thereof would also be a cooperative venture, Gay Warnecke, club secretary said.

Bids Called for on Highway 1 Project

Provides for Surfacing 4.2 Miles Near Northome

Bids will be received August 21 by the Minnesota highway department, at the new State Highway building in St. Paul, on a highway maintenance project located in the department's Bemidji maintenance district.

The job calls for the construction of 4.2 miles of gravel base and road-mixed bituminous surfacing on T.H. 1 between Northome and a point approximately 4.8 miles east of Northome, in Koochiching county.

Highway maintenance projects do not fall within the ban on new construction contracts put into effect August 4 by Highway Commissioner L. P. Zimmerman because of the shortage of federal funds available to the state.

"Not only are highway projects paid entirely from state funds," said George A. Meskal, highway maintenance chief, "but we must preserve our present investment in existing roadway surfaces."

Sharon Christianson Is Wed To Duane Taggart

Rev. Otto Dale performed the double ring ceremony Sunday, August 16, at Trinity Lutheran church which united Sharon L. Christianson of this city and Duane L. Taggart of Bemidji, in holy matrimony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Christianson and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lester Taggart, all of Thief River Falls.

Baskets of pink and white gladioli and lighted candelabra graced the altar for the 8 p.m. ceremony with Mrs. Walter Larson at the organ. Coralee Christianson of Roseau, cousin of the bride, sang "O Perfect Love", "Crown With Thy Benediction" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride wore an intermediate length gown of nylon organza over satin. It featured a fitted bodice with an empire waist, accented with a satin bow in the back and short sleeves with matching gauntlets. The bouffant skirt fell into a sweeping train of nylon and lace and her fingertip veil fell from a crown trimmed in pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis centered with a white orchid. Her pearl earrings were a gift of the bridegroom and the traditional something old, new, borrowed and blue was carried out.

Miss Sandra Christianson of this city served as her sister's maid of honor, followed by Sharon Hendrickson and Carole Thoreson, both of this city and Patty Gulseth of Blackduck, cousin of the bride. Their street length dresses were of light blue nylon organza, identically styled, with scooped necklines and short sleeves. Accenting their attire were white lace cummerbunds, matching blue crowns trimmed with pearls and a short veil. White gloves and pearl earrings were gifts from the bride. They carried bouquets of pink roses and white feathered carnations.

Little Pam Erickson, daughter of the James Ericksons, was flower girl, wearing a dress similar to that of the other attendants, matching headband and white gloves and carrying a basket of pink and white carnations. Her gloves and jacket were gifts of the bride. Scott Olson, son of the Robert Olsons, cousin of the bride, wore a midnight blue tuxedo and carried the rings on a white lace and satin pillow.

Their corsages were of white roses. Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson, grandparents of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors for approximately 300 relatives and friends. Mrs. Gilford Sannes baked and decorated the five-tiered wedding cake which was trimmed in blue and white and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Mrs. Robert B. Olson, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Adrian Larson, sister of the bridegroom, poured punch while Mrs. Elmer Christianson of Fisher, aunt of the bride and Mrs. Donald Johnson of Minneapolis, sister of the bridegroom, poured coffee. Mrs. Clarence Gulseth of Blackduck, aunt of the bride and Mrs. Robert Myhrer, sister of the bridegroom of College Park, Maryland, cut and served the cake. Waitresses were Carol and Dolly Taggert, sisters of the bridegroom.

Use Tested Recipe for Jam & Jellies

Extension Nutrition Specialist Gives Tips

Just use reliable recipes and follow directions carefully. That's the advice of Verna Mikesh, extension nutrition specialist at the University of Minnesota.

The best jams and jellies are made in small batches, according to Miss Mikesh. So if you have a lot of fruit, you can either can or freeze it for later use, since fresh, frozen or canned fruit all make excellent jams and jellies.

One of the advantages of the small batch is that you can control consistency better. If the first batch is either softer or firmer than you want it, you can adjust the proportions in the next. For jellies made with commercial pectin, increase the fruit or juice by a fourth to a half cup to make it softer. Or use a fourth to a half cup less fruit or juice for a firmer product. Jellies made without commercial pectin can be made softer by shortening the cooking time or made firmer by lengthening it.

To avoid breaking the gel, let jams and jellies stand overnight before storing them. Cover glasses with metal or paper lids. Be sure to label the product.

'Yield' Signs Mean Allow Passage to Pedestrians Also

"Yield Right of Way" signs that are placed at highway and street intersections mean that drivers must yield to pedestrians legally crossing the roadway at that location as well as to other vehicles. The Highway Safety Division reminds motorists that section 169.201 of the highway traffic regulation act has been amended by the 1959 legislature to include pedestrians as well as vehicles on the intersecting street or highway. The act provides that the driver of a vehicle approaching a yield right of way" sign shall "slow to a speed that is reasonable . . . and stop if necessary and yield the right of way to any pedestrian . . . and to all vehicles . . . which are so close as to constitute an immediate hazard."

11th St. and to repair and add to the moved dwelling, $3,500.

The request of Vern Krause, 603 State Ave. S., for the extension of the water line to service his home was discussed, and upon agreement by Krause, the council adopted a resolution that the work be done on the condition that Krause pay an assessment of $3 a foot for a one-inch pipe to the edge of his property.

Harold Johnson, superintendent of the water department requested that the water treatment plant custodian's pay be raised to the minimum pay scale of $1.50 an hour. The man, who had previous service with the department before being hired in July, was put on the second step of the pay scale to bring his wages into line with the hourly wage rate.

Johnson also requested action by the council on the matter of the fair board water bill totaling $89.11 for past service. The matter was called to the attention of Albert Koop, a member of the fair board, who will present the matter at the board's next meeting.

The council called for bids to be opened at the regular September 15 meeting for the installation of filter plant equipment and also for a used portable asphalt mixing plant and auxiliary equipment.

A claim of $500 against the city presented by Walter M. Larson was referred to the city's insurance company. The claim arose out of the death of Larson's dog which died while being held in the city dog pound.

The proposal of the Wetch Chemical company for the extermination of pests at the city dump for a year at a cost of $440 was rejected.

The National Guard was given permission to use the city gravel pit for training purposes. The council accepted the bid of the National Recorder company to furnish a speed control device to replace one furnished earlier by another company which was inoperable.

An extension of city liability and property damage insurance was approved and Mayor O. D. Belch briefed council members on the enrollment of police officers in the school which will be held in the city during September.

Resolution were adopted approving the payment on work being done or completed. These include $1,773 to O. P. Electric, $2,830 to the Ranum Construction company and $1,318 to the Lee Plumbing and Heating company for work on the liquor dispensary; $7,757 to Prichard Brothers company and $1,905 to the Brodin Sheet Metal Works for work on the airport shop building; $153 to O. P. Electric, $2,945 to the Ripley Plumbing and Heating company and $768.75 to Victor Besancon for work on the Riverside park comfort station; $1,530.72 to James B. Clow and Sons and $927 to B.I.F. Industries for filter plant equipment and $553.17 to Jorpbak and Nuese and $10.34 to D. H. Stewart for water and sewer works in Bratrud's second rearrangement.

Albert Koop and Harry Oen, representing Rocksbury twp., presented a request that an east-west road on the south corporate limit line from north of Kiefe's cafe extending nearly to CrockerAve. S. be opened. The road, now only a trail, is needed for the development of land in this area, Koop said, and if the city would build the road, the township would assume one-half the cost. After some discussion, Koop and Oen agreed to ask the county to do the work and the city agreed to pay one-half the cost if its share did not exceed $1,000.

K. Russell Anderson, architect for the remodeling of the liquor dispensary, presented plans for closing the window opening in the south side of the store during remodeling, and a minor change in the remodeling plans. Both were approved.

The fees for the use of the city scale were discussed at some length and a proposal will be drawn up for higher rates. The preparation of an ordinance setting load limits on residential streets will also be prepared.

Alderman A. J. Rau, chairman of the street committee, brought up the matter of the improper refilling of openings made in streets after water and sewer lines have been laid or repaired. Rau read the ordinance which requires all contractors and others who open streets to tamp dirt during refilling, to replace dirt if it is not found suitable to establish a stable base for the streets and to pay a $100 bond for every street opening to insure the proper restoration of the street. "It's time this ordinance was enforced," Rau said pointing to several examples of improper work.

Alderman Rau also reported on street work done this year which includes the surfacing of five blocks on First St. E., 23 blocks of blacktop repair and 25 blocks of salt mix surfacing. He pointed out that this has been done with one less man working in the street department crew than last year.

The final item on the formal agenda, innocuous in itself, precipitated a prolonged discussion on working conditions in the city clerk's office and the lack of space for the office.

The item was the resignation of Eileen Rhodegaard from the office staff effective September 1 which was accepted by the council.

Alderman Rau raised the question of why the resignation was made. "Was it because of working conditions? Is it because the city clerk's office is so crowded and noisy?" Rau asked.

Alderman E. B. Benson interjected that the Chamber of Commerce has used its present quarters rent free for 13 years, that the city clerk's office was too crowded and noisy and that these could be contributing factors in the resignation. Rau continued with the observation that if these conditions continue, the city could lose more help.

Alderman Roy Lee observed that any council member is free to make a motion to force the Chamber of Commerce to move.

Alderman Benson added that the Chamber passes up opportunities every day to rent other quarters.

At this point, Alderman Rau made a motion that the city hire one male and two female office employees, an addition of two to the staff over the number employed January 1. Alderman Benson seconded the motion.

Alderman Lee observed that the city had spent over $8,000 for a new accounting machine which was supposed to save labor. Since then, he added, one person has been added to the office force "and now you want to add three more." Lee concluded that before hiring any more help, he felt that the council should talk with the auditor.

The vote showed Alderman Rau and Benson in favor of adding more personnel to the office staff and Alderman Lee, Honebrink and Dahlen against the move.

A motion was introduced that city clerk P. G. Pederson replace the resigned staff member in addition to the person earlier authorized and this was approved by the council. The auditor will meet with the council next week at the first opportunity.

After paying current bills, the session was adjourned at 1:30 a.m.

Mack's CANDID COMMENT

BY V. M. DRAPER

Perhaps we're off base in saying so but our idea is that local clinics are going to have a run on Salk vaccine, now that a case of polio has been diagnosed in a little Thief River Falls girl.

The news was announced over the radio this week-end. Of course she is hospitalized at Ada, the reason for which I don't know — but nevertheless, she is from this city, which gives the case a local angle.

But, as Dr. Paul Wendt, city health officer, has told us many times before, one case doesn't make an epidemic any more than one robin means spring is at hand. The point that should be noted is that people should have their children immunized to these diseases BEFORE they strike a community. Doing so would save a lot of worry and eliminate the rush to local clinics when such diseases show up.

A bunch of local fellows are trying to get our local CAP unit functioning again and here's wishing them loads of success.

Here's a great chance for local youth to participate in local aviation activities and gain a lot of valuable knowledge while doing so. Study of radio, meteorology, airframes, powerplants and instruments, and navigation is offered CAP cadets and adult members alike.

The local unit has a considerable amount of material on hand, including radio facilities and a link trainer for instrument flight training. There is printed material and textbooks galore.

Practically any youth who plans to go into the field of aeronautics, communications, missilery (?) and many other technological fields would benefit by joining CAP.

Why not contact Dan Illies, Ken Miller or Willis Johnson and get the details? Thief River Falls could have a CAP squadron that would make others in the state sit up and take notice if the proper interest is shown.

The CAP could also go a long way toward erasing the common complaint there's nothing for young folks to do. There's plenty for young folks to do in CAP.

(We suspect, however, this complaint is just a convenient excuse for those who don't want to do anything in the first place.)

We're behind this CAP deal all the way—at the same time tooting our horn for the formation of an Experimental Aircraft Assn. chapter here. There's another outfit that boosts aviation in a big way.

If not a local chapter we certainly could get enough people to form a regional chapter. We hear there are amateur plane builders active in Fosston and Roseau, not to speak of Grand Forks.

In case you think home-built planes are unsafe, perhaps the fact they are insurable might dispel some of the misconception. The safety record of home-built planes by EAA members is literally perfect!

We've heard it said that some people need cars like they need a hole in the head—and the way some people drive they must have both. Nuff sed!

Fosston Edges Thieves 11-10 in Playoff Opener

In a high-scoring slugfest at the Fair Grounds on Wednesday night, Fosston outlasted the Thieves to register an 11 to 10 win in the first game of the Northern Minny league's elimination playoffs.

As a result of their loss, the Thieves will meet the loser of tonight's Bagley vs. Cass Lake game on Sunday. If Cass Lake loses to Bagley, the Thieves will play at Cass Lake on Sunday afternoon. If Bagley loses tonight's game, the Merchants will play the Thieves here on Sunday night.

Wednesday night's hectic game was featured by the free-swinging of the batsmen of the two teams. Fosston clubbed out thirteen hits, including three doubles, a pair of triples, and a home run; and the Thieves connected for a double, a triple, and a pair of home runs.

The big blow of the game, and which provided Fosston with their winning margin, was Stan Otness' double to left-center in the 7th inning, the hit scored Wally Olson from second base and burly Daryl Foster from first base.

The Thieves made a strong rally in the 9th inning when a series of Fosston errors and an infield hit by John Drury scored two runs, and left the tying run on third base and the winning run on second base. Dick Schuchardt, who had relieved Fosston's starting hurler, Stan Otness, in the 6th inning, struck out Chuck Kankel to end the game and the rally. Kankel, in the second inning, had poled a towering home run over the left-field fence, scoring three runs to give the locals their first runs.

The Thieves moved into the lead when they shelled Otness off the mound in the 5th inning. Gunderman walked, Leslie singled, and John Drury drove a home run over the left-field fence, and the score was in 7-all tie. Hjelle singled, and when the ball eluded the right-fielder, Hjelle sped around to third base. Hjelle scored on Drees' single, and the Thieves had an 8 to 7 lead.

But that lead was short-lived. In the 6th inning, Otness walked, and after Larry Engebretson had lofted to center and Gary Carlin had bounced out second to first, Walt Olson lined a home run over the left-field barrier.

Fosston tallied two valuable runs in the 7th inning when, with one out, Wally Olson walked, Dave Carlin grounded out to first base, Foster singled, and Otness followed with a double.

Monday, August 24—
Bjorkman's vs. V.F.W.
Tuesday, August 25—
Sportsman's Store vs. Hamm's Beer.
Wednesday, August 26—
Bridgeman's vs. Fifty-Niners.
Thursday, August 27—
Len's Tire Service vs. Bums.

With but two weeks and ten games remaining on the city softball league schedule, the championship race has developed into a two-team battle between Hamm's Beer and the Len's Tire Service squad.

The Hamm's with an incompleted game with the Bums, and a pair of games against the Sportsman's Store and the Fifty-Niners, have a one-game lead over the Len's in the loss column. Jerry Stevens' Hamm's team hold a 10 to 8 lead over the Bums when the two teams resume play on Thursday evening. The game was suspended after four innings of play on Monday evening because of darkness.

The Len's Tire Service club scored a solid 13 to 7 win over the Bridgeman's team on Tuesday evening, and trail the league-leaders by one-half game. The Len's have two games remaining on their schedule, against Bums next week and the Bjorkman's on Aug. 31.

In one of the best-played games of the season, the Bjorkman's, with Milt Reierson hurling a one-hitter, defeated the Hamm's Beer and George Janssen, 2 to 1, on Monday evening.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

A Recap.

The local trapshooting season and schedule came to an official close this past week, with Sandy Wilson defeating Jerry Amundgaard for the club championship in a match that required a twenty-five bird shoot-off. Sandy and Jerry, the defending champion, had tied for top honors in the Class A division with 49's.

The week previous, the league schedule had been concluded, and Don Olson's Coast-to-Coast squad was the winner, gaining the championship by the margin of one point over the runner-up Times squad.

We have made a recapitulation of the team scores posted during the fourteen-week season, and, according to our calculations the Times score had the high-aggregate for the season, a 1647 total. In second place was the high-average Wilson Bros., who scored a 1639; and in third place, the Coast-to-Coast with a 1615. The other team totals were as follows: Thief River Pharmacy, 1581; Northern Chevrolet, 1582; Oen's Appliance, 1580; Dr. Jim Disse's squad, 1529; and the Starekow Clinic team, 1383.

A glance at the individual scoring for the year reveals that several twenty-fives were marked up. Roy Peterson, Sandy Wilson, Si Schantzen and Stan Wilson, all members of the Wilson Bros. team, had twenty-fives. Walt Fisher of the Coast-to-Coast scored a twenty-five; and Tony Dorn, of the Pharmacy, who scored well this season, had a pair of twenty-fives.

Incidentally, the Wilsons, Sandy and Stan, will leave this week for Vandalia, Ohio, where they will compete in the Grand American trapshooting tournament.

Impressed and Interested

Playing at third base and batting in the clean-up position for Cass Lake on Sunday was Bob Montebello. He played errorless ball in the field, and banged out two hits in four trips to the plate.

Montebello just recently joined the physical education staff at Bemidji State Teachers college, and he will coach baseball and cross-country for the Beavers. And it was as a baseball coach that he observed the performance of the local club's righthander, Arlan Hjelle. Hjelle entered the game in the fifth inning, and he handcuffed the Cass Lake baters, giving up but four hits, one run, and whiffing nine.

In a conversation with the Thieves' Rod Max (who recognized Montebello as a third baseman with the Litchfield club managed by Minnesota's Dick Siebert several years ago), the B.S.T.C. coach expressed interest in Hjelle. Bob was somewhat surprised to learn that the smooth-throwing righthander has another year of high school eligibility remaining. Montebello, of course, hopes to interest Arlan in attending Bemidji State.

Cooling Thoughts

In spite of the torrid weather, that has lifted the temperature into the nineties, and with the humidity making for discomfort, we have been giving a thought or two to the approaching hockey season.

This past week we received a reminder from a friend in Winnipeg stating that the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey league will be playing an exhibition game against the Winnipeg Warriors in the Winnipeg Arena on Wednesday, September 23.

It will perhaps be worth the while to make the 160-mile trip to Winnipeg to watch Gordy Howe and his mates in action.

Miscellany

Paul Johnson, the capable baseball coach of the Ada high school Vikings, has resigned his position at Ada to accept a teaching position in the Rochester, Minn. school system . . . The Family Bowl lanes are in operation and Warren Larson, rolling a fine 242, won a bowling ball bag for posting the high score for the week . . The Richfield team won the state American Legion junior baseball title, defeating the Granite Falls team in the finals of the tournament played at Austin . . Marv Skaar's Grand Forks club won the North Dakota American Legion championship by defeating the Minot juniors, 9 to 8, in a ten-inning thriller at Minot.

Investment Clubs Discussion Topic at Rotary Monday

Representative of Grand Forks Company Outlines Benefits of Forming Club

A talk on the formation and maintenance of investment clubs by Mrs. Stella Fritzell of Jameson and Co., Grand Forks, was the program of the Rotary club Monday noon.

Mrs. Fritzell told Rotarians that there are 10,000 investment clubs in the United States at the present time with 100,000 members. Although the members are from every walk of life, the majority of them are housewives.

"In addition to the tangible benefits of seeing their investments grow, members of these clubs are deriving the intangible advantages of the information they receive in studying the market," the speaker said. She said that members should make a study of possible investments and bring suggestions to meetings where ideas may be exchanged.

"Investment clubs are fun," she said, "but, for the most part, they are educational in nature." She warned against the idea of beginning a club primarily with profit in mind and urged long term investments.

Most investment clubs have not more than 15 members, she explained, and each contributes $10 a month. She suggested that two months of investment be collected before any buying is done.

Mrs. Fritzell also gave the Rotarians other information on the formation of a club and the selection of stocks.

Prior to Mrs. Fritzell's talk, W. E. Dahlquist reported on his recent trip with L. P. Zimmerman, Minnesota commissioner of highways, and other state and district highway department officials to Winnipeg to discuss problems relative to the proposed highway linking Minnesota's Northwest Angle to the state system.

Duck Hunting Season Opens Soon in Canada

The Manitoba season for taking ducks and geese opens on September 1st and continues to October 31st north of the 55th parallel. This area includes the famous goose shooting marshes around the estuaries of the Hayes and Nelson Rivers, in the York Factory region. The season limit on geese is 10 in this northern shooting grounds. The daily limit on ducks is 7, not more than 4 of which can be canvasbacks or redheads or any combination of the two. Possession limit is 21, with not more than 8 canvasbacks or redheads. There is no season limit. Hunters planning to visit this far nothern region, will need to make chartered aircraft reservations from either Winnipeg, The Pas, Gillam, Lac du Bonnet, Kenora, Sioux Narrows or Fort Frances.

South of the 55th parallel, and extending to the 53rd parallel, including The Pas marshes the duck and goose season opens on September 11th and extends to November 21st. The Pas marshes, an extensive waterfowl tract east of The Pas, lie about 450 miles northwest of Winnipeg. It can be reached by road, rail and aircraft. This is one of the most prolific duck and goose areas in the province. It is well known to local sportsmen, but has been visited by relatively few American hunters. There are good motel and hunting and fishing lodges in the area. The duck limits in this region are, daily—7; possession—21; no season limit. The same restrictions apply on canvasbacks and redheads as north of the 55th parallel. Geese, daily limit 5; possession 10, with no season limit.

South of the 53rd parallel, excluding the Delta Waterfowl Control Area, the season opens on September 18th and concludes on November 28th. This area has been called one of the world's great duck pastures. It contributes not hundreds of thousands but millions of ducks to the flyways of North America.

Wildlife biologists report that the duck population is heavy in Manitoba this year. The water supply in both southern and northern Manitoba has been plentiful this year, resulting in heavy hatches and good maturing. However, the bag limits on ducks in Manitoba have been cut this year, not because there are less ducks in the province than a year ago, but because the population in the western prairies of Saskatchewan and Alberta is the smallest in 10 years, as the result of a general drying up of sloughs and potholes.

Full information on open seasons and limits, together with routes, hunting areas and accommodations, may be obtained from the Travel & Publicity Branch, 254 Legislative Building, Winnipeg 1, Manitoba.

In the entire Province of Manitoba the upland game bird season opens on October 2nd and extends to November 7th.

Manitoba's game biologists report a good crop of sharp-tailed grouse in the southwestern portion of the province, flanked by a line south of Brandon in the east to the Melita and Pipestone area in the west. Extensive covies have been observed in the central portion of the province, on a line flanking No. 10 Highway between Dauphin and Swan River. The daily limit on this species has been set at 8, with the possession limit being sixteen.

On ruffed grouse and spruce grouse the daily limt is 6 and the possession limit 12 of either species, or any combination of the two. Daily limit on Hungarian partridge is 4, with a possession limit of eighth.

The ptarmigan season extends from November 2nd to December 31st with the daily limit being 15 and the possession limit twenty-

Hunting Season for Deer Starts Nov. 7

Again this year Minnesota deer hunters will have a wide variety of hunting opportunities being able to pick ~~from nine~~ (9) zones providing one, ~~two~~, three, five and nine days of hunting. Some zones are open to all legal firearms, while others are open to shotguns with single slugs. Bow and arrow enthusiasts will, of course, be able to hunt in all zones during the November firearms seasons.

No changes were made in the framework of dates for firearms deer hunting by the 1959 Legislature. Hence, the season will again begin on Saturday, November 7, in all zones.

Deer hunters are urged to clip out and check closely the official deer zone map shown in this paper. The boundaries and numbers of the zones have changed this year in order to provide for a reasonable harvest in keeping with current habitat conditions, deer population, hunter accessibility and associated factors. Zone 1 will have a 2-day season, November 7-8, for shotguns with single slugs. Zone 2 will have a 3-day season, November 7-9, open to all legal firearms. Zone 3 will have a 5-day season, November 7-11, open to all legal firearms. Zone 4 will have a 9-day season, November 7-15, open to all legal firearms. Zone 5 will have a 1-day season, November 7, open to all legal firearms. Zone 6 will have a 3-day season, November 7-9, open to all legal firearms. Zone 7 will have a 1-day season, November 7, open to shotguns with single slugs. Zone 9 will have a 5-day season, November 7-11, open to shotguns with single slugs.

A large area in the southwestern and south central part of the state is to be closed to deer hunting during the November seasons.

Archery hunters may take deer statewide during the month of October, and also in all zones established for the November firearms deer season.

Last fall a record number of firearms deer hunters (203,982) took to the woods. This exceeds the previous record of 191,421 set in 1956. Whereas in 1956 the entire state was open to hunting, in 1958 there were 13 counties and portions of 9 others closed.

Some 75,341 deer were taken by resident and non-resident firearms hunters last fall, exceeding the reported 1957 kill of 67,304. Deer hunters were successful to the tune of 38 per cent statewide last fall, with highest success reported in the nine day zone. Only slightly less successful, however, was zone 2 in the northwest and zone 9 in the extreme southeast.

In addition, over 11,000 archers sought deer and reportedly took 403, for a 3.6 per cent success. Camp Ripley archers took 129 of the bow and arrow killed deer; 123 during the October season.

Game officials report the deer came through the winter in good shape, with a virtual absence of "yarding" by northern deer. This marks the third consecutive winter that yarding has been held to a minimum. Department field men indicate a good fawn crop is showing up, as a result of the mild winter.

As a result of the overlap of the small game and possibly the waterfowl seasons with the deer season, hunters after these species must wear red when hunting in a deer zone. Orange and yellow clothing may NOT be used this fall. The 1959 Legislature did not pass a law to this effect.

Archers interested in knowing if a December bow season for deer will be established will have to wait. Game officials indicated this information would likely not be forthcoming until after the close of the November season.

Elderly Teachers May Get Summer Social Security

Monthly social security payments may be in order to 62 year old women and 65 year year old women and 65 year old men teachers and other employees for months between school years.

Social security checks can be paid for any month in which the employee did not earn over $80 during 1958, or over $100 in 1959. Wage payments made during July and August which were earned in some other months are not considered earnings for July or August. Applications are 12 months retroactive, so an application filed now could result in payments for July and August, 1958.

For further information on how to collect for a month during which earnings were limited, write or visit the social security office located at Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Weathermen can't be blamed for accidents, according to Minnesota traffic safety studies. More than half of all mishaps happen under clear skies, and only nine per cent happen in the rain.

Automatic Elevators

The New York Times reports that automatic elevators have proven so popular in Manhattan office buildings that there is a two-year waiting list on requests for replacement of manually operated cars. Since 1956, the report states, automatic elevators have been installed at the rate of about 1,000 a year.

The cost of converting manually operated to automatic systems ranges from $1,500 to $3,000 for each elevator per floor, according to the Times story, and this cost is generally amortized by the building owner within four years through savings on salaries and other personnel expenses.

This is a fair example of what has happened thruout our economy by the installation of labor-saving devices. A manually operated elevator requires the service of one and one-half employees a day. A push-button mechanism automatically does their work more safely and at less cost. Is this good or bad?

For the operator who loses his job the change probably is bad. He is required to make an adjustment that in some instances would be difficult. But as the maker of buggy whips found work in a garage, there will be new jobs made available by the change that creates the unemployment. The demand for automatic elevators is providing jobs for many skilled workers in the manufacture, installation and maintenance of the new equipment. The net result, we are sure, is good.

The Voice of America

A month from now Soviet Premier Khrushchev will be visiting our country and some time later President Eisenhower will be a guest of the Khruschev government. Next week the President will go to Europe to discuss his problems, as a host and as a guest, with the heads of the governments of Britain, France and Germany.

There is opposition in our country to the official recognition Khrushchev will receive when he visits us. There is understandable resentment among many good Americans because of his personal record and the record of the government that preceded his. But most Americans, we believe, will look upon the exchange of visits as a step in the direction of better understanding and ultimate peace.

We can see no reason for a fear that our government will be tricked into a position of weakness. There is reason to hope that Khrushchev is anxious to ease the tensions of the cold war for the time being at least. We are satisfied that we have more to gain than to lose by these visits and that President Eisenhower will strengthen the good will of the Russian people toward our country by his personal appearance among them and his assurances, directly to them, that we are not imperialistic and that we sincerely seek peace and security thruout the world.

The fact that Vice President Nixon was permitted to speak directly to the people and that his speeches were published in a newspaper of national circulation encourages the hope that the Khrushchev government has adopted a more conciliatory policy. Nixon did not pull his punches in the statements he made, and we are sure President Eisenhower will be equally forthright. He enjoys the advantage of being held in high regard personally by the Russian people as the commander of the allied armies that also were their allies in the war. And the Russian people are not unmindful of the fact that our country gave them substantial assistance in the years following the war that was helpful in speeding their recovery.

We have reason to be bitter about the record of the Soviet government, but the people of Russia respect us, and this exchange of visits appeals to us especially because of the opportunity it will give us to extend a friendly greeting to the people of Russia through our President. When he talks to them they will hear the Voice of America, and his appearance among them will strengthen their confidence in our government.

Student Exchange

(New York Times)

In addressing more than eleven hundred high school students from thirty-six countries who have been here on the foreign-exchange program of the American Field Service, President Eisenhower said that he hoped to see the day when their number was eleven thousand. This, he said, is the best chance that we have to make the world better.

The President went on to illustrate a phase of international relations to which he has often recurred. The best things that can be done, he said again, must be done on this person-to-person basis. The student, the young executive, the building scholar are the exemplars of this ideal. If they know each other and begin to understand each other conflicts can be minimized and differences put in their right perspective.

One of the happiest developments of our postwar adjustments has been this increased emphasis upon student exchange. We are dealing here with impressions and judgments that are in a formative state. They can be influenced to our great advantage and our mutual good. But this cannot be done without a wider framework of reference and a deeper background of knowledge. For this reason the exchange programs should be supported and enlarged.

The President is right in wishing to see eleven thousand. It will be even better if the number is far larger than that.

Increased Efficiency

In a statement last week David McDonald, president of the striking steelworkers, attributed the increase in steel production per man hour of labor to the increased efficiency of the workers. "There are 44,000 fewer steel workers in the industry than there were in 1953," he said, "and the reduced work force is turning out 30 per cent more steel. Does that sound like steel workers are loafing on the job?"

Our guess is that the increased productivity of the steel worker can be attributed to the increased mechanization thruout the industry. The individual workers probably produces more because he has better tools to work with. That has been the main reason for our development as a great industrial nation. We owe most of our progress and our higher standard of living to the development of better and more efficient machines. Only as we continue that trend can we hope for still higher living standards.

The interests of all are best served by this process of increased efficiency when it results in a lowering of costs to the consumers, making more goods available to them. Labor deserves a fair wage. Capital deserves a fair return as an incentive to further mechanization and still greater efficiency. But the most important interest is the public interest.

The machine is our real benefactor. The machine has increased the efficiency of the worker and has taken much of the drudgery out of labor. Those who provide us with better machines perform a great service.

A Good Idea

Minnesota's new insurance commissioner isn't going to be hasty about approving a proposed automobile accident policy that would be sold to drivers with good safety records at lower cost. It would reward the safe drivers and penalize those whose driving records are not so good.

To commissioner Magnusson this is all very confusing and will require a great deal of study. He may have to study the proposal for two months, and maybe two years, he has said.

We can see nothing in this proposal that should cause the commissioner such grave concern. We have already accepted the plan in principal by authorizing penalty rates for individuals with bad records. Plans similar to the one proposed for Minnesota are already in effect in other states.

If Mr. Magnusson will satisfy himself that the companies offering such policies are financially sound, and that there is nothing tricky in the fine print setting forth the conditions of the contract, we think he will have taken all the precautions that reasonably could be expected of him in his official capacity. We like the idea and can see no reason for a long delay.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

Of course wives don't think of their husbands just as meal tickets—it's usually something much dearer than that. —Vesta M. Kelly

A northern farm hand went to work for a Texas rancher. There had been a long drought, and every man on the ranch was hoping for rain. One day it started to sprinkle, and the farm hand, to show his delight, began to dance in the rain.

"Oh I don't mind it a bit," called back the farm hand.

"That isn't the point," insisted the rancher, "I want every drop of that water to fall on the land."

Your Office in Washington

by Congressman
ODIN LANGEN

When the history books of the future are written, the 86th Congress will, in all probability, be remembered for two things. The first will be its admission of Hawaii to the Union as the 50th State. The second will be its efforts to meet the challenge of effective labor-management reform legislation.

As I write this, the House of Representatives has just passed the Griffin-Landrum bill to meet this challenge. The activity surrounding this action was perhaps the greatest example of democracy in action that I have ever seen. All the factors which make the American legislative process great were present, and I know that I am not alone in saying that my faith in this process has never been greater than it is now.

Communications from citizens all over the country came to the House Office Building in record amounts. According to those who have been on Capital Hill a long time, it was the greatest barrage of public opinion since Douglas MacArthur was fired. Some people demanded a strong bill, some wanted a moderate bill, and some wanted no bill at all. But everyone had an opinion. Mail and telegrams from the Ninth District on this subject came in such numbers that there were times when the entire staff, of necessity, had to temporarily stop all other work to answer "labor letters".

Lobbying was tremendous on all sides. Representatives of all kinds of labor unions and all kinds of management stopped members whenever and wherever they could—in the offices, in the halls, and in the dining rooms—to express their point of view. Some did this in honest, forthright, and intelligent fashion. Some did not.

The gallery was packed throughout the entire debate and voting, with some people staying for hours at a time. Hundreds more were turned away for lack of seating space. And it is perhaps very true that, as one member said after looking up at the tossed something up there, you'd be sure to hit either a union man or a management man.

The debate on the floor was of the highest order. Whatever a person's point of view on this subject, he had an able spokesman at some time during the three days of consideration. All Congressmen who spoke made valid points in very convincing fashion, and the job was to decide which points were the most valid. When the decisive roll call was taken, the highest vote in the history of the House of Representatives—430 out of a possible 434—decided 229-201 in favor of the Griffin-Landrum measure.

This bill now goes to a House-Senate Conference Committee. The job of compromise will be a tough one, but our great democratic process will be there to work for us.

Remember, when it's dark out, it's time to watch out for pedestrians.

One of the 7 big bests Chevrolet gives you over any other car in its field

Anyone who's ever taken a Chevy over a choppy country road can tell you how lightly Chevrolet's Full Coil suspension handles rough going—and coil springs never squeak, never need grease! Try this velvet way of going for yourself. Once you do, you'll find your own way of saying what MOTOR TREND magazine puts this way: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." But the happiest part of it all is that this Full Coil ride is just one of seven big bests—all documented by published opinions of experts and on-the-record facts and figures.

BEST ROOM—Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.* show that Chevrolet sedans offer more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars—more front seat hip room (by up to 6.9 inches) than the "other two" of the leading low-priced three.

BEST ENGINE—Chevrolet engines have long won expert praise from virtually every automobile magazine, and, just recently, Chevrolet received the NASCAR† Outstanding Achievement award for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines."

BEST ECONOMY—A pair of Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide won their class in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run, topping every other full-sized car. And the winning mileage was a whopping 22.38 m.p.g.

BEST BRAKES—Chevy's bonded-lining brakes are the biggest in their field, built for up to 66% longer life. In a direct competition conducted by NASCAR, Chevy outstopped both of the other leading low-priced cars in a test of repeated stops from highway speeds.

BEST STYLE—It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

BEST TRADE-IN—Any N.A.D.A.‡ Guide Book can give you the figures on Chevy's extra value. You'll find that Chevrolet used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." Your Chevrolet dealer will be happy to tell you about a whole host of other advantages besides these seven. Why not drop by his showroom?

Major change in this year's contest is the shift of the coronation to Wednesday evening, Sept. 2. It will be held before the state fair grandstand. Previously the coronation was held on the opening night of the fair.

Ten girls, all raised on dairy farms in different parts of Minnesota, will compete for the title of Princess Kay of the Milky Way VI. The winner will become full-time goodwill ambassador for Minnesota's 96,000 dairy farmers.

The 10 girls, who won their regional dairy princess titles during June Dairy Month, will arrive in the Twin Cities Aug. 30 and spend three and one-half activity-jammed days prior to the contest. Their schedule includes luncheons, receptions, formal dinners, interviews and entertainment events.

Purpose of the various events is to provide entertainment for the girls, and a series of situations in which the girls can be observed by a team of judges.

Judges will be Associate Editor Gene Meyer of Hoard's Dairyman magazine, Ft. Atkinson, Wisc.; Prof. John E. Howard of the University of North Dakota music department, Grand Forks; and Mrs. Gen Fuldweiler, beauty and modeling school director in Indianapolis.

Rewards for the new Princess Kay, who can look forward to more than 500 personal appearances during her year's reign include a $500 college scholarship, a complete wardrobe, a regular salary and a trip to Scottsdale, Ariz., for the American Dairy Princess contest to be held Oct. 27-30.

Rains Ease Menace of Forest Fires

Danger Still Remains Acute in Many Areas

Although there have been timely rains during the first two weeks of August, the overall shortage of soil moisture continues to threaten a early forest fire season, Don Wilson, forester in charge of fire control in the Minnesota division of forestry reported today.

Some rain has fallen in the areas which had been extremely short during the spring, but other districts were skipped by the latest rain-bearing clouds.

Foresters are most concerned in the light-sand soils of the mid-central counties where a good rainfall can disappear within a few hours during a generally dry situation.

Wilson said that the forestry lookout towers are being manned at all times when the air and soil moisture reaches a degree of fire hazard. Standby fire-fighting trucks are ready to roll on short notice, but so far the hazards have not warranted standby crews.

The rash of fires in late July have been reduced, which indicates the public and especially people living in the forest areas are well aware of the risks of fires at such times. The Division of Forestry can do much to prepare for quick action and warn the people of danger, but there must always be active cooperation by the people to keep the number of fires and the destruction of free-fires down, Wilson said.

Brother of Late Rep. Hagen Dies in Washington, D. C.

A former Crookston resident, Norman R. Hagen, 52 brother of the late Congressman Harold C. Hagen of Crookston, died late Saturday of a heart attack in Washington, D.C.

Mr. Hagen was born in Crookston August 21, 1906 and attended Central high school there. Later he studied physics, meteorology and architectural engineering at Baldwin Wallace college in Berea, Ohio, and at George Washington and Catholic Universities in Washington.

At the time of his death, he was public information coordinator of the U.S. Weather Bureau at Washington. He had worked as a meteorologist with the Weather Bureau for the past 31 years.

Since 1955 Mr. Hagen had served as the bureau's first public information coordinator and was responsible for all public information activities of the Weather Bureau.

Last year more than 58,000 traffic accidents were reported to the Minnesota Highway Department.

Percy F. Stary of Highway Dept. to Retire August 31

Percy F. Stary, Minnesota highway department district maintenance Engineer at Detroit Lakes, will retire August 31 after more than 42 years of highway service, the Minnesota highway department announced today.

He became district maintenance engineer at Detroit Lakes in 1927 and continued in that post (except for a two-year tour of duty during 1937-39 at the department's central office in St. Paul) until the present time, supervising the maintenance of the district's 850 miles of trunk highways located in five counties.

Insurance Death Benefits Are up

Minnesotans Collect $24 Million in 1st Half of '59

Minnesota families received $24,831,000 in life insurance death benefits in the first half of 1959, compared with $23,788,000 in the corresponding period of last year, it is reported by the Institute of Life Insurance. This year's payments were 87 percent greater than those in the corresponding period ten years ago, when the six-month total was $13,253,000.

The number of policies paid off in this state because of death in the first six months of 1959 was 11,748 which compared with 11,376 in the first half of 1958 and 7,332 in the first half of 1949.

"The rise in death benefit payments in the past ten years directly reflects the greatly increased family protection through life insurance owned by American families," Holgar J. Johnson, president of the Institute, said in announcing the figures. "Death benefits paid in the first half of this year throughout the country were 107 percent greater than in the corresponding period of 1949, even though motality is materially below the 1949 rate. Aggregate ownership of among policyholders generally life insurance in this country has risen 145 percent in the past ten years."

Of the total death benefit payments in this state during the first half of this year, $16,232,000 was under 5,536 ordinary policies; $7,579,000 was under 2,956 group life insurance certificates; and $1,020,000 was under 3,256 industrial policies.

One traffic accident occurs every nine minutes in Minnesota and involves one out of every every 16 licensed drivers.

Last year 600 fatal traffic accidents took the lives of 710 persons in Minnesota.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Wings for a journey...

Vacation time—a trip; magic words, excitement! We study a map, read travel books, and listen eagerly to others who have taken the same journey. We anticipate seeing new places, new people, and unusual things. The routine of everyday will be forgotten.

But sometimes a trip is impossible, and we must accept the hurry and anxiety of everyday living.

Then it is that we need to plan a journey of mind and spirit—one that can lift us out of the ordinary into peace and communion with our God—one that refreshes and strengthens.

For this journey we do not need an airplane. Instead, we use the powerful wings of prayer, of praise and trust.

Come to Church and find these wings of the spirit, not for a brief journey—but for all eternity.

Workshop f[illegible] Teachers Se[illegible] for Sept. 2-4

Seventh Graders to Report September 4 for Orientation

In preparation for the opening of the Thief River Falls public schools for the fall term Tuesday, September 8, a teacher's workshop will be conducted next week, it was announced by Joseph Iverson, director of secondary education.

All faculty members, he stated, are expected to report for the workshop Wednesday morning, September 2, at which time they will receive Mantoux tuberculin tests in accordance with a new state law. The workshop will continue thru Friday, September 4.

The first day of school this year will have a full schedule of classes. To accommodate the expected record enrollment of 1,125 in junior-senior high school, the students will eat lunch in the school cafeteria in three relays.

Iverson stated that pupils who will be entering the seventh grade this fall should report at Lincoln high school Friday morning, September 4, at 10 o'clock for a two-hour orientation period during which pupils will be familiarized with the course of study and will make a tour of the school building. Transportation to the session must be arranged by the pupils or their parents, since the school buses will not yet be in operation.

Students entering the ninth grade will attend an orientation session in the Lincoln auditorium Thursday afternoon, September 3, from 2:30 to 4 o'clock.

3 Girls Share $5 Prize for Honesty

Rewarded for Returning Lost Purse and Contents

The problem of how to divide three, into $5.00 and come out even is probably uppermost in the minds of three Thief River Falls girls at present.

The girls are the ones who found the purse of Mrs. W. C. Searle of Middle River last week in a telephone booth and turned it into the Tunberg Motor company to be returned to its owner. Through a watch repair ticket in the purse, Mrs. Searle was located and the purse returned.

For their honesty, the unknown finders were offered a reward through an advertisement and story in the Times which was read by Betty Lou and Marsha Gilbert, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Gilbert, 510 Kinney ave. N.

Betty Lou, 10, and Marsha, 13, were two of the three finders of the Searle purse. The other member of the trio was Beverly Lean Thompson, 9, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, who live on Horace ave.

Thursday afternoon, the girls claimed their reward and also promised that they would write Mr. and Mrs. Searle to thank them for their generosity.

"What will the girls do with their share of the reward money when they have decided on how to divide $5 by three?" School is just a few short weeks away and all three will use their $1.66 2/3 for school supplies.

Social Security Agent Will Visit TRF September 1

Don't wait until the last minute to claim your retirement benefits. Contact your social security office to see your social security representative from six weeks to three months BEFORE you are ready to retire. If you do this, you will get your first retirement check sooner, says W. D. Kistler, manager of the Grand Forks social security office.

A representative from the Grand Forks Office will be in Thief River Falls at the city auditorium on Tuesday, September 1, at 11 a.m. He will answer questions about social security and accept claims for benefits.

[illegible] former Thief River Falls [illegible]dent was reunited with her parents after a long separation on the nationally-televised program, "It Could Be You," last week in Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. James Sumpter of Los Angeles, the former Margaret Urdahl of rural Thief River Falls, had her father, Fred Urdahl, 78, as her "mysterious visitor" on the Thursday morning program and her mother on Friday's program.

The former school teacher who married an ex-resident of Oklahoma, left this area 15 years ago. Close relatives in the Thief River Falls area in addition to her parents are a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Wilkins of Goodridge; an uncle, Nicoly Urdahl, who lives north of Goodridge, and her brothers, Nordeen and Lloyd Urahl who operate the farm on which their parents live northeast of Thief River Falls.

Guests on the television program are usually selected from suggestions which are submitted by viewers. The person who entered Mrs. Sumpter's name is, at present, unknown.

As a member of the audience Tuesday morning, Aug. 18, Mrs. Sumpter was called to the stage where she was presented with a television set and the old pump organ which had been given her by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Norem of Goodridge, and kept since their death at the Nicoly Urdahl home. She was also asked about the identity of "mystery guests" who would be visiting her. On her Wednesday appearance, the inadequacy of "back bedroom" furniture was called to her attention and a bedroom suite was presented to her for the comfort of her coming guests.

Thursday, her father, the first of her mystery guests, made his appearance, a $100 check was presented and a telegram, claimed to be from a second "mystery guest," was read announcing his or her arrival on the Friday show.

The guest was Mrs. Urdahl who, despite her daughter's statement that "Mother would never get in a plane," flew to Los Angeles from Thief River Falls Aug. 16 with her husband and stated on the program that the airplane trip "was the most wonderful thing that has ever happened to me."

(The Times of Aug. 20 headlined, "TRF Couple Appear on National Television at Los Angeles Today," correctly informing its readers of the appearance of Fred Urdahl that day but breaking the news of Mrs. Urdahl's appearance a day early. Our apologies for prematurely informing our readers and possibly destroying the suspense of guessing who the "mystery guest" was the day before the rest of the viewers were informed.)

Open House Set at Goodridge School

Set Thursday Afternoon in Elementary School

An open house for parents and pupils new to the Goodridge elementary school will be held at the school Thursday afternoon, August 27, at 1:30, it was announced today by Orville Jensen, elementary principal.

During the afternoon a tour of the school building will be conducted, and there will be a question and answer period, during which information relative to the operation and policies of the school will be given.

The object of the open house is to familiarize parents and pupils with the school before the fall term opens Monday, August 31. The Goodridge PTA will serve lunch.

Industrial Arts Awards Earned by Newfolden Pupils

Four Students Win High Rating in Ford Motor Company Competition

Charles O. Fisher, Newfolden high school principal, has received notification of the results of the judging of projects submitted by students from the Newfolden community school at the Ford Motor company's industrial arts award competition.

In the woodworking division, Mark Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Carlson, received a grade of A on his gun rack; DeVere Chapman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Chapman, received a grade of B on his lamp and shade; and Ralph Tandberg, received a grade of B on his bow gun.

In the leather craft division, Donald Engelsrud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad E. Engelsrud, received a grade of C on his handbag.

The Ford Motor company notified Fisher that any awards or certificates would be sent to the school after the opening of the September term.

In a letter received by Mark Carlson notifying him that he had received a place award, the company stated that there were 4,500 projects entered in the Ford IAA international judging finals. These 4,500 projects, in turn, represented the finest of an estimated 45,000 entries submitted in 60 student craftsman's fairs throughout the United States and Canada.

The four projects (from the Newfolden Community school were selected for international judging at the craftsman's fair held in Bemidji last spring. G. Edwin Mounger, industrial arts instructor, entered over 40 student's projects from his department.

TRF Family of 8 in Montana Earthquake

A local couple and their six children who were camped in Yellowstone park when last week's major earthquake occurred reported the experience as quite terrifying.

Mr. and Mrs. Aldin Sampson, who operate Sampson's Greenhouse here, were camped on a hill about two miles south of Canyon Junction and about 12 miles across the mountains from the Madison river country, Sampson reported.

Sampson said the first tremor struck about 11:45 p.m., Montana time, and that severe tremors continued to be felt about every half-hour, although there was a continuous trembling and rumble at all times during the quake.

"I thought the end of the world had really come," Sampson related, adding the tent and ground around it shook vigorously. The couple could also hear rumbling and smell sulphur fumes and the next day they could see cracks in the ground, from which they believe the sulphur fumes came.

Another indication of how the ground shook was the fact that a car-top carrier on the Sampson car rattled loudly and containers of water shook so that it splashed out.

A humorous aspect of the quake, Sampson said, was the fact that many people sleeping in cars thought bears under their cars had been causing the shaking. One couple in a Volkswagon, especially, blamed a bear for giving them a very rough night of it.

People poured out of the park after the earthquake, although in some places they were not permitted to leave until it was determined the roads were safe. "All in all it was a terrifying experience and we wouldn't want to go through it again for anything!" the Sampsons said.

The children's viewpoint? "They slept through the whole affair!" Sampson said.

Burglars Break into Glendenning Terminal in City

A break-in at the Glendenning Motorways terminal on Davis av. which apparently was made sometime Sunday night, was investigated by Sheriff Charles Richards and an agent of the state crime bureau, who report that nothing was taken that is known of at present.

The burglar, or burglars, entered the Glendenning premises by breaking the padlock on a door, Richards said.

Local law enforcement officers also report the liquor store at Lengby was burglarized last week for the second time within a month. The thieves made off with the safe and other items in their second visit there, according to reports.

TRF Jaycees Plan Coming Events at Session Thursday

Aquacade Queen to Appear at Warroad Timber Days Festival over Labor Day

The local Junior Chamber of Commerce, at its meeting Thursday evening in the Elks club rooms, heard reports on a variety of projects and took action on some of them. Bruce Hall, president, conducted the session.

Roger Tunberg, queen contest chairman, told of an invitation to send Miss Thief River Falls to the Timber Days celebration at Warroad over the Labor Day holiday, and it was agreed that Miss Rosalie Fonnest, holder of the title, should attend. Miss Susan Forkenbrock, also of his city, is the retiring Timber Day queen.

Gary Forsberg, chairman of the Aquacade committee, reported on the success of this year's event, and he thanked the boat club for its cooperation. Dick Stokke stated that the dunking stand operated by the Jaycees at the county fair earned a substantial profit.

Glenn Peterson reminded the members of the seven-state Jaycee institute to be held in Bemidji August 28 and 29, and he added that Carl Rowan, Minneapolis newspaper man, will be the guest speaker.

Orrin Meltz stated that the proposed flight breakfast at the Thief River Falls airport had been tentatively scheduled for Sunday, September 13. The project was referred back to the committee for further study.

Orin Green invited the chapter to attend a joint meeting with the senior Chamber of Commerce Thursday, September 17, and the group voted to accept.

Robert Flynn asked that any Jaycee interested in joining a league bowling team, notify him as soon as possible. He said a second team will be organized if sufficient interest is shown.

Look out for Children When School Starts

"School is soon open, and children will be crossing streets and roads again in greater numbers than ever before," Chief of Police Elton Cummings warned motorists today.

Three-color signs were posted throughout Thief River Falls this week to inaugurate the annual "School's Open . . . Drive Safely" campaign conducted by the police department and the Minnesota State Automobile assn.

"School safety patrols and policemen will be out guarding the school zones and protecting the youngsters as usual," Cummings said. "However, every corner and street cannot be watched.

"Many of the children going to and from school will be in traffic for the first time," he said. "And excitement of the first day in school often causes children to forget parents' warning about caution in crossing streets."

Last year, 50 percent of Minnesota's more than 2,000 pedestrian traffic accidents involved school-age youngsters. And most of the nation's pedestrian fatalities occur in either the very young or very old groups.

Chief Cummings suggests that parents take their children to school the first time and take a route with the most traffic control devices and school safety patrol members guarding the corners.

Harvest Further Delayed by Rain Saturday Evening

Temperatures Moderate and Humidity Drops in Area in Past Few Days

Another balmy August day is promised northwestern Minnesota residents Monday but the weatherman won't guarantee any more than that as scattered showers and thunderstorms are scheduled to make a reappearance Tuesday, according to KTRF weather reports.

A total of .61 inch of rainfall was recorded here since Thursday, including .15 which fell Thursday morning. Threatening black skies late Saturday dumped .44 inch of rain on our area to further delay the grain harvest.

In our neighboring state of North Dakota the storm system which brought rain, accompanied by wind and lightning here, unleashed a tornado south of the small town of Lakota in Nelson county, causing considerable damage to crops and farm buildings.

Several people in the vicinity escaped death or injury by jumping in their cars and driving out of the tornado's deadly path.

Temperatures here since Thursday ranged from this morning's low of 54 to 82 Friday. With the passing of Saturday's disturbance the humidity drop-

UNUSUAL GAVEL Alec Cloutier, First at. E., made the gavel he is holding for presentation to the chef de chemin de fer at the annual Promenade Nationale which will be held as part of the national American Legion convention in Minneapolis this week. Cloutier, a voyageur of the local volture 737, said that this gavel and four smaller ones made previously are the only ones of their kind in the world. Two years of work went into the construction of the gavel which will be presented by Cloutier Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 25, during the 40 and 8 meeting.

National recognition will come to a Thief River Falls man this week when the American Legion national convention is held in Minneapolis.

Alec Cloutier, First at. E., will appear on the 40 and 8 program Tuesday afternoon at 3 p.m. to present an unusual gavel to Roy D. Marshall, chef de chemin de fer of the 40 and 8, Legion membership, welfare and fun-making organization.

The gavel, made by Cloutier in his basement workshop, is a large replica of the chapeau of French soldiers in World War I. Carved of cedar with a hardwood handle, the gavel is painted blue and bears an inscribed brass plate commemorating the occasion. Two years of labor went into the gavel's making.

Cloutier, a voyageur of the local Volture 737, has made four smaller gavels similar to the one which will be presented Tuesday. The first was made in 1953 for Norman Peterson, chef de guerre of the local volture at that time; the second for the grand chef de guerre, a resident of Wayzata; the third for the Roseau volture and the fourth for the San Fernando, Calif., organization.

The four small and one large gavels made by the local man are the only ones of their kind in the world, Cloutier said.

Several years ago, Cloutier also made the gavel which is still being used by the International War Veterans Alliance which is made up of war veterans from Minnesota, Manitoba and North Dakota. Into its construction went maple, the national wood of Canada, and cherry, the national wood of the United States.

Lois Vielguth Becomes Bride of Paul Johnson

Baskets of white gladioli and yellow mums and candelabra adorned the altar of the Mission Covenant church Saturday, Aug. 15 for the wedding of Lois Ann Vielguth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Vielguth of this city and Paul Donovan Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Johnson of Evansville, Minn.

The double ring ceremony took place at 8 p.m. and was officiated by Rev. Charles Schulze of St. Paul, brother-in-law of the bride. Mrs. Alvin Dahlstrom of Thief River Falls was at the organ, playing the nuptial music and accompanying Mrs. Don Howard of St. Paul as she sang "I Love Thee Dear", "The Wedding Prayer" and "Crown With Thy Benediction", as the couple knelt at the altar.

Entering in on the arm of her father, the bride was attired in a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over white satin. It featured a sabrina neckline with tiny buttons extending down the back, long sleeves that came to a point at the wrist and a bouffant skirt. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a crescent cascade of autumn roses, white stephonotis and feathered carnations.

Mrs. Charles Schulze of St. Paul, sister of the bride, was matron of honor followed by Ruth and Margaret Johnson of Evansville, sisters of the bridegroom, as bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of mist green organza over taffeta, fashioned with a round neckline, short sleeves and complemented by a green satin cummerbund. Their bouquets were of yellow Fuji mums centered with a bronze mum. Pearl earrings and tiaras of bronze mums were gifts from the bride.

Little Diane Cording of St. Paul, wearing a floor length gown of white organza over taffeta and a tiara of white roses and carrying a basket of daisies, pompoms, mums and garlands, was flower girl. Richard Vielguth of Anoka, carried the rings on a lace and satin pillow.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Roger Johnson of Evansville, his brother, with Robert Vielguth of Anoka and Glen Koglin of Goodridge, as groomsmen. Steven Johnson of Minneapolis was head usher. All the gentlemen of the bridal party wore white dinner jackets, black trousers and yellow carnation boutonnieres.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Vielguth chose a lace over taffeta dress with white accessories and a corsage of autumn roses and feathered carnations. Mrs. Johnson was attired in a blue embroidered lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of autumn roses and feathered carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for approximately 200 relatives and friends. A four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature church, centered the bridal table. Mrs. Don Howard of St. Paul served as hostess with Mrs. A. E. Koglin, aunt of the bride and Mrs. Harry Millar of Bemidji, cutting and serving the cake. Mrs. Cora Peterson of St. Paul, aunt of the bridegroom and Miss Carol Drotts of Minneapolis, poured. Mrs. Howard Collins presided at the punch bowl assisted by Mrs. Emil Heleren of this city and Miss Catherine Sugmi of Minneapolis. For their honeymoon trip to the North Shore Drive and Port Arthur, Ont., the bride chose a mist green print dress with beige accessories and a corsage of autumn roses and feathered carnations. Upon their return they will make their home at 1181 Raymond Ave. in St. Paul.

The bride is a graduate of Lincoln high school and the University of Minnesota. She will be teaching in the Roseville school system, while the bridegroom is attending the University of Minnesota.

Legislative Unit to Probe Highway Dept.

Recent Resignation Results in Plans for Investigation

A sweeping investigation of the operations of the state highway department will be made by a 10-member legislative interim commission, Sen. James R. Keller of Winona disclosed Thursday.

Keller was elected chairman of the commission on highways at its organizational meeting Thursday.

"It will be the first complete investigation of the highway department in the history of Minnesota," Keller said.

Rep. Charles Halsted, Brainerd, was elected vice chairman, and Rep. Aubrey Dirlam, Redwood Falls, secretary. Keller is a Conservative and Halsted is a Liberal.

The recent resignation of Clinton H. Burnes as the new chief of the programming and planning division for the highway depatment will be one of the items to be investigated, according to both Keller and Halsted.

The commission voted to summon Highway Commissioner L. P. Zimmerman and Deputy Commissioner Frank Marzitelli before the group at its next meeting.

Keller said the two officials will be requested to bring with them a chart showing the entire structure of the highway department and to explain in detail the operations of all segments. Keller said a date for the next meeting will be fixed after the chart is made up.

Burnes left a job with the federal bureau of public roads in Washington to accept the new highway post at a salary of about $14.00 a year. After a short stay, he resigned and went back to his old job in Washington.

It was repoted that he was dissatisfied in Minnesota because he was not appointed highway commissioner.

Halsted said he understood that Burnes accepted the post with the understanding that he would get the assistant commissionership, which has been vacant since the resignation of A. O. Torgerson last May 7.

County Organization Now Has 640 Family Members

The Pennington county Farmers Union was given special commendation this week in recognition of its work in Farmers Union.

The county, and its F. U. Chairman, Carl R. Anderson, were cited for their membership achievements during the year by Edwin Christianson, president of Minnesota Farmers Union.

Pennington county ended the 1959 membership campaign with a total of 640 family members, an increase over its membership a year ago.

On a statewide basis, it was revealed that the state membership for 1959 has exceeded 40,000 families for the third year in a row.

"About 30 per cent of the farmers in the state now belong to the Farmers Union. This is the highest percentage ever to belong to the organization," said Christianson, noting that the Farmers Union has for five years been the largest general farm organization in the state. He announced that the statewide goal for Farmers Union membership in 1960 would be 50,000 families.

Awarded Certificates on Completion of Course

The first course in behind-the-wheel drivers training has ended for Oklee high school students. The program started the 15th of June and ended on the 12th of August with 30 students and 4 adults taking part.

Twenty-four students were successful in passing their drivers tests while the other six participating students will take the test after obtaining certified permits from the State Highway Department.

Students receiving trained driver certificates were required to take 30 hours of classroom work plus a maximum of 8 hours behind-the-wheel training. This included highway driving, driving in Thief River Falls to simulate city driving conditions and viewing films on good driving habits. The certificate will be more meaningful to parents with teenage boys as most insurance companies will give a reduction on rates after obtaining the certificate.

Mack's CANDID COMMENT

BY V. M. DRAPER

It seems that anyone who tills the soil, whether he be a gardener with a 2 x 4 patch such as we have at home, or a big farmer, has problems on every hand.

This year, as in some previous years we recollect, we have been plagued by excessive rain, hail (in spots) and generally miserable harvesting conditions.

While we've had plenty of rain (in spots) and generally miser- (so it would seem) other areas, as close as Crookston to the southwest, are having a long dry spell. All in all, though, we here can count ourselves fortunate to get a crop, even though it's tough to get at with combines because of the rain.

A columnist in one of the big city dailies says the duck population is suffering "from lack of rainfall. At the same time he laid part of the blame for the duck decline to man's drainage activities.

Perhaps so. But, we hadn't noticed any shortage of water holes in our neck of the woods.

Our biggest problem is tomatoes—rot in them, that is. We have some nice ones on the vine but so many of them develop a big rot on the blossom end about the same time they start ripening.

Everything else, the weeds especially, is doing fine!

Perhaps we're sleeping lighter these nights but I don't think so. At any rate it has come to our attention in a rather forceful manner recently that heavy truck mufflers aren't muffling the racket of the big diesels quite as well nowadays.

Being the court reporter for this publication I occasionally see some local or area youth is dragged in by the gendarmes for having an illegal muffler on his heap.

Yet, the oft-condemned Hollywood muffler can't hold a candle to a diesel roaring out Third st. in the next-to-intermediate gear. We've lived by trunk highways since 1950, either here or in Grand Forks—but never before this year have we had to halt a conversation until a diesel semi goes by.

Oh yes—we've been here since 1956 and we've yet to hear of the first case of a trucker being pinched for speeding in town, to the best of our recollection. That definitely doesn't mean they are law-abiding in this respect, however.

Just stand alongside the curb on the outlying end of Third st. and find out how fast they go by—only, please be careful lest you get sucked underneath the wheels!

We have one comment, that in the form of a question . . . HOW COME?

No doubt other residents on E. Third st. and on Main av. N. will ask the same question. We're certain the majority (if not all) of trucks referred to are transient Canadians, which doesn't serve to smooth ruffled taxpayers' feathers much either.

We also hope they catch the jerk who drove by our house in a car at about 80 per last Saturday a.m.—about 2 a.m., that is. With Hollywood mufflers roaring full out, too. Is it any wonder yours truly looks, acts — and FEELS dopey these days? Nuff sed!

Seed Alfalfa at this time of year? Yes — and get a good stand, if the weatherman cooperates. Last summer, according to William Hueg, extension agronomist at the University of Minnesota, Clifford Wendland, Lac qui Parle county farmer, had an oats field that lodged badly. The spring-seeded alfalfa wasn't doing well. So, he clipped the field early in August and before Labor Day drilled in 5-6 pounds Vernal alfalfa per acre. Result was a nice alfalfa stand this spring. And that's despite the fact that things were pretty dry in that part of the state last summer.

Take an airplane ride anywhere in rural Minnesota and you'll see thousands of farmsteads snugly protected from the howling winds by carefully-planned shelterbelts. That's been common for years. But look again and you'll see more field windbreaks than ever. Take the Lawrence Valley farm in Sherburne county, for example. Eleven-year-old Raymond Valley, member of the Haven Trail Blazers 4-H Club, says the farm has a 40-rod windbreak of hybrid poplars planted in 1953. Already, the windbreak looms 25 to 30 feet high. Henry Wilson, SCS technician assisting the Sherburne county soil conservation district, says such fast-growing, soil-saving windbreaks are becoming popular in the area.

Have an oats field hit by red-leaf virus this year? If so, whatever seed you get from it is still okay for planting next year. University of Minnesota plant pathologists say the virus is not spread through the seed, nor is it soil-borne. As long as the seed germinates well, it's all right. The same is true with wheat or barley infected with yellow dwarf.

Strontium 90 absorption by farm crops is going to be studied by a group of University scientists in the near future. Members of the department of plant pathology and botany will check rate of accumulation of Strontium-90 in edible parts of the plants and how this rate is affected by different levels of Strontium-90, time of year and weather. Soils men will measure fallout in soil samples from around the state.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare

Sharing Parents

Adults frequently see humor in the expressions of jealousy shown by older children when a new baby comes into the home. And yet, just at the time when he is being accused of "having his nose out of joint", the child is meeting one of the greatest crises of his young life . . . that of sharing the love of his parents.

As Marion Faegre points out in her booklet: Your Child From One to Six, this is especially true of the firstborn child when the second child is brought home. Up to this time, he no doubt has been the center of attention for anxious parents, doting grandparents and gift-bearing aunts and uncles. It is only natural that he should have some misgivings about this baby who is too small to play with but big enough to demand most of the mother's time and literally able to "steal the show" besides.

These expressions may vary from attempting to punish the new baby physically to actually suggesting that you give the baby away. On the other hand, he may resort to "babyish" behavior. Hence, we may see a three-year-old abandoning his toilet habits, preferring diapers to training pants and even refusing to eat except from a nursing bottle. To the already busy mother, these actions, on the part of the older child, may be a real source of frustration and even disgust.

It may require all the patience you can muster, but try to ignore his undesirable actions and at the same time provide him with the extra love and attention which he needs so desparately at this time. Of course, you must protect the baby from physical injury but try not to dwell on the subject. Try to plan each day so that you can spend a definite amount of time with the older child just having a good time, doing the things you used to do together.

Remember, the child is merely asking you to love him again as you did when he was a baby. Really, you have never stopped loving him, but you must prove it.

Thieves Eliminated in North Minny Playoffs

It was rally and counter-rally as the Thieves met Cass Lake in a Northern Minny league "do-or-die" playoff game at Cass Lake on Sunday afternoon. And Cass Lake, by a 9 to 8 score, did; while the Thieves, losing their second straight playoff game died.

Cass Lake, keeping their playoff hopes alive, will meet Fosston at Bagley on Wednesday night at 8:15. Bagley defeated Fosston, 5 to 3, in teh innings at Fosston on Sunday night.

In Sunday's tilt at Cass Lake, the Thieves opened up with four-run and four hit first-inning outburst against lefty Jerry Daniels. With one out, Arlan Hjelle beat out an infield hit; Marv Mansfield also legged out an infield scratch; Glenn Carlson singled to center, scoring Hjelle; Frank Gunderman stolled; Gene Leslie bounced to the mound, the Mansfield being forced at the plate; John Drury sliced a triple into right field, scoring 3 runs. Daniels, on the verge of being replaced on the mound, hung in there to strike out Kankel and end the inning.

Cass Lake, in their half of the first inning, racked up three runs on a double by Rod South, a ground single by Bob Montebello and a home run over the left-field fence by lanky Russ Smith.

The Thieves picked up a run in the sixth inning on a single by Dennis Bakke, a fielder's choice, an error and Hjelle's single. Cass Lake, in their half of the sixth inning, tallied a run when Harold Annette led off with a home run over the right-field fence.

In the seventh inning, Cass Lake raked Hejelle's offerings for four hits, including doubles by Glen Peppel and Montebello and a triple by Ron Ness, to plate four runs and take an 8 to 5 lead.

In the top of the ninth inning, the Thieves clawed back to score three runs and even the game at 8-all. Mansfield doubled; Carlson was out, second to first; Gunderman struck out; Leslie singled to right field, scoring Mansfield; Drury beat out a hit over second base; and Charley Kankel walked to load the bases; Dale Klungness sent a slow roller to third base, and on Montebello's low and wide throw to first base, was safe, with Leslie and Drury scoring on the error. Drees skied to right field to end the Thieves' half of the ninth.

In the Cass Lake ninth inning, with Gene Leslie pitching (Leslie had replaced starter Hjelle in the 8th inning), Rod South was erased, pitch to first base. Annette banged a single to right field, and advanced to second when the ball skipped past the Thieves Klungness. Montebello then drove a double to the fence in right-center scoring Annette and Keeping Cass Lake's playoff hopes alive.

The Nelson's Grocery team, the pre-season favorite, carded a 147-stroke total to move past the low-handicap Tunberg Motors squad to take over second place in the league standings. The Nelsons hold a three-stroke lead over the Tunbergs, 1618 to 1621.

The low net team total carded last Wednesday was turned in by the American Hardware Mutual squad, who chalked up a 141. That 141 total was compiled in this manner: Russ Embury, 42-32; Lloyd Bennes, 40-36; Arnie Lee, 41-26; and Chuck Wilcox, 45-37.

The low individual net score was carded by Jack Edmiston, who scored a 43-31. The low gross individual scoring honors were won by Larry Perkins, a 36, and John Moum and Reid Stromberg, with 37's.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

All Over but the Shouting

The city Golf league will conclude its 1959 season of play on Wednesday evening, and as far as the championship race is concerned it's all over but the shouting. And the shouting will be heard on Wednesday evening as the Larson Music Company squad — John Moum, Les Debryln, Jim Solsten, Justus Larson and Ted Hellie — go through the formality of playing their final round of medal play.

The Larson squad holds a 17-stroke lead over the second place Nelson's Grocery squad, and unless they, the Larsons, suffer some broken legs or arms they should stagger through to a well-earned title. The boys have shot a consistent brand of golf all season.

Much of the interest in Wednesday evening's wind-up will be centered on the struggle for second place, with the Nelson's Grocery trying to hold off the challenge of the Tunberg Motors. It is rumored that Tunberg's will have a staff of auditors on hand to verify the scores of the Nelson Grocery. The Nelson's Grocery squad—Wes Johnson, Doug Tegtmeier, Milt Reierson, Dr. Orion Belch and Ivan Bundy — were the early-season favorites, and they aren't giving up very easily.

It will be Tunberg's in second place, by about two strokes.

We'll Pick Halstad

After engaging in a conversation with Ada's veteran baseball manager, Tony Sipe, a couple of weeks ago, we have decided that the Halstad Red Sox will win the Norman-Polk league playoffs, and then go on to win the Region Two B baseball tournament.

At the time of our chat with Sipe, the Fertile club was leading the Norman-Polk circuit, being undefeated in league competition. Sipe informed us, though, that Erv Warner had a solid ball club at Halstad, and with such pitches as Al Santwire and Jerry Mehlisch available, the Red Sox were entitled to be rated as favorites. Fertile's weakness, according to Sipe, and the recent games have supported his statement, was lack of sturdy and reliable pitching, a necessity during league playoffs. Ada, too, suffers from effective work on the mound.

From our point of vantage, we'll venture the guess that Halstad will be meeting, and beating, the Bagley Merchants in the regional tourney that will be played at Bagley starting Wednesday, September 2nd.

Bagley, of course, isn't through the Northern Minny league playoffs yet, but they are making their move. If the Merchants can get a game of pitching out of lefty Ken Severud, to give righthander Bruce Lindell a rest, Bagley should gain the regional tournament.

We aren't short-changing Cass Lake, or Fosston, but those clubs aren't too stout on the mound. Cass Lake, in particular, has had to rely on southpaw Jerry Daniels in their last three games, and the young lefthander has hurled fine ball. Daniels pitched eight innings against the Thieves last Sunday in the league championship game; on Thursday night he pitched 11 innings as Cass Lake dropped a 5 to 4 game to Bagley; and yesterday he hurled nine innings as Cass Lake outlasted the Thieves to win by a 9 to 8 score.

North vs. South

The annual North All-Stars vs. South All-Stars football game will be played at the Parade stadium in Minneapolis on Wednesday night, Aug. 26, with kickoff time at 8:15 p.m.

High school football fans in this area, Region Eight, will follow the play of three former Region Eight athletes—Bill Taylor, and Jerry Dohm of Crookston, and Don Fugleberg of Roseau—in the game.

Taylor, one of Crookston all-time athletic greats, is a quarterback candidate for the North squad, while Dohm will see action at end. Fugleberg, one of the standouts in that powerful Roseau Rams line last season, is slated for a tackle position. These boys should perform in a manner that will reflect favorably on Region Eight football.

The North squad will be anxious, we should judge, to avenge the lop-sided, 31 to 0, defeat they absorbed in last season's All-Star tilt.

Dairying to Feature State Fair Program

A dash of glamor will be included in the annual 4-H dairy parade and awards program at the Minnesota state fair with the newly-crowned Princess Kay of the Milky Way VI officiating in the presentations.

The annual "Dairy Night" program will begin at 6 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 5, in the Hippodrome. The show will feature top 4-H dairy project enthusiasts and the animals they have raised. A dairy cattle showmanship contest is a special feature of the program.

The new Princess Kay, who will be named and crowned before the state fair grandstand Wednesday, Sept. 2, will present awards to the youngsters showing the champion purebred and grade animals in each of the six dairy breeds, Holstein, Guernsey, Jersey, Ayrshire, Brown Swiss and Milking Shorthorn.

These awards are sponsored by the Minnesota Dairy Industry committee, state unit of the American Dairy association.

The six purebred winners will receive silver coffee service sets and the grade champions will get carving sets.

Five boys, chosen for their demonstrated general knowledge of dairying, also will be named winners of expense-paid trips to the International Dairy Show held in Chicago in December.

Approximately 2,500 4-H boys and girls will attend the state fair as exhibitors and demonstrators. Of these 711 will be showing dairy projects. There will be dairy animal projects from every county in the state except Ramsey and Cook.

The "Dairy Night" show has been designed by 4-H club leaders to provide a "show window" through which both rural and city residents can see what is being done in dairying.

Admission is free.

Soil Conservation Stamp Set Aug. 27

Three-color Stamp Goes on Sale Here Thursday

Supporters of the Pennington county soil conservation district and persons interested in commemorative stamps will be able to purchase 4-cent soil conservation stamp locally starting Thursday, Aug. 27, Don Lawrence, SCS farm planner, said today.

Although the post office department is printing 120 million copies of the 3-color soil conservation stamp, which portrays a modern conservation farm, the issue won't last long, Lawrence predicted.

The stamp is being issued at Rapid City, S. D., on Aug. 26 as a tribute to conservation farmers and ranchers, their local soil conservation districts, and the professional conservationists of State and Federal agencies who assist them.

"I'm sure that most everyone in Pennington county will want to buy these colorful and historical stamps when they go on sale here," Lawrence said.

State Department of Welfare Offers State Fair Exhibit

Movies and Slides to Be Included in Exhibit at Event Starting Saturday

The Minnesota department of public welfare's exhibits at the state fair offer varied interests to the fairgoer, Ralph T. Hunt, director of the Pennington county welfare department, announced this week.

The State Fair runs from Saturday, August 29, through Labor Day, September 7.

"New material, including several new color films, has been prepared to bring welfare department exhibits up to date," Hunt stated.

The Minnesota Council on Adoptions has combined with the division of child welfare to produce a special sequences of colored slides which will be shown continuously throughout every Fair day. In addition, free movies will be shown on a 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. schedule daily.

In the booth devoted to state facilities for the mentally retarded, parents of retarded children who have volunteered their services, will assist professional social workers in answering questions and giving information to visitors who have problems in this field.

Likewise, in the space devoted to the section on adoptions, handpicked personnel will be available to handle all inquiries on this subject.

Each booth will be equipped with easy chairs to accommodate the foot-weary who want to rest as well as discuss mutual problems in the welfare field. The department's services for the blind division has set up a vending stand where refreshments will be served.

The state exhibits building is located just inside the northernmost entrance to the Fair Grounds on Snelling Avenue, near Machinery Hill.

Medical Group Gives Facts on Lightning

Lightning kills an estimated five hundred Americans each year. Another fifteen hundred persons struck by lightning annually sustain varying degrees of injury.

To avoid possible death and injury by lightning, the Minnesota State Medical Association offers the following protective suggestions. If you are caught in an electrical storm away from your home, your most ideal form of protection is an all metal building. This is suggested because the all-metal structure forms a perfect ground for the lightning. Your next choice should be a large building which has been protected against lightning. Less ideal are large buildings and then smaller unprotected buildings.

Persons who are unable to find the shelter of a building are advised to retreat to a ditch, a valley or ravine, a large hole in the ground or an automobile. If such forms of protection are not available, lie flat on the ground. It is better to get soaked than fried. Don't climb the highest hilltop during an electrical storm to observe the wonders of nature. Keep off tractors and other farm implements or construction equipment during an electrical storm.

Don't choose lightning for your competitor in outdoor sports like baseball, golf or boating.

To avoid the danger of being struck by lightning indoors, keep away from screen doors, fireplaces and other metal objects such as pipes which may project through the wall or roof. Electrical appliances including television, radio, clothes driers, or lamps may also be dangerous during an electrical storm unless they are well grounded.

First aid treatment for persons who have been struck by lightning should include proper administration of artificial respiration to stimulate breathing. Most persons who have been struck by lightning will suffer from cramps caused by severely contracted muscles. First aid treatment to relieve the cramps should include massaging of the limbs. Make certain that the patient does not become chilled. Check for possible burns caused by metal objects which have come in contact with the body during the blow. Call a physician at once.

Editorials . . .

"Well intentioned people sometimes get us into a bad situation, particularly if they refuse to subject their projects to frequent re-examination and debate. In a spirit of reform, we adopted child labor laws with the best of intention. We should be re-examining those laws with open minds today to see whether boredom isn't partly responsible for our juvenile delinquency problem. There is little juvenile delinquency among 4-H club members on the farms who are still privileged under the law to do productive labor of the type that their fathers and mothers do."

—Basil Walters

The Report on Steel

There was nothing startling in the report on steel industry operations, made by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, mainly because the report contained no facts that had not already been pretty well established. The report nevertheless did serve a useful purpose.

Neither management nor labor took exception to any of the findings. Both labor and management agreed that the report stated the facts clearly and both sides used the facts to prove justification for their own positions. Being in agreement on the facts, it should not be difficult for reasonable people to agree upon a fair solution for their problem.

Steel workers are well paid by American wage standards. The industry is operating profitably and could increase wages to some extent and absorb the added cost, without price increases. But there is a reasonable doubt as to whether this would be the best answer from the standpoint of the national economy and the public interest. There is justification for a hold-the-line on wages along with a lowering of the price of steel. That solution, we are sure, would have the most widespread national approval.

The Mitchell report revealed that wage and price increases in the steel industry have been excessive in comparison with other industries. Steel prices have risen higher and faster than wholesale prices in general, and much more than retail prices.

From January 1950 to this summer, steel wages increased by greater percentages than in most of the economy. Hourly earnings in the steel industry during May averaged $3.10 compared with $2.23 in manufacturing as a whole. Since January of 1950, gross hourly wages increased 85 per cent, and in terms of real dollars, measuring the value of the dollar by its buying power, hourly earnings have increased 50 per cent.

Considering these facts, there is no justification for tear-shedding for either the owners of the steel industry or their employees. The only people who have a grievance, as we see it, are those who have had to pay higher prices for steel products, and that includes just about all of us.

It would be well, therefore, if this strike were settled in the public interest. The price of steel products must be reduced if the American steel industry is to remain competitive in the world market. This is especially desirable because the steel strike settlement will establish a pattern that will influence the terms of settlement of several other labor contracts of nation-wide importance that expire this year.

The People Are Sincere

> There has been an amazing thaw here. The announcement of the exchange of visits between Khrushchev and Eisenhower has been the signal for an entirely new relationship between Soviet officials and foreigners, especially Americans.
> The Soviet officials have abandoned their formal and somewhat distant propriety. They have actually sought out foreigners and have joked and toasted and thumped backs and pumped hands, have given private telephone numbers and accepted lunch dates.
> This is Moscow's way of reflecting Khrushchev's declarations that a meeting between the heads of the two most powerful states in the world can break the ice of the cold war and produce a rapprochement between the two rival giants.

There is little danger that those who speak for us officially will be swept off their feet by this new palsy-walsy attitude of the Russians. We are justified in assuming that, insofar as it represents the thinking of Khrushchev himself, and his associates, it should be written off as window dressing. We share the feeling that, personally, Nikita is not to be trusted.

But to the extent that this friendlier attitude is expressed by the Russion people, we would accept it as a sincere manifestation of good will. For the Russian people the cold war has not been a happy experience. They have feared our government as we have feared theirs, but they have had respect for us a naton of good people. And now, with some reason to hope that the tension will ease and that they may look forward to the future without fear, it is not strange if they have become a little upset emotionally.

There is no danger that Khrushchev will change America's attitude toward himself by his visit next month. There is a possibility that the visit may give him a new attitude toward America. He should be impressed by the greatness of our country. As a man getting along in years, he no doubt realizes that, with time running out, his opporunities to achieve greatness are limited. He is cunning, but he should also be wise enough to recognize the folly of two great nations destroying each other.

We are all agreed that Ike will do a good job for us when he returns Nikita's visit. The people of Russia will like him and will trust him. That is the important thing.

There are dangers in such an exchange of visits, but every precaution will be taken to avert them. Barring the unforeseen, however, the results should be good. We have much more to gain than to lose.

We Sell More Than We Buy

The market value of American farm products exported last year was $4 billion, and represented the product value of one out of each six and one-half cropland acres harvested in 1957, according to H. W. Herbison, marketing economist at the North Dakota Experiment Station. Wheat and flour exports accounted for about 42 per cent of the total. About 18 per cent of our oil production, soybean and cottonseed oil, was exported, in addition to another 18 per cent of the 1957 soybean crop. Many other farm products figured in the grand total. A large portion of the export volume was handled by the U. S. department of agriculture.

Our Canadian neighbors were good customers as usual. According to the Economics Division of the Canada Department of Agriculture, they bought farm products from us in the value of $362 million and we, in turn, bought from them farm products worth $289 million. The big items in Canadian purchases were fruits and vegetables, valued at $161 million.

There are occasional complaints here at home about the large volume of food in various forms that we buy from abroad. It is easy to prove that if the doors were closed to all imports of food we would have no surplus problem. But if we isolated ourselves from the rest of the world, and our exports of food as well as our imports were discontinued, our farm problem would be much more difficult. In the exchange of farm products, we sell much more than we buy.

We Will Not Worry — But

According to a United Nations forecast there will be at least twice as many people in the world 41 years from now. Many of our young people will be around to complain about the crowded conditions as they will be at the turn of the century. By that time maybe folks will be worrying about how their children will be getting along when the population doubles again. Or will the leveling off process have gotten started by that time?

We will turn this situation over to the young people themselves and give them our vote of confidence in their ability to meet all of the problems their generation will face. Life may be even more interesting then than now. There is room on the earth for many more people and with food production becoming more scientific there probably will be an ample food supply.

We will add this to the list of things we are not going to worry about. But it would be nice to own a section of land.

Twelve Rules —

(Montevideo American)

The police department of Houston, Texas, has issued a leaflet called "Twelve Rules for Raising Delinquent Children." Here they are:

1. Begin with infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way, he will grow up to believe the world owes him a living.
2. When he picks up bad words, laugh at him. This will make him think he's cute. It will also encourage him to pick up "cuter" phrases that will blow off the top of your head later.
3. Never give him any spiritual training. Wait until he is 21 and then let him "decide for himself."
4. Avoid use of the word "wrong." It may develop a guilt complex. This will condition him to believe later, when he is arrested for stealing a car, that society is against him and he is being persecuted.
5. Pick up everything he leaves lying around—books, shoes and clothes. Do everything for him so that he will be experienced in throwing full responsibility on others.
6. Let him read any printed matter he can get his hands on. Be careful that the silverware and drinking glasses are sterilized, but let his mind feast on garbage.
7. Quarrel frequently in the presence of your children. In this way, they will not be too shocked when the home is broken up later.
8. Give a child all the spending money he wants. Never let him earn his own. Why should he have things as tough as you had them?
9. Satisfy his every craving for food, drink and comfort. See that every sensual desire is gratified. Denial may lead to harmful frustration.
10. Take his part against neighbors, teachers, policemen. They are all prejudiced against your child.
11. When he gets into real trouble, apologize for yourself by saying, "I never could do anything with him."
12. Prepare for a life of grief. You will be likely to have it.

A woman driver is a person who drives like a man but isn't allowed to get away with it.

—The Journeyman Barber

The salesman gasped when the beautiful blonde opened the door. "Madam," he gulped, "may I see your husband?"

"Oh, he's gone to Hawaii and won't be back for six weeks."

"Then, said the salesman, "may I come in and wait?"

A TV salesman had taken in a lot of used sets as trade-ins on new models and was desperately trying to peddle some of them. "This set is in excellent condition," he reported to a propective customer who had questioned him about one of them. "Why, it was owned by a little old lady with weak eyes."—Lion.

REPORT from the GOVERNOR

by Orville L. Freeman

How much do you think Minnesota spends to care for a mentally ill patient in one of our state hospitals for one day? You know that in most community hospitals the cost is probably $20 a day or more. Would you guess that the cost per day in our mental hospitals is more than $20 per day? Or about $15.00? Or $10.00?

What People Think

When this question was asked of selected groups of Minnesota citizens —selected because of their special interest in mental health — more people answered "over $20" than any other figure. Over half thought the cost was more than $10.00 per day. Yet the truth is that the cost is less than $4.00 per day.

Only $3.74

One of our state hospitals made an analysis of its cost of operations on a per patient per day basis about a year ago. At that time the total was $3.74. It is a few cents higher now, but the proportionate distribution is similar. You might be interested in the breakdown of this amount.

Biggest Item - Salaries

The biggest item in this breakdown goes for salaries. Salaries for physicians amount to 24 cents per patient per day, and that for nurses, 31 cents. Total cost for psychiatric aides, who provide ward care, is $1.58 per patient per day. For therapists, psychologists and many others, the amount totals $2.76.

I think there is no doubt that increased staff is needed. In the long run, the expenditure of a few cents more per patient per day would result in great progress, more successful treatment, and eventual savings.

Wonder Drugs

Medicine and drugs account for about nine cents per patient per day on the average. This includes medicine for the treatment of physical ailments as well as the new drugs which have been so beneficial in the treatment of psychiatric disorders.

Food and Other Costs

The amount spent for clothing totals only about two cents a day, utilities and fuel eighteen cents. Total food costs are 62 cents per day per patient.

This breakdown would not be absolutely identical in all hospitals, but it provides a typical picture of how our money is spent to combat one of the most serious problems in the entire health field.

Real Progress

In spite of the need for more personnel and more funds, great progress has been made in recent years. The number of patients in our hospitals has gone down while the number of admissions has gone up. This seemingly paradoxical situation results from the fact that patients are treated more effectively and can therefore be discharged after a shorter stay than was previously the case.

Medical science can make great progress in this field. But public support is essential if our people are to gain the benefit of the progress that is possible.

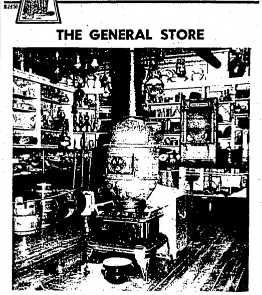
PEEKIN' into the PAST

THE GENERAL STORE



Everything from horsecollars to horseradish was carried in the stock of the "general store" in the period from 1830 to 1900.

The storekeeper, as in the store illustrated above, often ran the postoffice too and remained open evenings for the group of "whittlers" who congregated around the pot-bellied stove and the cuspidor to discuss the state of the nation.

In its day, the general store was the nearest thing to a supermarket in the typical American town.

SCANNING THE NEWS

Even before the Vice President's much-publicized trip to Russia, Washington observers were convinced that President Eisenhower had made up his mind to give all-out support to Richard Nixon's bid to become the Republican Presidential nominee in 1960.

Among the factors contributing to this was the fact that Eisenhower supported the Vice President's trip to Russia and gave him a free hand in offering to solve the deadlock at Geneva in the event Nixon was presented the opportunity to work out a solution with Khrushchev in Moscow. Additionally, press reports quoting the President as confident of Nixon's abilities became increasingly regular. Evidence of the President's confidence was given some months ago when he appointed Nixon to head a politically-promising Cabinet-level economic study for the White House. On the other hand, Nelson Rockefeller, Nixon's chief opponent, has received small recognition from Eisenhower, despite the fact that Rockefeller vaulted to political prominence when he won the Governor's race in New York State last fall.

Long-time observers in Washington point out that all these factors add up to a public endorsement of Nixon by the President and subsequent nomination for Nixon on the first ballot at the Republican convention. The Vice President already has great strength among Republican state organizations. The observers add that the situation had reached the point where, if by some chance, the President should fail to endorse Nixon; endorsed no one; or gave his blessing to Rockefeller, it would represent such an about face that the Republican convention would be thrown wide open — with neither Nixon nor Rockefeller certain of the nomination.

Advocates of increased use of U.S. farm surplus commodities to barter for critical materials from other nations plan legislative action to force such a program on the Administration.

Proponents of the plan say the Agriculture Department failed to follow directions of the House Agriculture Committee, and that restrictions imposed by the Department resulted in complaints about the system from the trade.

Those against the mandatory increase in the plan point out that every pound of surplus bartered abroad replaces a cash sale.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Q—I am nineteen years old, the son of a veteran who died as a result of of injuries received in World War Two. I am thinking of taking War Orphans training under the War Orphans Act, but am wondering if my mother still being alive would mean I am not eligible. Will you please tell me?

A—The fact that your mother is living has no bearing on your eligibility for War Orphans training. You would be considered a War Orphan for purposes of this act, since your veteran-father died as a result of war service.

Q—I named the beneficiaries of my GI insurance policy some time ago, but never did specify the method of payment. If I should die while the method of payment is still undesignated, how would the insurance money be paid out?

A—It would be paid in 36 equal installments. However, your first beneficiary would have the right to choose payments under any other installment plan available.

Q—Can a World War One veteran with less than 90 days' service ever be eligible for a VA pension?

A—If the veteran had been discharged sooner, for a service-connected disability, that would be possible, yes. He could be eligible for pension.

Q—I am a War Orphan, eligible for training under the VA War Orphan's program. Is this only a college program, or could I take a vocational course? I quit high school of my own accord in my senior year.

A—You would be eligible for specialized vocational or trade school training, if you prefer. College training is only one type of training provided.

Free Blindness Prevention Tests at the State Fair

Minnesota State Medical Ass'n. Members to Give Tests Aug. 1 to Sept. 5

Free screening tests for glaucoma, the disease responsible for one out of every eight cases of blindness, will be given to persons attending the Minnesota state fair, August 29 through September 7.

Members of the committee on ophthalmology of the Minnesota State Medical Association will conduct the tests to determine presence of the disease which affects about one out of every fifty Americans after the age of forty.

Minnesota ophthalmologists (doctors of medicine specializing in the care and treatment of the eye) have volunteered their services for the project. The booth will be equipped with tonometers, slit lamps, chairs and other ophthalmological equipment to give state fair goers a preliminary screening for glaucoma.

The following symptoms may mean the existence of glaucoma. Frequent change of glasses, none of which is quite satisfactory; inability to adjust the eye to darkened rooms such as theatres; blurred or foggy vision, this at times may clear and then recur; rainbow colored rings around light at night; and constricted field of vision, this impairs your side vision and gives the impresson of looking through a tunnel or stovepipe. Glaucoma cannot be cured, but in most instances, it can be satisfactorily controlled and blindness prevented with the use of medically prescribed eye drops.

Tests will be given Monday through Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. at the Minnesota State Medical association booth in the Education building on the state fair grounds. The Sunday schedule is 10:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.

BALANCE FOR ALL

By Don Damis

When George Cox, a tall, slender, red-haired man, saw his wife enter the spacious kitchen he quickly removed the meerschaum pipe from his mouth and leaned his elbows on the breakfast table.

"I'm really disgusted with myself," Vera said.

"Don't tell me!" He brandished the pipe through the air. "You've gained weight again?"

"I can't understand why I get fat," she barked.

George leaned back on the chair, pointed at Vera with his forefinger and said:

"You eat heavily because you have an emotional problem."

"If you could accept your added poundage with composure instead of going into dementia praecox I would forget about discussing it, but you don't. Added weight has a tendency to make you irritable. You just can't eat pies and expect to take off weight."

Vera tried to say something, but the words died in her throat as George cut her off.

"Now, hear me out and you'll find out that I make sense," George shifted on the chair. "Emotion and brain must be balanced like a team of horses without letting either take the lead. A compulsive eater, such as you are dear, represents an emotional problem. All you have to do is balance it with your brain. You have under-valued the emotional life."

"And how do I accomplish this, my darling philosophical husband?" Vera said mockingly.

"Stop baking pies!" he blurted.

"I'll never bake another pie in the house!" she screamed.

There was a moment of tranquil silence and then suddenly havoc broke out as Jane chased Jimmie into the kitchen.

"Come on, children! It's time for lunch.

"I'll have some pie, Mommy!" Jimmie demanded eagerly.

"Yeah, Mommy, I'll have a big piece of lemon meringue," chirped Jane gleefully.

"Sorry," Vera said, looking at her offspring sympathetically. "No more pie!"

In the weeks that followed, George had not been satisfied with Vera's reduction of weight. She had lost a little to much.

"Don't you think you're making a fetish out of losing weight now?" he said to her one evening.

"I expect to lose ten more pounds," Vera answered gravely.

"If you lose ten more, you'll be transparent," George said.

"I'm the living picture of bliss," Vera laughed.

"You'll be the living picture of death if you keep it up," George retorted. "I suggest you start eating some pies. You're out of balance again. You've let the brain over-balance the emotion."

"Balance! Hooey!" Vera exclaimed.

On Saturday night when they went to the social club, most of the members were alarmed to see Vera so thin. Most of them asked George irksome questions like:

Later, when it was time for the refreshments, Patrick Linardi, the tall, gray-haired President, made a special announcement.

"Good club members! Vera Cox — our esteemed member — has baked twenty lemon meringue pies that will be served with other refreshments."

There was a salvo of cheers and Vera bowed graciously.

"Are you going to eat the pie?" George queried.

Vera peered up at him.

"You won't talk about balance any more?"

"Cross my heart, never again," George answered.

Pruning Raspberries

To be sure of a good crop of raspberries next year, better prune them now. But first, let's take a close look at the growth habits of the raspberry; understanding them can help you do a better pruning job.

Underground parts of the plant are perennial while the above-ground parts are biennial. Canes grow up from the roots one year and produce vegetative growth. The second year, these canes develop flowers and fruits. Then, the canes die.

Pruning involves cutting out all the old canes that have just borne fruit. It also means thinning out the new canes that will develop fruit next year. If the raspberries are grown in hedgerows, the plants should be thinned to three or four canes per foot of row. Where canes are grown in hills, thin them to six or eight strong canes per hill. Always save the strong, straight, vigorous canes for next year's crop.

Do the pruning immediately after harvest. Then burn or destroy the bush, to get rid of any insects or disease that may be present.

After growth starts next spring the canes can be tipped back to four or five feet if they are in hills, or three feet if in hedgerows.

OVER THE BACK FENCE

By STAN PETERSON

Bottleneck

Bisecting Thief River Falls from north to south is a bottleneck to traffic which could result in the loss of lives and property in the eastern section of the city.

The hazard is the main line of the Soo railroad which, during periods of the day and night, bears long trains that efficiently block off all three roads that connect the eastern and western sections of the city.

There have been times, according to Fire Chief Roy Langevin, when First, Third and Nora streets have been closed by the passage of long trains preventing the fire department from getting to the scenes of fires. The law of averages makes it very possible that other fires in the future may never be reached in time to prevent the loss of property and lives.

To most people traveling from east to west, the period of time they spend waiting for a train to pass is one of life's minor irritations that has been borne too often to mention. There are, however, some who could find the delay disastrous.

A doctor, separated from a seriously ill or injured patient, might find the delay the difference between life or death. An ambulance driver or a parent carrying seriously injured or ill persons to the hospital for emergency treatment would sit helplessly at this roadblock watching the railroad cars go by as the victims they were rushing for medical aid suffer or die as the hundreds of steel wheels on the tracks roll slowly by.

This matter has been brought up at many Safety Council meetings but nothing has been done. Why has no action been taken?

There are those who would put the cost of any action in this matter ahead of the safety and welfare of the people of the city and the area. They would point out that the possibility of any death, injury or destruction of property during one of the periods when the roads are blocked is small and not worthy of consideration. That is the same line of reasoning which says that the game of Russian roulette with a loaded gun is safe because the chances are only one in six that a player may be shot.

The cost of making all three of the east to west streets open to traffic at all times would, of course, be prohibitive. However, one street could be opened and at a cost which would be small compared to the good such work would do.

Both from the east and west, First street is built on an incline to pass over the track. Replacing the present crossing with an underpass would probably present few engineering problems including possible drainage to the river just a few hundred feet away.

First street is also a state aid road and part of the construction would probably be paid by the state. With the cooperation of the state, the Soo line and the city, an underpass could be built which would remove this danger from our city.

Can't something be done in the near future?

Bicycle Safety

With the beginning of another academic year in a few short weeks, the streets around our schools will again be crowded with the bicycles of the hundreds of children attending school.

Providence was good to us last year for, despite the fact that no bicycle safety program was conducted, no injury or death occurred.

However, the law of averages is immutable and our chances of continuing to have an accident-free year for our young commuters are small unless every parent takes it upon himself to teach his children the few basic safety rules of the road.

During the few minutes immediately following the dismissal of school, certain practices have been noticeable which could have resulted in accidents.

Ignoring stop signs and going through intersections without due caution leads the parade of cycling errors. Riding on the wrong side of the street, in the middle of the street and all over the street could easily be in second place. Wrong signals or no signals at all must also be added to the list.

The list is long but is, in large part, the fault of we parents who speak about maintaining the health and welfare of our children but who ignore these practices which could result in great pain and even death.

Before we send our children back to school this fall, let's be certain that they go to and from school safely. And, if we are driving cars, let's be more than normally careful whenever we come to intersections or approach or pass a child on a bicycle.

The children have had little experience with pain and grief and have too few fears when danger threatens. They also are often "too busy" or thinking of other things.

They are beginning a new school year—let's do our best to make it possible for them to finish it.

740 Children Shared in Swimming Lessons Here During Summer

All swimming pool equipment at Tindolph park is being removed this week, marking the conclusion of another successful year of swimming activity, which included the participation of 740 young people in the "Learn to Swim" program.

Taking part in the program, according to Quentin Jones, waterfront director, were 350 children from Thief River Falls, 160 children from the Goodridge area, 75 from Plummer, 53 from St. Hilaire, and 100 other out-of-town children.

Of the approximately 200 sixth grade pupils taking the swimming test, said Jones, 100 or one-half the total succeeded in passing the test, while last year the ratio was only one out of four.

A total of 225 qualified for the Red Cross beginners' certificate, 115 for the intermediate certificate and 25 for the swimmers' certificate. Eighteen of 25 swimmers enrolled in the junior life-saving course completed it, and eight of 15 taking senior life-saving finished the course.

Large Vote Is Asked in Wool Referendum

225 Producers in Pennington Co. May Vote in September

Patrick W. Culkins, manager of the Pennington County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, today urged all wool growers to cast a ballot in the September referendum on the lamb and wool marketing development program to insure the widest possible representative vote.

The outcome of the referendum, to determine whether or not deductions will continue to be made from payments under the wool incentive program, should reflect the attitude of the many different types of producers affected throughout the nation, Culkins said. While the primary basis for approval will be the volume of production represented in the referendum, consideration will also be given to the number of producers voting as an indication of representative producer approval or disapproval.

To encourage as large a turnout as possible, the entire month of September has been set as the voting period in the referendum. A ballot has been mailed to each known producer in Pennington county, but any producer not receiving a ballot can get one at his county ASC office. To further encourage a large total vote, the voted ballots may be returned by mail to the county office.

In Pennington county about 225 producers are eligible to vote in the referendum. The national total is around 300,000 producers.

The deductions from payments being voted on in the referendum make up a fund used by the American Sheep Producers Council, a producer organization, in carrying out a program of advertising, promotion, and related activities on lamb and wool under an agreement with the Secretary of Agriculture.

The agreement will be continued for three more years if approved in the referendum. Deductions under the new agreement would not exceed one cent per pound from shorn wool payments and 5 cents per hundredweight from unshorn lamb payments. Deductions have been made at these rates since 1955.

The growing need for capital stems from inflation, expanded operations and the adoption of modern farm methods, the remodeling and improvement of farm homes and other buildings.

During the same year borrowers returned to the United States Treasury $219,506, repayments on loans.

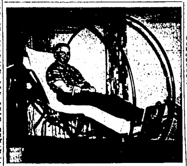
City to Note 30 Years Progress in October



UNIQUE BED Fredolph Swanson, a farmer from the Red Lake Falls area, is shown here in the unusual bed which made his extended recovery from a near-fatal accident in June more endurable. By using levers on the bed Swanson can sit up, lie down, roll over and by grasping the overhead bars can raise himself up. Swanson was critically injured June 10 when the pick-up truck he was driving near Plummer crashed into the side of a moving freight train.

To Observe Advance of TRF Since Coming of Land O' Lakes

"Thirty Years of Progress" will be the theme of a city-wide promotion to be held here in October, according to E. J. Gaer, chairman of a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce to arrange for that month's activities. Serving with Gaer are Cliff Bjorkman and James Winjum.

The thirty-year theme was adopted in recognition of the contribution that the Land O' Lakes organization has made to Northwestern Minnesota. It was was in 1929 that the organization built the first egg and poultry plant north of the creamery following a local money-raising drive in which first mortgage bonds in the amount of $45,000 were sold.

It was this development that pulled the community out of the slump of the "twenties," a period of bank failure and mortgage foreclosures. The Land O' Lakes egg and poultry plant was followed by the location here by Montgomery Ward and the following year by Osborne McMillan and the building of St. Lukes hospital. Since 1929 the population of the city has doubled.

Several special activities are being considered by the October promotion committee to tie in with the "Thirty Years of Progress" theme and special committees are being named to give them direction.

The celebration will focus attention on the progress that has been made during the past 30 years in the entire area served by Thief River Falls, calling attention to both public and private developments. L. B. Hartz of L. B. Hartz Wholesale, is hopeful that his expanded warehouse facilities will be far enough along by that time to permit public inspection of this year's most important commercial improvement. Other businesses that have located here since 1929 or that have expanded since that time will be encouraged to arrange for open house participation.

WALKS Fredolph Swanson, critically injured in a pick-up truck-train crash near Plummer June 10, makes his second attempt to walk by himself at Northwestern hospital Wednesday. He stood up for the first time since accident last Friday, with the assistance of Frank Harger, hospital physical therapist. Harger can be seen in the background here assisting Swanson to a wheel chair, which was some 12-15 feet away. This was the longest distance traveled to date by Swanson.

A Red Lake Falls man is nearing the end of a long road to recovery from an accident which was near fatal to him early in June.

Fredolph Swanson, who farms near Red Lake Falls, was driving on an east-west gravel road north of Plummer in his pick-up truck June 10, when somehow, he crashed into the side of a moving freight train. This was almost the end for Swanson.

However, fast action on the part of the train crew and others at the scene resulted in Swanson's arriving at Northwestern hospital here approximately 30-minutes after the accident, which occurred about 6:30 p.m.

The repairs to Swanson's badly-broken body began at once. His fractured jaws were wired together and for weeks he had to eat food which had been put through a blender, a situation at times comical, for although he learned to recognize most of the various dishes put before him, he often wound up taking his dessert first!

Worst of all, however, was the broken right leg, broken not once but several times and with the jagged bone piercing the muscle and skin covering. Intricate traction was required.

Luckily for Fredolph, the hospital had just the thing for a case of his kind, a "Circ-O-Lectric" bed, one which permits a bedridden person considerable mobility as far as keeping fairly comfortable under circumstances such as Swanson's.

In the meantime, his fractured jaws were knitting and eventually some of the wiring was removed so he can now open his mouth. Through getting much needed exercise, thanks to the Circ-O-Lectric bed, he has managed to maintain much of his strength and finally, last Friday, the long-awaited hour came.

With Frank Harger, hospital physical therapist, to help him, Swanson stood on his own feet again, a great achievement in view of what he has been through the past two and one-half months.

Tuesday was an even bigger day, with Harger assisting him and other of the hospital staff cheering him on, Swanson managed a couple of steps on crutches, to be sure, but he was moving under his own power!

Wednesday Swanson really made great strides, going from his bed to a wheel chair some 13-feet away and with a minimum of assistance from Harger.

The process will continue until Swanson is eventually, in the not-too-distance future, able to leave the hospital. But, the

.77 Inch of Rain Here Early Today

"It Could Be You," not only had Mr. Urdahl flown to Hollywood, but as an added surprise for Margaret, they arranged for Mrs. Urdahl to accompany her husband, and the three were reunited in full view of a nation-wide audience. After the telecast, which Margaret had been tricked into attending by sympathetic friends, Mr. Urdahl, age 78, stated that he never felt better. Jehovah's Witnesses Plan for Convention in TRF Sept. 25 to 27

Announcement was made this week that the City Auditorium will be the scene of a semi-annual convention of Jehovah's Witnesses September 25-27.

R. H. Wetenkamp, presiding minister of the Thief River Falls congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, in making the announcement stated that the delegate ministers will be attending the three-day gathering from more than a score of towns and cities in northern Minnesota.

Convention officials from the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society in Brooklyn, New York, the legal governing agency for Jehovah's Witnesses, will also be in attendance to direct the activities of the assembly.

The purpose of the assemblies which are held twice a year in the northern Minnesota area, Mr. Wetenkamp explained, is to improve the Bible educational activities of all of Jehovah's Witnesses. The local convention is part of the general convention program which is carried on continuously by over 800,000 Witnesses throughout the world. Twice a year each congregation participates in an assembly similar to that which will be held in Thief River Falls in September. The last such assembly held for the Witnesses in this area was held at Bemidji.

Meetings will be held on each of the three days of the assembly. In addition to lectures, interviews and demonstrations arranged to help the Witnesses become more efficient in their ministerial activities, the assembly will feature a baptismal service on Saturday.

The climax of the assembly will be a public lecture entitled "When is God's Will to be Done on Earth" on Sunday, Sept. 27, at 3 p.m. by A. K. Wagner, district minister from Brooklyn, N. Y. Residents of Thief River Falls will receive personal invitations to attend this lecture.

Bill Svendsgaard Writes About Camp in Michigan

Bill Svendsgaard, a Pennington county 4-H'er, is now attending Camp Miniwanca in Michigan. Bill won his trip as an outstanding state 4-H'er who has done his 4-H work capably. He has a long and outstanding record of 4-H activities. This is his first report from Camp Miniwanca.

Greetings from Camp Miniwanca:

It's 6 a.m. Everything's peaceful. All I can hear is the waves from the lake. But in just 30 minutes, a bell's going to ring, a bell that will bring 500 campers down to the icy waters for a morning dip. This will be the beginning of another day. Campers from every state and a few European and Oriental countries are representing organizations associated with every walk of life. Some are delegates of their churches, others are State FFA officers, many are from agricultural colleges, some are representatives for large business firms and civic clubs. I'm proud to be Minnesota's 4-H delegate along with 47 other state delegates.

Besides me is a boy from West Virginia and sharing cabin 46 with are five other campers. There are 66 cabins on the grounds and we are camping about 20 miles north of Muskegon, along Lake Michigan. It's really sandy and it amazes me to see an abundant amount of vegetation thriving on the dunes.

The five classes I have daily are fourfold development, principles of leadership, the making of a leader, creative living and the life and teachings of Jesus. The classes are very challenging and packed with immensurable material. The class rooms are all log cabins scattered throughout the woods with paths leading to them that wind up and over steep hills making a very beautiful location. These hills are so sandy that some pathways must be side-boarded to prevent the dunes from gradual caving away.

We are all divided into tribes; I'm a brave of the Iroquois. Imagine! There are six tribes equal in number. In all two weeks activities, whether in talent, sports, cleaning cabins and class grades, the tribes fight for the highest and best tribe through a point system. As of last night, our tribe was scraping the bottom. We'll need to be more brave.

Tonight, a touring theatrical group will present "The Devil and Daniel Webster," on the chapel stage. Last night, all campers climbed to the top of a stairway that zig-zagged up a 500 foot hill. Here we held a vesper service outlooking Lake Michigan and just at the close, everyone remained in complete silence observing the beauty of the crimson sun sinking below the water's horizon; truly a moment I'll never forget.

But right now the sun is behind the hills and trees and in about two minutes we'll hit the lake for a cool dip!—Bill Svendsgaard.

Mrs. Alma Pederson entertained at a coffee party at her home Saturday afternoon, honoring her sister, Mrs. Lester Larson of Camp Douglas, Wis., who has been visiting here. Attending were Mrs. Sig. Myrum, another sister, Mrs. Theodore Anderson, Mrs. Dora Swanson, Mrs. Lars Furan, Mrs. Ordean Olson, Mrs. seph Schneider and David, Miss George Hanson, Mrs. Albert Sjolsvold, Mrs. Lydia Olson, Mrs. Jo-Geneva Overum assisted the hostess.

'South Pacific' to Open Run at Falls Theatre Sept. 3rd

Production Is Based on Famous Stage Musical That Ran 5 Years on Broadway

Rodgers and Hammerstein's Pulitzer prize-winning musical, "South Pacific", will have its motion picture premiere at the Falls Theatre starting next Thursday, September 3.

About 90 per cent of the production was made on one of the most picturesque spots in the Pacific—Kauai, known as the "Garden Island" of the Hawaiians.

The screen version was directed by Joshua Logan, who also directed the original stage production, which ran on Broadway for almost five years.

"South Pacific," adapted from James Michener's best-selling selling novel, "Tales of the South Pacific," is the love story of a U. S. Navy nurse, played by Mitzi Gaynor, during World War II, who falls in love with a French plantation owner, portrayed by Rossano Brazzi, on a Pacific island. A concurrent love story concerns a Marine officer (John Kerr) and a native girl, played by France Nuyen (who was specially picked for the role because of her Eurasian background and beauty.)

Carol Spray, who is employed in St. Paul with Remington Rand, is a member of the Remington Rand Carolaires who took part in the Pop Musical Ice Review Wednesday evening in the St. Paul auditorium. Carol has been a member of this group since June. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Spray of this city.

Thief River Falls Men Lose in Legion Event

A Canadian Legion golf team from Manitoba defeated the American Legion Department of Minnesota team represented by four Thief River Falls golfers, Bob Wurst, Ted Hellie, Roger Tunberg, and Roy Lee, in an annual international cup match highlighting Legion Golf Day on the local course last Sunday, August 23.

Scoring was based on total strokes over 18-holes for the two teams.

Defeat Fosston Team 11-1 in Playoffs Tilt at Bagley Wednesday

The surprising Cass Lake Lakers, getting another fine pitching performance from their youthful lefthander, Jerry Daniels, moved into the finals of the Northern Minny league playoffs when, in a game played at Bagley on Wednesday night, they defeated Fosston, 11 to 1.

The defeat shunted Fosston to the sidelines, and moved Cass Lake up into the finals against Bagley. Bagley has a playoff record of two wins and no losses, while Cass Lake has a mark of two wins and one loss. Another loss for Cass Lake will eliminate the Lakers, while Bagley requires two losses before being eliminated.

It is probable that the first game of the final series will be played at Cass Lake on Sunday afternoon. And if a second and deciding game is required, that game will be played at Bagley on Sunday night.

Daniels hurled the rout in Wednesday night's game, while Fosston used Dave Carlin and Stan Otness, with Otness coming in relief of starter Carlin in the eighth inning.

Automobile Tires Furnish Theme of Rotary Program

How to prolong the life of automobile tires and their importance in highway safety was the lesson learned by Rotarians at their luncheon Monday noon, the instruction being given by Russell Holey, Grand Forks area representative of the Goodyear Tire Co. The story was told mainly by an interesting film that explained the changing factors in tire wear that have tended to shorten the life of tires.

Higher speeds and more power both in braking and in acceleration were mainly responsible for increased tire wear according to the Goodyear story. One cause of excessive wear at driving at too low pressure which is a big factor in tire temperatures. For greater safety and longer tire wear a pressure of 28-pounds was recommended for long trips.

Grafton Is Site of Borden Potato Flaking Factory

Construction of two huge buildings to house the Borden company's new potato flaking plant in Grafton is expected to get under way this week.

The "go-ahead" signal for construction from the Borden company ended a four-months period of doubt as to the location of the plant. The company, last spring, announced intentions of locating a flaking plant in this area and at that time was considering three sites — at Grafton and at East Grand Forks and Karlstad in Minnesota.

On Thursday, Theodore O. Hofman, president of the Borden company stated that the firm had selected Grafton as the site for the plant. Hofman said the company will operate from buildings to be erected by the Community Rental Corporation of Grafton.

In the writeup of the Christianson-Taggert wedding published in the Thursday, Aug. 20 issue, the grandparents names were listed as Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson and should read Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olson. Also the name of the hostess, Mrs. Ed Leyden was inadvertently left out. The Times regrets the error.

Escapees Being Sought in Rochester Vicinity

Three St. Cloud reformatory farm escapees spotted in the Chatfield area Monday apparently slipped away, police said Tuesday.

(Coupons numbered 2 and upwards shall also include the phrase: "Unless the certificate described below is called for earlier redemption.")

4. Said certificates shall be forthwith prepared for execution under supervision of the City Clerk and attorneys, and shall then be executed by the signature of the Mayor and countersigned by the City Clerk, and the corporate seal of the City shall be affixed thereto, and the appurtenant interest coupons shall be executed and authenticated by the printed, engraved or lithographed facsimile signatures of said officers. When so executed, the certificates shall be delivered by the City Treasurer to the purchasers thereof, upon payment of the purchase price agreed upon, and said purchaser shall not be obligated to see to the application thereof.

5. There is hereby created the Airport Building Revenue Certificate Fund of the City, which shall be maintained as a separate and special fund of the City as long as any of said certificates are outstanding, and to which shall be credited the proceeds of issuance of the certificates herein authorized, and from which shall be paid the costs of constructing and equipping said shop and hangar not exceeding the total sum of $30,000. There shall also be credited to said fund, in accordance with Minnesota Statutes 1957, Section 360.70, all rentals received for the use of said shop and hangar, all earnings realized by the City by reason of operations carried on in said shop and hangar, all net income realized by the City from the business of selling aviation gasoline and oil at said airport, and all gross income received by reason of granting to others the right to sell aviation gasoline and oil to the public at said airport. From said fund shall be paid the principal of and interest on said certificates when due. Surplus moneys on hand in said fund from time to time in excess of a reasonable reserve to secure such payments may be used to prepay and redeem any of said certificates when prepayable in accordance with their terms, or may be pledged to the payment of additional certificates made payable from said fund, or may be used to purchase, construct, repair or improve existing or additional airport facilities, or may be held in reserve for such purposes, or may be used for any other authorized municipal purposes as may be directed by the City Council.

6. The City of Thief River Falls further covenants and agrees with the purchasers and holders from time to time of each and all of the certificates herein authorized as follows:

6.01 That it will complete the shop and hangar described in section 1 hereof, as part of the municipal airport, as soon as may be, and will continue so long as any of said certificates are outstanding, to operate the City's existing municipal airport as a revenue-producing public utility and to sell aviation oil and gasoline at said airport to the public, or will grant to others the right to sell such products for an adequate consideration paid to the City.

6.02 That it will at all times maintain insurance on said shop and hangar as required by Minnesota Statutes 1957, Section 360.00, or will require such insurance to be maintained by the lessee thereof, and will at all times keep persons handling funds of said airport adequately bonded for the faithful performance of their duties and to account for and pay all such moneys to the City, and in the event of loss or default covered by any such insurance or bond, the City will use and apply the proceeds thereof to restore the loss or damage or to pay and redeem certificates in accordance with the provisions of this resolution.

6.03 That it will at all times keep proper and adequate books of account reflecting all receipts and disbursements of money derived from the operation of said airport and from the sale of the certificates herein authorized, which books shall show the segregation and application of the revenues of said airport as required by section 5 of this resolution, and said books shall be open to inspection and copying during any reasonable business hour by the holder of any of the certificates issued hereunder or his agent or attorney.

6.04 That in the event that the moneys on hand at any time in said Airport Building Revenue Certificate Fund are insufficient for the payment of all principal and interest then due on the certificates herein authorized, the available moneys shall first be used to pay the interest then accrued on all such certificates, and the remainder shall be used in payment of the principal of the certificates then matured, in order of their serial numbers, lowest number first; and the City reserves the right and privilege of refunding any matured or callable certificates, by the issuance of refunding revenue certificates in accordance with Minnesota Statutes 1957, Section 360.72, which shall be payable from the Airport Building Revenue Certificate Fund on a parity as to interest with all of the certificates herein authorized, but shall mature subsequent to the last maturity of said certificates remaining outstanding; provided that no bondholder shall be required to accept a refunding revenue bond in exchange for any bond owned by him.

6.05 That it will issue or incur no other obligation or indebtedness payable from the Airport Building Revenue Certificate Fund on a parity with the certificates herein authorized.

6.06 That except as herein expressly authorized no revenue certificate or other obligation will be issued or incurred by the City and made payable from said fund, unless the lien thereof shall expressly be made subordinate to the lien of the certificates herein authorized on moneys in said fund.

6.07 That it will take no action to forfeit or void the lease of said shop and hangar, or which might in any way affect the liability of the School District for payment of rentals thereunder, or which would release the School District from any covenant or provision thereof, and the City and each and all of its officers and agents will do and perform all acts and things necessary to enforce promptly the covenants and provisions of said building lease; and the City will sell aviation gasoline and oil at prices such as to assure so far as possible that the net income derived from the sale of such products, together with the rentals and earnings received from said shop and hangar and from operations carried on therein, will be sufficient to pay principal of and interest on said certificates when due.

6.08 That each and all of the terms and provisions of this resolution, and of the form of certificates herein contained, shall constitute covenants of the City for the security and protection of the holders from time to time of all of said certificates, and will be promptly and fully complied with by the City and the City Council and all of their officers and employees.

6.09 That the holders of 20% or more in aggregate principal amount of the certificates herein authorized which are at any time outstanding may, either at law or in equity, by suit, action, mandamus or other proceedings, protect and enforce the rights of all owners of such certificates, and enforce and compel the performance of all covenants and duties of the City and its officials as herein specified.

7. The City Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to file with the County Auditor of Pennington County a certified copy of this resolution, and to obtain from said Auditor a certificate that said certificates have been duly entered upon his bond register.

8. The City officers and said County Auditor are hereby authorized and directed to prepare and furnish to the purchasers of said certificates, and to the attorneys approving the legality thereof, certified copies of all proceedings and records of the City relating to said bonds, and affidavits and certificates as to all other matters required to show the facts relating to the legality and marketability of said certificates, as the same appear from their books and records or as otherwise known to them; and all such certified copies, certificates and affidavits, including any heretofore furnished, shall be deemed representations of the City as to the correctness of all statements contained therein.

Passed by the City Council this 18 day of August, 1959.

There were average-Choice 1,300 and 1,305 lb. weights at $27.75, while bulk Good and Choice steers cashed at $25.00-27.00. Standard grades brought $21.00-24.00. Cows and bulls: After having slipped downward on last week's close the market on cows was again dull today. Beef cows were the main target of buyer pressure. Vealers and calves: Demand was not particularly aggressive for vealers or slaughter calves today but prices held mainly steady. Standard grade moved at $25.00-28.00. Cull and Utility $20.00-24.00. Good and Choice slaughter calves were taken at $27.00-30.00. Utility and Standard $18.00-26.00 and Culls $15.00-17.00.

Jerry Stevens' Hamm's Beer squad, with a come-from-behind rally in the sixth inning, defeated the Sportsman's Store, 13 to 11, on Tuesday night to clinch the city softball league championship.

The Hamm's, trailing by a 11 to 10 score entering the last half of the sixth inning, scored their tying and winning runs when the Sportsman's hurler, Helmer (Ham) Myhret, issued a walk to Stevens and Glenn Carlson followed with a home run blast into the tennis court in right field. The Hamm's notched an insurance run on Gene Leslie's double and Fred Dahlow's base hit. The Hamm's will close out their 1959 schedule by meeting the Fifty-Niners on Wednesday evening.

The city softball league will continue its 1959 schedule on Thursday, September 3, with the Sportsman's Store playing the V.F.W. Following the conclusion of the season, an All-Stars vs. Hamm's Beer exhibition game will be played.

South Team Wins All-star Football Game Wednesday

Coach Bernie Bierman's South All-Stars, trailing by a 7 to 6 score at the intermission, took control of the game in the second half, scoring two touchdowns, to defeat Bill Bevan's North All-Stars, 18 to 7, in the annual North vs. South All-Star football game played in the Parade stadium in Minneapolis on Wednesday night.

It marked the second straight win for the South All-Stars, as coach Bierman's squad was successful in last season's game, winning by a 31 to 0 score.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Attention: 7th and 8th grade boys

All junior high school boys, those in grades seven and eight, intending to play football this season should obtain their "physical" blanks from the football managers at the high school gymnasium between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m., and 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. on week days.

The boys must have the signature of a parent on these blanks, and the family's doctor must complete the form by filling in the data pertaining to the boys physical condition. These completed blanks should then be returned to Al Adams or Dale Folger at the first meeting of the junior high school football squad.

It is emphasized that a boy will not be permitted to "draw" equipment or participate in the football drills until his "physical" blank has been returned to Adams or Folger.

Dog Days

The office dictionary defines "dog days" as being "a period of from four to six weeks between early July and early September, popularly, the sultry, close part of summer." And that's true enough. But this definition in all correctness could add that it is also that period in the summer when the hearts of the walleyed pike fishermen are filled with woe and frustration.

The fishing reports that have been relayed to us have been discouraging as far as the walleye pike activity is concerned. Even the well-publicized "five-mile reef" in Lake of the Woods has been an erratic producer. And the Morris Point and the Wheeler's Point waters, usually reliable for a short string of walleyes, have been turning in empty stringers. The saugers, too, have apparently moved out of the in-shore waters.

There have been a few walleyes taken out of the deep water lakes to the south and east. White Earth lake, east of Mahnomen, has been providing action to the deep-trolling fishermen. White Earth lake is rated as one of the most beautiful lakes in Minnesota, and with the clearest water, and it requires careful and canny fishing in order to lure the walleyes into striking.

Some of the city's anglers have put aside their walleyed pike fishing tackle and taken their bass fishing equipment in hand. And the bass, especially in the lake area around Trail and Gonvick, have been accomodating.

It's Been a Fine Season

The 1959 city softball schedule will come to an end next week, with the Bridgeman's and the Bums having the honor of closing out the season when they meet on the East Side diamond on Thursday evening, Sept. 3.

The city league championship was decided on Tuesday evening when the Hamm's, by a 13 to 11 score, defeated the Sportsman's Store in an exciting game. The Hamm's have been tested thoroughly the past couple of weeks, and they have proven to be of championship caliber.

A week ago the Bjorkman's scored a 2 to 1 win over the Hamm's and there was some doubt whether or not Jerry Stevens' club could shake off that defeat. But they did, and they bounced back with a pair of wins, and they will conclude their schedule on Wednesday evening against the Fifty-Niners.

Incidentally, that 2 to 1 Bjorkman's win must be entered into the record book as one of the finest softball games of the past several years. Milt Reierson, the Bjorkman's veteran hurler, gave up but one hit, and that was of the "scratch" variety as it was a fly ball to Lowell (Mukkett) Collins. Mukkett came in on the ball like a left halfback reversing his field, and the ball dropped behind him for a run-scoring hit. Big George Janssen nearly matched Reierson's performance, the burly Hamm's snap-baller gave up but one earned run.

It's been a fine season, and it has provided the players and the fans with an abundance of wholesome entertainment. And it's not over yet, for the All-Star game remains to be played.

Stromberg Wins Shortstop Golf Event at Warren

Playing a steady brand of golf, Reid Stromberg won the championship flight honors in the shortstop golf tournament played over the Warren course on Sunday. Stromberg defeated Keith Iverson of Mahnomen, 3 and 2, in the finals. Warren's Jerry Melgaard won the championship flight consolation honors.

Other Thief River Falls golfers winning flight titles were Bob Brown, who won the second flight honors, and Rollin (Ronnie) Solheim, who won the fourth flight title.

Forty-six golfers participated in the tournament.

Men to Hold City Golf Title Tourney Sunday

Defending champion John Moum will be an entrant on Sunday, August 30, when the golf club conducts its annual men's city golf championship tournament.

Championship flight pairings will be arranged following the posting of qualifying scores. Golfers intending to compete in the championship flight must play an eighteen-hole qualifying round, and the qualifying scores must be reported to the tournament chairman not later than 8:00 p.m. on Saturday.

Playing in the championship flight, and in the other flights, will be on a match play basis. The championship flight finals will be an eighteen-hole match play affair, with the preliminary matches being nine-hole matches.

The tournament will be preceeded by a smorgasbord and Calcutta dinner on Saturday evening.

Motorists Urged to Be Careful Labor Day

At six in the afternoon on Friday, September 4, the madness begins — a frantic race to have fun during summer's final holiday.

At 6 p.m. Friday, the Labor Day holiday will get under way officially; but normalcy won't return before midnight Monday, September 7.

During these 78 hours of hustle, bustle, hurry and flurry, somewhere near four hundred persons will die in traffic accidents, the Minnesota Safety estimates according to national trends.

About twelve thousand motorists and pedestrians will suffer disabling injuries. Thousands of cars will be wrecked or badly damaged. And a lot of people will be seriously inconvenienced by traffic accidents.

Drownings will take about 100 lives.

The starting gun will find the nation's three and a half million miles of streets and highways clogged with a seemingly endless swarm of autos — all filled with folks determined to do the holiday up in fine style.

What will some of them be doing?

They'll try to drive too great a distance in too little time. They'll get irritated at other drivers. They'll make things especially tough for themselves by combining drinking and driving.

And they'll drive too fast for conditions.

Those who do reach their destinations will let their guards down when active in those delightful holiday pursuits — swimming for example. Swimmers will go into the water alone. They'll dive right in, even in cold or unfamiliar waters. They'll swim till exhausted, swim after dark or in dangerous areas.

To help put an end to this annual accident binge, with its resultant hangover of tragedy, labor and safety have united in a national and state-wide camtional health and community paign. The safety and occupaservice committees of AFL-CIO, the United Mine Workers, the Teamsters, Union Women's Auxiliaries, and the Labor Conference of the National Safety Council have united in a nation-wide effort to free Labor Day from the misery and suffering resulting from accidents.

The goal — to drastically cut traffic accidents and drownings, the main booby traps for holidayers.

Public Auction of Confiscated Guns in St. Paul Sept. 12

A public auction sale of confiscated firearms and fishing equipment, seized by game wardens for game and fish law violations, will be held Saturday, September 12 starting at 10 a.m. in the 4-H club building at the Minnesota state fair grounds on the second floor.

More than 200 items will be offered to the highest bidders consisting of shotguns, sporting rifles, and a variety of fishing tackle. Included in the firearms are some odd foreign pieces and antiques. Theo. Fischbach, supervisor of confiscations is in charge of the sale and David H. Levine, popular St. Paul auctioneer, will officiate. All sales will be for cash. No checks or money orders will be accepted.

16,000 Tons Litter on State Highways Collected in 6 Mo.

State Spent More Than $181,000 to Clean up Highways During 1958

Almost 16,000 tons of litter were picked up by Minnesota highway department maintenance crews on the state's highways during the first six months of this year, according to a report issued today by the department.

"Although this is a staggering amount of litter," said Commissioner L. P. Zimmerman, "it does represent a slight reduction as compared with previous year pickups. I hope that it is an encouraging sign that the litterbug the modern-day blight of the nation, may be relenting in Minnesota."

According to Zimmerman, it costs the state more than $181,000 to clean up the state's 11,000 miles of highway last year. This included costs for 68,066 man hours of labor and for equipment costs involved in removing 6,313 truck loads of bottles, cans, paper plates, cartons and other refuse left behind by motorists in their travels.

In comparison, this year 62,802 man hours were devoted to this cleanup at a cost of just over $170,000, for a decrease of some $10,000.

"Although this is only a slight monetary reduction," Zimmerman said, "it appears somewhat larger when we consider that there has been a considerable increase in travel on Minnesota's highways. I am hopeful that the extension program Minnesota and other states have been waging against the littering of highways is beginning to pay off and that motorists are beginning to take pride in the cleanliness of our roadsides."

The department has placed almost 900 trash barrels at convenient locations on the trunk highway system and he encouraged their use by motorists. Another deterring factor, he indicated, was the levying of rather substantial fines on violators of the anti-littering law.

"As we approach the beautiful autumn season in Minnesota," he concluded, "I hope that every motorist will make just a little extra effort to not only 'Keep Minnesota Beautiful', but also to 'Keep Minnesota Marvelous'."

WILDLIFE in Minnesota

DIRECTOR OF GAME & FISH

Guest writer for this week's column is Jim Lee, Minnesota Game & Fish Division.

"I tell you John, there is something in our chimney. I was dusting near the fireplace today and I heard a terrible commotion."

"Nonsense Mary, it was probably just the wind rattling the damper."

"All the same, I wish you would take a look."

Resignedly, John walked over to the fireplace, pulled on the lever and opened the damper. When the confusion finally ceased, John sat on the floor clutching a most bedraggled and slightly featherless duck. The living room was in such a state that Mary was close to tears.

This same scene is reported many times every year in areas where America's most beautiful duck, the Wood duck, sets up housekeeping. Mistaking the chimney flu for a good nesting site, Mrs. Woodie soon finds herself in trouble.

Man has made it increasingly difficult for woodies to find nesting sites. Not only does he destroy many beaver flowages in wooded areas where the hollow dead trees create ideal homes for young woodies, but he removes many of the large, hollow trees in the vicinity of lakes and streams. Many states have gone into a large scale statewide program of putting up nest boxes to offset the housing shortage. The results have been both good and bad. The artificial nest boxes are readily used by the home-seeking woodies and local populations of breeding birds have been increased. On the other hand, the wood ducks No. 1 enemy, the wily raccoon, has discovered what these boxes often contain. Not only is "monkey mitts" fond of eggs, but he has no compunctions about including the incubating hen in his diet. Various "anti-'coon" devices have been installed on nesting boxes to discourage these masked marauders of the marsh.

The march to water is not without dangers as predation and straggling take their toll. Even when on the bosom of a nearby pond or lake, the downy ducklings appeal to pike, snapping turtles, weasels and even bullfrogs have been known to feast on the tiny woodies.

The existence of the woodie is precarious. Only a fraction survive the period from egg to adulthood. When they are adult and garbed in their gaudy plumage, man becomes their greatest enemy. Studies by Minnesota biologists, and those of other states reveal that wood ducks have a strong homing instinct. Females, banded while incubating eggs in a nest box one year, have been found in the same box the following year. Adults and their progeny will return to the same pond or marsh year after year. Because of this, woodies are more susceptible to hunting than most waterfowl species. Once a good wood duck site is located, a persistent hunter can virtually wipe out the resident families. This often can and does result in an area devoid of woodies for years to come, until a newcomer discovers it.

Wood duck populations have been declining in the Mississippi Flyway and for a number of years now Minnesota has fully protected this colorful bird. Admittedly, here is a great toll of them as they fly past the gauntlet of guns lining their route to the wintering grounds. But — and this is important — the chance that an entire family or group of families from an area will be destroyed is considerably lessened as they mingle with other ducks from other areas on their southward flight.

Postoffice Problems

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield is asking the public to assist department officials in their efforts to reduce the volume of obscene material that is distributed through the mail. The "dirt merchants" are offering their wares to upwards of a million minors a year and the mails are being used as a vehicle for solicitation and delivery of filthy materials in a volume that is estimated to add up to a sales total of half a billion dollars annually.

These solicitations are being made in the home and parents are urged to check material that may come under this classification. Mailings that justify suspicion should be turned over to local postoffice officials, who will direct it to the proper authorities. Then prosecution can be started.

This is a reasonable request and good parents will of course cooperate.

We are not impressed, however, with the argument by department officials that this is a problem they are powerless to cope with on their own initiative. The privacy of first class mail must be respected, we agree, but with hundreds of inspectors on the payroll we are sure the department would be able to follow through on any questionable mailing and discover at the delivery-end of its service whether or not the contents of a letter were a type of solicitation that deserved a more thorough investigation.

And there is nothing to keep the department from securing the cooperation of individuals who would be willing to get their names on the sucker lists and forward the letters of solicitation to the proper authority. The actual purchase of the filth for prosecution purposes would be a simple procedure.

We are a little unenthusiastic about Mr. Summerfield's appeal because we have not been favorably impressed by the department's enforcement of the laws prohibiting the use of the mails for lottery purposes. Newspapers that are delivered by mail for instance, may not refer to lotteries or permit any space to be used for the promotion of lotteries. The regulations are clear and all publishers understand them. The penalty for a violation could be severe. But there are many violations, mainly because the department makes no attempt to enforce these regulations.

If there is a complaint the department will act. Several years ago the department informed us that we were in violation because a merchant had given away a basket of groceries in a drawing that could be entered by anyone who had made a purchase. It was pointed out to us that this was serious business and that if were caught at this sort of thing again we probably would be fined a thousand dollars and have our mailing permit revoked.

That unpleasant incident occurred before Mr. Summerfield became postmaster general but we have not forgotten it, and we do not like the idea of having our mailing privilege taken from us.

The regulations regarding lotteries and newspapers are now generally disregarded. There are many violations. Postoffice officials are aware of this. If there is a complaint they will act. If there is no complaint they will look the other way.

This does not enhance our respect for the postal service as it is presently administered. It is our opinion that the present regulations governing lottery publicity in newspapers are needlessly severe. This problem should be met, however, by amending the regulations and not by ignoring them.

And there should be uniformity in regulations, as they apply to all agencies of communication that are controlled by the federal government. The same rules should apply to all news and advertising, whether it is delivered over the air waves or on the ground by Uncle Sam's mail carriers.

But getting back to the appeal for popular support for the department's efforts to deny to filth merchants the use of the mails, this request deserves the cooperation of all good citizens.

Featherbedding

In the background, but not far in the background, of the issues that are dividing labor and management in the steel industry, are a large number of rules governing working conditions and employee practices that are referred to under the general term of featherbedding. Those who speak for the industry have said they would make some wage concessions providing labor would consent to reasonable changes in these rules.

Labor generally takes the position that there is no featherbedding; that rules have been established in previous settlements and are no longer a matter of dispute.

The steel strike probably would have been settled by now if these demands for rules changes by management had not been brought into the picture. Observers seem to be agreed that this question will be the really important issue in all of the major strikes that now are looked upon as inevitable.

These problems generally are the result of improved mechanization and automation, resulting in a reduction in the size of the work force. One of the expected strikes will be in the packing industry. An Iowa packing plant problem is cited by management as an example of the issues involved. As a result of a modernization program in a sheep slaughtering department, management proposed to reduce the size of the crew from 27 to 19 men. The Union filed a grievance complaint. The dispute has not been settled and the full crew is still drawing pay.

The conflict of interests in a situation of this kind is easy to understand. The purpose of mechanization is to increase the man-hour productivity of labor. Improved mechanization is justified mainly as it reduces production costs. It results in fewer workers being required to do a job, and in some instances that means unemployment and hardship. Over a longer period of time however it means a higher average standard of living for all of us.

In view of the fact that these "featherbedding" practices are largely the result of improved mechanization, which, we all will agree, should be encouraged, it would seem that the attendant problems should be approached with greater emphasis on adjustments being spread over longer periods of time, thus cushioning the shock of change for those adversely affected.

It is reasonable to assume that management is not always right in its charges of featherbedding. But that featherbedding does exist in many industries cannot be denied. And we have featherbedding at the management levels of industry. Featherbedding is common in government at all levels, and in government as in industry, the larger the organization the more featherbedding there is likely to be.

The best way to assure ourselves of higher standards of living is to encourage efficiency. Any practice that adds needlessly to costs, either in government or in industry, saps the strength of our economy, and robs all of us of what is justly ours.

Let's not use the word featherbedding carelessly. Those of us who sit on the sidelines can easily be mistaken about operations we do not understand. But wherever featherbedding does exist, and can clearly be identified as such, it should be rooted out and destroyed as we would destroy an evil weed.

Congratulations Minnesota

George Rossman's Herald-Review of Grand Rapids, a paper mill town, derives satisfaction from a paper mill expansion at Brainerd, where the Northwest Paper Co. recently expanded its plant with the installation of another paper making machine. The machine, which cost $10 million, represents "the largest single expansion in the papermaking industry in Minnesota during the last 20 years," according to the Herald-Tribune.

This addition will "boost productive capacity of the paper company by approximately 40 per cent," nearly doubling the output of the five old machines. It will boost employment at the plant by about 350 men and women.

All of which is good not only for Brainerd but for all of Northern Minnesota, the Herald-Tribune thinks, stating that,

> It is encouraging to those who live in the forested areas of Northern Minnesota to observe such growth. The trend toward steady expansion, if it can be continued, means more opportunities for employment in the woods and communities of the area. Large investments are a tangible evidence of faith in the resources and the people of a region where the outlook was not so encouraging less than a quarter-century ago.
> The mill expansion at Brainerd is good for all of us. It will provide more employment for Minnesota workers. It will expand the market for Minnesota forest products. Through taxes it will contribute toward the support of statewide as well as local government activities. And if it is well managed and operated profitably, it will provide the capital accumulations that will make further expansion possible at some future time. Congratulations Minnesota.

Building Men

(Waseca Herald)

"The chessboard is a symbol of life—of all life," said Emmanuel Lasker, world chess champion for 21 years. "The essence of life is struggle. Take struggle out of chess, or out of life, and what is left?"

Parents strive to provide for their children and they sincerely believe that they are doing something for them. They are—they are taking the struggle for a livelihood out of the lives of their children. They could do them no greater harm if they tried.

Now the politicians have joined the parents. Eliminate struggle, they preach, give everyone security, forget building men and women, provide for them. How? Take it away from the fellow who is willing to struggle.

Confusion in P.P. Tax Repeal

(Art Suel in New Prague Times)

Legislation enacted at the recent special session of the state legislature enabling county boards to abolish the personal property tax on household goods may be headed for a snafu somewhat similar to the unlamented daylight saving mix-up.

State tax officials are trying to clear up the confusion existing in at least 16 situations where school districts, cities, villages or townships lie in more than one county.

The City of New Prague is situated in two counties and the City of St. Cloud in three counties, to cite two instances.

The New Prague school district includes territory in three counties, Scott, LeSueur and Rice. Scott county has repealed the household goods levy.

As it has been explained, correctly we assume, if one county repeals the household goods tax, all residents of the municipality in another county or counties would be exempt from the tax for municipal purposes, but, unless the other county board or boards took similar action citizens in the other county or counties would have to pay a household goods tax for county purposes.

Now, you take it from there and explain it further to us. We're getting more and more confused by the minute.

'60 Tree Applications Are Due in September

Raymond Clement, forester in charge of nurseries and tree planting, state division of forestry, announced today that the annual distribution of 7,000 application forms for seedling trees is underway and the forms can be secured after September 1 from forestry field offices, soil conservation offices, county agents, soil bank and other agricultural offices.

Landowners and farmers wishing to plant trees next spring should secure application blanks immediately to be assured of stock, Clement warned. Although the amount available this year is nearly 25,000,000, they will be sold according to receipt of the applications and some kinds will be sold out within a few days.

More than 13 million red (Norway) pine, 3 million Jack pine, 1 million white pine and 4 million spruce will be ready for distribution next spring. Limited amounts of American elm, black walnut, and some other broadleaved trees will be sold.

In addition to the trees for planting on private lands, several million will be planted on state forests, state parks, highway rights-of-way, school forests and grounds, state institutions and other public lands.

Tree planting stock is sold at $10 per thousand for conifers and $8 per thousand for broadleaf trees. They will be dug and shipped as soon as soil conditions in the three state nurseries and in the fields make planting possible.

More information and the necessary application forms may be secured from the offices named above and the Division of Forestry, State Office Building, St. Paul, Minnesota.

Red Lake Indian Youth Advised on Higher Education

State Labor Unions Take Lead in Project Designed to Show Opportunities

Organized labor will again sponsor a program designed to stimulate greater interest in education among Indian youth by exposing them to the opportunities afforded them by higher education.

The first project of this kind was launched last year by the labor unions of this state with the cooperation of the Governor's Human Rights Commission and the American Indian Student Council of the Twin Cities.

Nineteen senior students from the Red Lake Indian Reservation spent a 3 day week end of orientation and observation in the Twin Cities. The program included tours of the University of Minnesota, Macalester, Hamline, St. Thomas and St. Catherines colleges.

The girls visited a beauty school, hospitals and business colleges. The boys visited the Dunwoody Vocational Institute, an electronics school and several industrial and business firms. The students had expressed in advance various vocational interests such as nursing, architecture, aeronautical engineering, clerical office work, beautician's work and welding.

While in the cities the Indian students talked with representatives of the American Indian Students Council and were told about the scholarships available to Indians through the state and federal governments. A theatre party and a big ten football game was part of the entertainment.

The students were brought by bus from Red Lake, Redby and Ponemah and were housed on the University of Minnesota farm campus. Transportation, entertainment, and all food expense, was financed by state labor unions.

With a view toward making the project an annual undertaking by organized labor, a committee has been set up called "Labor's Committee for Minnesota Indian Youth." They will work in co-operation with the Governor's human rights commission.

Social Drinker Is Highway Menace

The over-confident social drinker is a greater menace behind the wheel of a car than the habitual drunk, according to E. Ray Cary, president of the Minnesota AAA.

"The 'drunk' driver often enjoys a sort of built-in protection when he drives his car weavingly down the street," Cory said. "It is generally not too difficult for other drivers and pedestrians to note his condition and avoid him. But this isn't always the case.

"Much more dangerous is the driver who returns from a party or other social affair with two or three drinks under his belt. He has just enough alcohol in his system to release inhibitions, often giving him the necessary daring to take chances in traffic. At the same time, he acquires an exaggerated opinion of his driving ability and generally lacks the necessary physical and psychological qualifications to drive safely."

The AAA official added that more than 20 per cent of the drivers killed in traffic accidents had been drinking in some degree. He quoted a study which showed that drinking drivers were involved in 130,143 accidents of all types during a recent year.

Slow Down and Live Program Nears End

Campaign Has Been Big Success in Minnesota

The national Slow Down and Live program, which began on Memorial Day, has but a short period of life ahead, Harry A. Sieben, state highway safety director, reminded motorists today.

Using the theme "Can You Stop In Time" the campaign conducted in all of the United States Canada, emphasizes the need for driving at that speed judged to be the safest for the conditions existing at the time. It is sponsored by the International Association of State and Provincial Safety Coordinators of which Sieben is Minnesota's representative.

"This summer we have had an outstanding record in the reduction of deaths in traffic accidents," Sieben pointed out. "Since Memorial Day we have seen a slow but steady drop in the fatalities reported to the department. In fact, the latest report from the National Safety Council shows that Minnesota has the second highest percentage of decrease in the nation. Only Louisiana had a better figure.

"That is why we urge everyone to Slow Down and Live so that you Can Stop in Time to avoid a traffic accident. This safety measure, which receives most of its emphasis during the summer vacation period, must be followed every day of our lives if we wish to continue to reduce the tragedy on our highways."

The program ends at midnight, Labor Day, September 7.

Wool Sewing Festival Slated for Next Week

Monday begins "Make It Yourself With Wool" week.

In a statement issued today, Governor Orville L. Freeman call attention to the benefits of sewing with wool and to encourage girls to enter the Minnesota "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest.

Wool has no equal in the production of many types of garments, the governor said, asking people of the state "to join in this effort to encourage greater use and appreciation of wool."

Stressing the importance of the wool growing industry to the Minnesota economy, the governor called upon civic leaders, educators and retailers to take part in the observance of "Make It Yourself With Wool Week."

"Wool Sewing Festivals" planned for next week by many retailers will tie in with the contest, which is the largest educational home sewing event in the country. Approved by the National Association of Secondary School Principals, the contest provides incentive for many young girls to learn home sewing techniques while at the same time discovering how easy it is to sew with wool.

The contest is open to girls between the ages of 14 and 22. To qualify, girls may submit either a wool dress, suit or coat which they have made themselves. Valuable awards include scholarships, sewing machines, and for two grand prize winners a trip to the fashion capitals of Europe.

In Minnesota the "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest is under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Harrington, c-o Minnesota Wool Growers assn., 101 27th Avenue S. E., Minneapolis 14. Girls may write to her for information. Mrs. Frank Heinze is Pennington county director.

DADDY! look at the pencil!

It was his first trip to Washington. He was only six. Everything had to be analyzed by the standards of a first-grader!

Tell him it's the Washington Monument . . . he still thinks of it as "The Pencil." Time for his parents to learn a lesson:

Suppose he had never seen a pencil. What would it have meant to him then? Probably nothing!

A child needs standards by which to measure all he encounters. The standards may be simple—but he uses them. With them he associates the things he wants to remember.

The Church provides your child with simple religious standards. He still needs your help to grasp the truth he must master. But the standards you and he learn at Church are the foundation of his character . . . the inspiration of your own. In his terms: the pencil with which tomorrow is written.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Grain Har Resumed Fair Weat

Estimate Half of Pennington Co. Crop Has Been Harvested

The month of August, coming to an end today, was marked by frequent showers which caused material delays in harvesting operations, with the result, according to County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk, that approximately half the grain fields of Pennington county remain to be threshed.

Much of the grain has been lying in swaths for as long as four weeks in some cases, and the quality of the grain has deteriorated with some sprouting being reported due to the hot and humid weather.

The county last Thursday received rains ranging from three-quarters of an inch to two inches in various localities, followed by .07 inch recorded in this city Saturday morning. However, Saturday was a good drying day, and some combines went into operation in the afternoon. With ideal weather Sunday and again today, combining is again general throughout the county.

William Henderson, Marshall county agent, estimated Saturday that, with frequent rains throughout the county during August, not more than 30 to 40 per cent of the Marshall grain crop had been harvested. Yields, he stated, have been fairly good, but the rain has damaged the quality of the grain.

The Warren area has set a near record this season with 30 inches of precipitation, while in Vega township, in the western part of the county along the Red River, 37 inches was recorded.

Teachers Workshop Opens at High School Wednesday Morning

Following their summer vacation, members of the faculty of the Thief River Falls public schools, numbering more than 100, will assemble Wednesday morning, September 2, at Lincoln high school for a three-day teachers workshop, Supt. Irwin T. Mickelson stated today.

At the opening session the teachers will receive Mantoux tuberculin tests, in accordance with the provisions of a law enacted by the 1959 legislature.

Students entering the ninth grade will attend an orientation session in the Lincoln auditorium Thursday afternoon, September 3, from 2:30 to 4 o'clock.

Pupils who will be entering the seventh grade this fall should report at Lincoln high school Friday morning, September 4, at 10 o'clock for a two-hour orientation period during which pupils will be familiarized with the course of study and will make a tour of the school building. Transportation to the session must be arranged by the pupils or their parents, since the school buses will not yet be in operation.

To Discuss Tax on Household Goods

Possible Elimination Is Topic Here Tuesday

In an effort to promote concerted action for or against the proposal to eliminate the personal property tax on household goods, which was made optional with the counties by the state legislature at its 1959 session, county board members, auditors, treasurers and assessors from a half-dozen Northwestern Minnesota counties have been invited to share in a discussion of the problem at a meeting in the court house in Thief River Falls Tuesday afternoon, September 1, at 1:30.

County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr, who is handling local arrangements for the meeting, pointed out that if the counties should not agree on a course of action, complications would result due to the fact that some school districts are included in more than one county.

Fifty-three rams of four breeds have been consigned to the purebred ram sale to be held at Thief River Falls on Monday, September 14. Breeds in which rams are consigned are Hampshire, Columbia, Shropshire and Suffolks.

The rams will be judged the morning of the 14th and sold at 1 p.m.

The sale this year will be held in the new livestock pavilion at the fair grounds. The date of the sale has been shifted from early October to September 14 to permit earlier purchase of rams for use in flocks where earlier lambing is practiced.

The ram sale has been instrumental in dispersing good breeding stock through Northwestern Minnesota and raising the quality of the sheep through the area because of the careful selection of the animals consigned. Judges at this sale also cull out any animal not meeting the high standards set for the sale by the directors.

This year's sale is the eleventh annual purebred ram sale sponsored by the breeders of Northwestern Minnesota.

Four New Varieties Are Added to List Available at Pennington ASC Office

There will be 37 wheat varieties classed as "undesirable" under the 1960 wheat price-support program, according to the Pennington county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. These are classed as undesirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities. The price-support rate for the varieties will be discounted 20 cents per bushel from the regular 1960 crop rate.

This discount program has been in effect each year, beginning with the 1956 wheat crop, in order to discourage the production of such varieties and lessen the possibility of U.S. wheat of inferior quality finding it's way into domestic and export channels.

The list of undesirable varieties for 1960 includes the same varieties so designated under the 1959 wheat price-support program, as well as four additional varieties. The four new ones are Wasatch, Cache and Yogo of the hard red winter class and C. T. 231 of the hard red spring class.

Bill Svendsgaaard Reports Again on Michigan Camp

Following is the second report from Bill Svendsgaard, Goodridge 4-H club member, telling of his experiences at Camp Miniwanca in Michigan. He was awarded the trip because of his outstanding record in 4-H work.

The second and final week got underway again with the traditional daily dip in cool Lake Michigan at 6:30 a.m.

Previously, I have reported many events and happenings to you, but after experiencing one week of camping and sharing what it offers, I can tell every 4-H club member and other interested readers—what really is Camp Miniwanca?

The complete title of the organization is The American Youth Foundation Christian Leadership Training Camp. Campers from every religious denomination of every state, Canada, and many foreign countries and many youth organizations in the United States select representatives to attend. Camp Miniwanca is recognized as the most outstanding youth leadership training camp in America and the Founder Camps, as they are called, are now in their 46th season.

This camp is different. It is a Christian leadership training camp. This does not mean it is trying to train young people for professional Christian work. It does mean that America, always called a Christian nation, needs young men and women of leadership capacity who will be interested in exemplifying their Christianity in their chosen life work, whatever it may be, and in serving their community, state, and nation as Christian leaders.

Camp Miniwanca's principles are based on the fourfold development, physically, mentally, socially and religiously. They train us physically through softball, volleyball, swimming contests, track meets, exercises, climbing steep sand dunes, tennis, ping pong, and we even had a rodeo. They train us mentally through five classes daily, all focused on leadership, socially by visiting with boys using every dialect of the United States and through recreational games and group singing, and religiously through daily meditation, vespers and hymn sings.

Yesterday I climbed Old Baldy with some Southern friends. This is the largest sand dune along Lake Michigan and from its summit, one can see for many miles around. One side slopes gradually and the other side is a steep drop off. It took us approximately 30 minutes to climb the gradual slope and 30 seconds to tumble town the drop off, through many feet of puverized sand.

Tonight all 500 campers and leaders will cook supper out on the beach. The evening sunset reflecting on the glossy waters is a majestic beauty one cannot describe. I leave this to my colored slides I will bring back to show friends.

Last night there was Low Council, talent show by the campers. One boy from Alabama played "Dixie" on his harmonica and all our Southern friends stood up and cheered throughout the presentation that I hardly heard a note from his instrument. Later, a boy from an northern state played "Yankee Doodle" and we then stood up for our rights.

The dinner bell is about to ring out over the cabins, so I will close this report, summarizing my complete experience in my next review.

Bill Svendsgaard, Minnesota 4-H Representative

Mrs. Beth Pound, Barbara Kagg Attend Conference on 'U' M. St. Paul Campus

"Home Economics will and should be important in our high school curriculums as long as the basic institutions of our society are the home, church and school," a Minnesota educator told Minnesota high school home economics teachers at their annual conference in St. Paul last week.

Mrs. Beth Pound and Barbara Kabb, home economics instructors in Lincoln high school, were two of 500 high school home economics teachers from all over the state to attend the annual conference on the University of Minnesota's St. Paul campus Aug. 24-28. The meeting was sponsored by the Minnesota State Department of Education and the University of Minnesota.

Speaking to the group on the importance of home economics was L. M. Frey, superintendent of schools, Marshall. He pointed out that home economics trains future homemakers in child development, family relationship and economics of the household, thus preparing them better to meet the needs of our times."

Home economics teachers have a unique contribution to make through their classes in family living, Francis C. Gamelin, assistant superintedent of schools, Robbinsdale, told the group.

Soil Test Campaign to Open in Minnesota

"Minnesota's Fall Soil Roundup"—a campaign to promote fall soil testing—will be launched in the state in early September.

University of Minnesota soils men, county agents, the fertilizer industry and farmers themselves are cooperating to make the campaign a success.

According to Lowell Hanson, University extension soils specialist, the campaign has two main purposes: first, to get more farmers to have their soil tested, and, second, to get more test samples taken in the fall.

THE FARMER magazine, St. Paul, will donate a trophy to be presented to the county with the best fall soil testing record.

In the past, most testing has been done in early spring—often too late to get the results back before planting time.

Hanson says there is a multitude of evidence that fertilizing according to soil test pays off. Every dollar spent for fertilizer can return $2 or $3 in increased profits—but only if applied wisely.

Soils men say no one is a good enough guesser to get the most from fertilizer without testing. For example, a commonly used fertilizer nowadays is one that has equal amounts of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. Yet, soil in a particular field might be running low on one nutrient and have plenty of the other two. In that case, the "complete" fertilizer would be the wrong choice. Without a test, though, a farmer might not know which nutrient is most needed and actually could waste fertilizer as a result.

By fall sampling, Hanson adds, a farmer gets his results back from the University testing laboratory in plenty of time to plan for 1960 cropping. Getting test results early also makes is possible to buy fertilizer sooner—and sometimes at savings. Some fertilizing can be done this fall or winter.

County agents have all the necessary information and sample boxes needed for sampling soil. Farmers are urged to take advantage of this service now.

Industrial Clinic Slated in New Ulm September 17-18

Fourth Annual Clinic to Study Ways of Bringing New Industries to State

The fourth annual Industrial Development Clinic, September 17 and 18, sponsored by the New Ulm Chamber of Commerce and the Minnesota department of business development will be devoted, in large part, to an experience meeting type of program.

It is assumed that none of the several hundred delegates from the many communities which will be represented need to be told why they should broaden their base of employment and investment. They will, it is felt, be much more interested in learning the how, rather than the why, of industrial growth.

To that end the program planned for the New Ulm conference will provide a series of actual situations, in typical Minnesota communities, large and small, where industry has been both sought and won. The speakers have been selected to show the part which can and has been applied by the local newspaper editor, the banker, the lawyer, the educator and the like in securing payrolls for their home town.

New Ulm is providing a good sample in itself as it has secured several substantial plants through intelligent pursuit of them. As hosts they are also providing the meals, meeting places, and recreation for all who wish to come for a registration fee of only $7.50.

At the conclusion of the conclave those in attendance will be able to return to their home towns fortified with the knowledge of the steps to be taken to build their home town business, and carry the assurance they can themselves do what the other fellow has already done.

Bemidji College Enrollment Is up

450 New Freshmen Are Expected for Fall Term

A record increase in new student enrollment is in prospect for Bemidji State college when its doors open for fall quarter registration September 8, according to D. G. Stubbins, BSC field service director.

He said applications for admission were running 55 percent higher than a year ago and that student applications alone are not an accurate forcast of enrollment there is other evidence indicating the college may have upwards of 450 new freshmen and 150 new transfer students. Applications from students transferring from other colleges are twice as numerous as last year.

Stubbins said dormitories will open the afternoon of Monday, September 7th, so students can get their living quarters arranged before the beginning of registration the following morning. Classwork begins Monday, September 14.

Ten new faculty members will bring the BSC teaching staff to a total of 85 this fall and the opening of a new women's dormitory in time for the fall term is expected to place the college in a favored position to absorb the new student increase.

Children's Home Group to Dedicate Adoption Center

Non-sectarian Agency to Dedicate Building in St. Paul Sept. 12th

Adoptive parents of children placed by the Children's Home Society of Minnesota will gather on Saturday, September 12, to take part in the formal dedication of their new building just completed at Commonwealth and Como Avenues in St. Paul. Ceremonies will also mark the 70th Anniversary of the agency. More than a thousand are expected to attend, including parents, their adopted children and friends of the Society whose work and generous contributions have made posible this new center for Minnesota's only private, non-sectarian adoption agency.

Dedication ceremonies will begin promptly at 3 p.m. An address of welcome will be given by Governor Freeman. The cornerstone, containing treasured documents of the Society since its inception in 1889, and the names of those who contributed to the building fund, will be laid at this time. The children, selected by drawing of names, will then cut the ribbon, officially opening the new adoption center.

Since its beginning in 1889, the Children's Home Society has placed more than 8,100 children in adoptive homes. As its work expanded throughout the state, with the need for adoption service more than doubling in the past 20 years, present facilities became increasingly inadequate. More and more requests to take children for adoption had to be turned down because of an insufficient staff and facilities.

In view of these facts, the new adoption center marks a tremendous stride forward. It means that in years to come more children will find the security and happiness of adoptive homes, that new and expanded facilities will speed up the process of child placement and will provide an adoption center of which our state can be proud.

Labor Day Holiday Dates Back to 1882

Congress Made Occasion National Holiday in 1894

Labor Day can be variously defined as: the end of summer; the beginning of the school year; a national traffic jam; or simply an excuse for a long weekend away from the office.

But the founder of the holiday, Peter J. McGuire, conceived it as a tribute to "the industrial spirit, the great vital force of every nation."

In 1882, McGuire—a leader in the Knights of Labor—proposed that a day be set aside to honor the working man. He suggested the first Monday in September, since it came almost midway between Independence Day and Thanksgiving Day.

The Central Labor Union of New York accepted his proposal and held the first Labor Day celebration on September 5th. As McGuire had suggested, the union paraded through the streets of Manhattan, to show the strength and spirit of trade and labor organizations.

Shortly after, the Knights of Labor voted for an annual celebration. In 1884, the Federation of Organized Trades and Labor Unions of the United States and Canada—predecessor of the American Federation of Labor—voted to make the celebration national.

The first state to make Labor Day a legal holiday was Oregon, in 1877, according to The World Book Encyclopedia. The legislatures of Colorado, Massachusetts, New Jersey and New York quickly followed suit and, in 1894, Congress made Labor Day a national holiday.

Labor Day now ranks with Independence Day, Washington's birthday and Thanksgiving Day as the most generally celebrated holidays in the U. S.

New Virus Disease Is Found on Flax

Flax 'Crinkle' Said to Affect All Varieties

The new disease was described Friday by a pair of University of Minnesota plant pathologists, at the annual meeting of the American Phytopathological Society at University Park, Penna.

Crinkle, so-called because of the effect it has on flax leaves, was first noted at the University's St. Paul campus in 1956. The next year, research men found it in several fields in Minnesota, North and South Dakota. A fifth of the plants were infected in some fields, and some University test plots in 1957 had nearly two-thirds of the plants infected.

B. A. Fredriksen and R. W. Goth, now studying the virus, said all commercial varieties of flax so far tested are susceptible to it. They said farmers can check for it by examining the leaves on the main stem or tillers of the flax plant. The disease causes irregular intervals, or "crinkles," along the lateral veins of the leaves. It also results in lower seed yields.

Crinkle virus is spread by the six-spotted leafhopper, the same insect that spreads aster yellows, another flax disease.

Best approach to the problem, according to the plant pathologists, will probably be development of new flax varieties resistant to the disease.

Stan Larson, a former city champion and a tournament-wise golfing veteran turned back the challenge of young Rollin (Ron) Solheim in the finals of the men' golf tournament at the local club on Sunday. In an eighteen-hole finals match, Larson, dropping a twenty-foot putt on the eighteenth hole for a birdie four, defeated Solheim by a 1-up margin.

The two golfers treated the gallery of golf fans to evenly-contested match, with neither golfer being able to mark up a lead of more than one-up during the two rounds of play. During the first nine, Stan Larson scored a birdie three on the second hole to gain a one-up lead, and he maintained that margin until the eighth hole, when Solheim notched a par three for a win. The duo halved the ninth hole to end the first round all square.

Larson won the tenth hole with a bogey when Solheim found a sand trap, and the veteran clung stubbornly to that lead until the fifteenth hole (the sixth). On this hole, Solheim executed a fine chip and run, and then holed a four-foot putt for a birdie and evened the match. Solheim had an opportunity to take the lead on the sixteenth hole (number seven) when Larson's tee shot found the rough to the left of the fairway, and his second failed to get out. Stan was on the green with his third shot, but thirty feet short of the pin. Solheim, who made a fine recovery out of the rough after pushing his tee shot, was ten feet off the green with his second. Ronnie's chip shot was quite feeble, and he halved the hole with a bogey five.

On the final hole, Larson was on the green in three while Solheim was twenty feet short of the green. Solheim chipped to within two feet of the pin, only to have Larson drill his twenty-foot putt into the cup for a win and the championship.

In first round play in the championship flight, Larry Perkins defeated Phil LeGault; Stan Larson defeated Bill Watzke; Reid Stromberg defeated Jon Larson; and Solheim, in an extra-hole match, defeated Rudy Mehlhoff. The first round matches, and the semi-finals matches, were nine-hole matches.

In the championship flight consolation play, Jon Larson, shooting a fine brand of golf, defeated Bill Watzke, three and two, for the consolation honors. In the first round play, Jon Larson defeated Mehlhoff, in an extra hole match, and Watzke sidelined LeGault.

30 Candidates Trying for Berths on Nordic's 8-man Football Team

Thirty candidates for the 1959 Newfolden Nordics eight-man football team have drawn equipment and reported for practice this past week in answer to coach Jack Junker's call. This is the largest squad that has ever turned out for football at Newfolden.

The squad has elected three seniors as tri-captains for the coming season—Lowell Halvorson, Darrell Bakke, and Wayne Bjornrud, all lettermen. Other returning lettermen are: Wendell Hagenback, Rod Grandstrand, Wayne Dahl, seniors; David Haug, Howard Davis, Ernest Rokke, Ronald Euland, juniors; and Dale Elseth, sophomore. Other candidates are Howard Rokke, Richard Moen, Lloyd Hjelle, Vernon Pederson, DeVere Chapman, Richard Ellingson, William Sather, Ralph Tandberg, George Hestekind, Jim Dahl, Mark Carlson, Conley Davis, B. Grandstrand, G. Grandstrand, Hjalmer Lofstrom, John Tandberg, Jerry Strandquist, Terry Strandquist, and Merlin Anderson.

When questioned on his prospects for the 1959 season, coach Junker said that he expected the team would be tough defensively and that the offense should jell if quarterbacks Dave Haug and Ronnie Euland come through as expected. He said that he hopes to do as well or better than last season when the Nordics had a record of five wins, two losses, and one tie.

Five boys—Dennis Bakke, Delmore Lofstrom, Bob Dahl, John Haglund and Erwin Melvie—were lost from the squad thru graduation; Bakke and Lofstrom gained honorable mention on the All-State Eight Man squad.

The Newfolden high school's 1959 football schedule:

Friday, Sept. 11, Newfolden at Warroad.
Friday, Sept. 18, open date.
Friday, Sept. 25, Middle River at Newfolden.
Friday, Oct. 2, Karlstad at Newfolden.
Friday, Oct. 9, Newfolden at Badger.
Friday, Oct. 16, Newfolden at Greenbush.

Bagey Wins North Minny Playoffs

To Play in Region 2 Class B Tournament

The Bagley Merchants, for the second successive year, will represent the Northern Minnesota baseball league in the Region Two Class B tournament. The regional tournament this year will be played at Bagley and will begin on Wednesday night, Sept. 2, with Bagley meeting the Norman-Polk league playoff winner in a first-round game. The Red River Valley league will also have a representative in the regional meet, making the tournament a three-team double-elimination affair. The tourney will continue on Sept. 5, 6 and 7th.

Bagley won the Northern Minny league playoff title by defeating Cass Lake, 2 to 1, in a well-played game at Bagley on Sunday night. In the 8th inning, with the score tied at 1-all, Bill Lawrence, off relief pitcher Jerry Daniels, hit a triple to right field and scored on a sacrifice fly.

In a game played on Sunday afternoon, on the Cass Lake diamond, the Lakers, behind the four-hit pitching of southpaw Daniels, defeated the Merchants and righthander Bruce Lindell, 5 to 1, to force a final and deciding game on Sunday night.

Woman Is Injured in Auto Mishap

Warren Woman Suffers Broken Arm August 22

Several traffic mishaps were reported in the city since last Saturday, August 22, with one fairly serious bodily injury resulting from one crash.

At 1:27 p.m. Saturday a car driven by Simon P. Olson, Warren, was making a left turn off E. Eighth st. onto Dewey av. when a car driven in the opposite direction by Gary A. Johnson, Northwest Trailer Court, city, came into collision with the Olson vehicle.

In the crash Mrs. Emma Olson suffered a broken arm, chipped ankle and cuts, while Olson suffered cuts. Olson was tagged for failure to yield the right-of-way. Both cars were extensively damaged.

At 8:30 p.m. William Unruh, city, was stopped to let traffic by before making a turn off E. Third st. onto Davis av. when a car driven by Robert Benke and owned by Northern Co-ops, Wadena, struck the car behind Unruh, and driven by Ervin E. Wicklund, Greenbush, shoving it into the Unruh car.

Damage to the Unruh car was estimated at $25, to Wicklund's car $150 and to the Benke car $225. Laureen Benke suffered a slight forehead cut which did not require medical attention. Benke was tagged for following too close.

At 9:05 p.m. Saturday cars driven by Irene J. Lysne, Holt, and Ernest E. Hemp, Middle River, collided at the LaBree av. E. Second st. intersection, causing $115 damage to the Lysne car, $115 to Hemp's. Sherman Lysne, 13, was checked and released from Northwestern hospital for a bump he received on his head in the collision.

Billfold and Revolver Are Among Items Taken

A billfold containing cash, driver's license and identification papers, and a checkbook were reported stolen from the Edwin T. Christianson home Friday morning, August 21.

Christianson said the items were on a desk near the door of the home and that anyone who entered would have only to take a step inside to get the items. He said he was asleep at the time he believed the billfold and checkbook were taken.

A billfold was also reported lost by H. Brendenburg, St. Vital, Man. August 26. Brendenburg was staying at the cabins on W. Sixth st. at the time. Brendenburg said he did not know where the loss occurred.

A 32 cal. Remington automatic pistol and ammunition was reported stolen from the glove compartment of his car by Howard Langlie, 509 State av. N. as it was parked in front of his residence the night of August 24.

Elected at Convention in Minneapolis Thursday

The American Legion Thursday at its national convention in Minneapolis swept an Eastern lawyer into office as its national commander and gave token support to Vice President Nixon's stand on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's visit to the United States.

National convention delegates rallied behind Martin B. McKneally of Newburgh, N. Y., and elected him leader of the 2½-million-member veterans' organization without opposition.

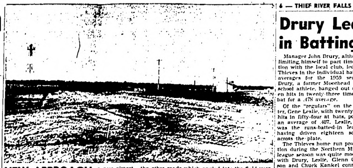
McKneally, 44, had garnered the full supportof the convention delegates in nearly a week of strenuous campaigning. He took command of the legion from Preston J. Moore of Stillwater, Okla.

Elected to the five vice commander posts were William G. Brennah, Indianapolis; A. Laymon, Lexington, S. C.; Charles C. McGonegal, Sunol, Calif.; Nate Keller, Virginia, Minn., and Willard W. Brandt, Linton, N. D. McGonegal is a former Grand Forks resident.

The auxiliary elected Mrs. Alexander H. Gray, Brownsville, Tenn., president.



NEW APPROACH a new airport approach road is being graded by Harry Dahl in accordance with a contract made with the city earlier this year. Also a part of the same contract is a sanitary drainage field.

The new road leading into the airport parking lot will alleviate a bad snow removal problem as the other roads which angled into the field were low and were difficult to keep open in years of heavy snow. The new road turns into the airport from a point south of where the present road angles off near the metal hangars. Recent rainy weather had temporarily stalled the project when this photo was taken. The airport administration building is in the right background and the rotating beacon is at left.

Hamm's Beer vs. All-Stars

The 1959 city softball season will be concluded on Thursday evening when, at 6:30 P.M., the champion Hamm's Beer squad meets an All-Star aggregation in an exhibition game on the East Side diamond.

The game is billed as an exhibition, but knowing the make-up of the two squads, and the competitiveness of the players, the game will be hotly contested.

The league All-Stars, who will be managed by Lowell (Mukkett) Collins, with Russ Moga, Larry Thorstenson, Ken Sauve, and Pinky Adolphson as coaches, will be composed of the following players: John Drury, Darrell Rude, and Leonard Brekke from the Bjorkman's; Harley Drees, Wally Grovum, and Jack Hoppe from the Len's Tire Service team; Dwight Tangquist, Dave Martin, and Helmer Myhrer of the Sportsman's Store; Cal Offerdahl and Curly Kezars of the V.F.W.; Dale Wennberg of the Bums; and John Holzinger of the Fifty-Niners.

Against this aggregation of All-Stars (and it's possible that manager Collins will send some "ringers" into the game, so we're watching Jerry Stevens of the Hamm's to check the fingerprints and birth certificates) the Hamm's will field their first string lineup of Fred Dablow catching, George Janssen pitching, Glen Carlson at first base, Dean Anderson at second, Gene Leslie at shortstop, LeRoy Pederson at third base; and Vern Solheim, Jerry Stevens, and Darryl Smith in the outfield.

Let's all be at the East Side diamond on Thursday evening.

Worth the Cost

Dr. Orlon Belch, our fair city's mayor, made a twenty-dollar golf shot on Wednesday evening. That is, the shot cost Dr. Belch twenty dollars, and, strange to tell, he paid the price willingly and happily.

Here are the details of that costly shot. Playing in a city golf league match foursome on Wednesday, with Ted Hellie, Chuck Wilcox, and Elton Cummings as golf mates, Dr. Belch holed out his tee shot on number four, scoring an eagle ace. That hole-in-one feat called for a club house celebration, and as it was stag night at the club, Dr. Belch's bill, after playing for the refreshments, came to about twenty dollars.

It was a first-in-a-lifetime occurrence for Belch to card a hole-in-one, and he agreed that it was worth the price. He did voice a minor objection, though, and that was about his being placed in the second flight in the club championship tournament. The tournament committee, by an unanimous vote, decided that Dr. Belch's hole-in-one entitled him to a berth in the second flight.

As for the eagle ace that he scored on the fourth hole, Dr. Belch used a number four wood off the tee, hit the ball well, but short of the green. The ball, apparently having considerable over-spin, rolled and rolled, and finally dropped into the cup.

We Hope So.

"He will make the major leagues one of these days." That was the comment of the St. Cloud Rox manager Ritchie Klaus on Saturday evening as we discussed the baseball future of Bemidji's Clark (Corky) Johnson.

We were in a party that included Arlan Hjelle and Gary and Paul Klungness that drove over to Grand Forks to witness the Chiefs in their Northern league tilt against the Rox. And during a pre-game conversation we were given encouraging reports on Corky's progress with St. Cloud.

While the sturdy righthander (and he carries a solid 192 lbs. on his five-foot eleven-inch frame) has a poor won-and-lost record with the last place St. Cloud club, his earned-run overage is a fine 3.68 mark. That mark is good enough to give Corky twelfth place in the e.r.a. listings.

Manager Klaus added that Corky had the ideal temperament for baseball, and that as a competitor he was one of the best. The one problem that will be facing Corky is his tendency to gain weight. He is at a point now where he can't afford to put on any extra pounds, but he is aware of this problem and manager Klaus didn't believe that the weight problem would be a factor in Johnson's progress up the Organized Baseball ladder.

On Saturday night, we were fortunate enough to watch Corky pitch a couple of innings of relief. In the seventh and eighth innings, against the meaty part of the Chiefs' batting order, Corky struck out five, gave up one walk, two hits, and one run. The run was a bit "tainted" as the runner carrying that tally reached second base on a wind-blown pop fly that eluded the second baseman and fell for a double. MacFarland laced a solid hit to right field, scoring the runner from second, but just barely as the throw from the outfield was on the plate and if the catcher has been stationed properly, the runner would have been tagged out.

Corky was pitching from a "set" position, and this new delivery, without a wind-up, seemed to puzzle the Chief's batters.

Stay alert on the highways. High speed travel can be monotonous, particularly on the freeways. Stop and take a break to keep from falling asleep and running off the highway.

Drury Leads Thieves in Batting Averages

Manager John Drury, although limiting himself to part time action with the local club, led the Thieves in the individual batting averages for the 1959 season. Drury, a former Moorhead high school athlete, banged out eleven hits in twenty-three times at bat for a .478 average.

Of the "regulars" on the roster, Gene Leslie, with twenty-two hits in fifty-four at bats, posted an average of .407. Leslie, too, was the runs-batted-in leader, having driven eighteen scores across the plate.

The Thieves home run production during the Northern Minny league season was quite modest, with Drury, Leslie, Glenn Carlson and Chuck Kankel connecting for four-baggers.

1959 Duck Hunt Rules Revealed; Fifty-day Season Opens Oct. 7th

The 1959 duck hunting regulations were announced today by James W. Kimball, Minnesota's director of game and fish. In general, they call for a 50 day continuous season beginning at 12 o'clock noon on Wednesday, October 7 and continuing through November 25. Daily bag and posession limits are set at 3 and 6, respectively.

In commenting on the regulations, director Kimball said, "The continental duck population is definitely down and the welfare of our total duck population must be, and is, our prime concern. In spite of the reduction in total ducks, hunting in Minnesota is expected to be relatively good for the following reasons: (a) breeding conditions in parts of Minnesota were fairly good, although less favorable in the drier southwest counties, and we have a comparatively sizeable population of local ducks; (b) with water scarce in the dry prairies of the Dakotas, more ducks can be expected to migrate through those parts of Minnesota where water conditions are far better."

"We do not think Minnesota should take advantage of her relatively fortunate position this year by adopting those regulations which will take the largest possible harvest from a low duck population using the flyway," continued Kimball. "Wednesday, October 7, has been selected as the opening date rather than Saturday, October 10 because all available federal and state information shows a mid-week opening may serve to reduce the kill. The two major objections which may be voiced to an October 7 opening are: (a) being in the middle of the week some sportsmen will be unable to leave their jobs; and, (b) with a shorter season this year the earlier opening means a likewise earlier closing which is not favored in southern Minnesota, or by late field shooters. On the other hand, the earlier October 7 opening is favored by northern hunters whose hunting is often curtailed by an early freezeup."

"The 50 day season with bag and possession limits of 3 and 6 has been chosen in preference to the 40 day option with a 4 and 8 limit. The longer season and reduced bag limit may not be favored by the well equipped duck hunter who is fortunate to have the time and place to hunt, and who frequently takes a daily limit of ducks. However, it will help the weekend hunter who often does well to get three ducks. It will also help the hunter in southern Minnesota and field shooters who benefit from a later season. Our figures indicate that a small percentage of the Minnesota duck kill does occur after November 15, so this selection will also aid in conserving ducks. It seems logical to limit our kill to 3 ducks a day when the flyway population is noticeably down. The action taken by Minnesota concurs with seasons and bag limits already adopted by Wisconsin, Iowa and South Dakota," said Kimball.

"Under federal regulations one wood duck is permitted in the bag and possession limit. While it is true this species has suffered less from the current drought than others, this colorful duck still needs some protection. However, state and federal authorities throughout the flyway indicate a limited kill could be had this year. In Minnesota, we are further restricting the kill by including the federal regulations which allow only 1 canvasback, or 1 redhead, or 1 ruddy duck in the daily bag or in possession. That is, only one of these four species, namely, 1 canvasback, or 1 redhead, or 1 ruddy duck, or 1 wood duck may be included in the daily bag or in possession in Minnesota. Emphasized is the regulation that any one of these four species may not be included in a subsequent bag as long as the hunter has any one of them in possession," added Kimball.

The daily bag and possession limit on ducks may include 1 hooded merganser.

"Hunters are encouraged not to shoot any of these ducks intentionally, because they are in short supply. The canvasback, in particular, is in real trouble."

The daily bag and possession limit on coots is 3 and 6, respectively. In addition to the bag limits on other ducks, the daily limit on American and red-breasted mergansers is 5 with a possession limit of ten, singly or in the aggregate of both kinds.

A 70 day continuous season for geese will begin at 12 o'clock noon, October 7 through December 15 inclusive. The daily bag and possession limit is 5 and 5. These limits may include 2 Canada geese or its subspecies, or 2 white-fronted geese, or 1 of each.

The season on Wilson or Jack-snipe will be open from 12 o'clock noon, October 7 through November 5, inclusive, with a bag and possession limit of 8 and 8.

Shooting hours on all except the noon opening day will be from sunrise to sunset.

"Restriction are never pleasant, but the joys of duck hunting are many. We believe the Minnesota sportsman will not let one less duck in the bag curtail his hunting pleasure; especially when this duck goes to the best of causes—perpetuation of ducks and duck hunting," concluded Kimball.

Around Our State

The travel trade in Minnesota was an extractive industry. How many fish could a tourist pull out of the lake? Now it is a specialized trade calling for professional—and getting them.

There are now four types of recreation seekers in this state: The American plan guest who wants to take life easy and provide his wife with a chance to yawn and stretch; the family cottage guest who finds a Minnesota lake gives him just what he wants for relaxation and change of scene; the traveler who drives over much of the state in five days and spends five nights in five different motels; and the camper who demonstrates his boy scout training to his kids who thus find him a different dad than they knew at home.

What question is most frequently asked at the tourist information stand? "Where can we find a modern cottage where there is a clean bathing beach for the kids?"

Second most frequently asked question, "Where's the best camping or picnic place around here?"

What kind of a tourist year is 1959 proving to be? Best ever. Those who question it do so without taking into account the doubling of capacity since the "good old days."

These Canadian folks are the best neighbors a people ever had. Those who complain about the number of Yankees crossing the border wouldn't do so if they realized how much trade we get from the Canadians themselves and the Yankees they induce to cross our state twice to get to Ontario and Manitoba.

Roads are so very good. The old fashioned detour went out with the old fashioned girl.

The National Association of Travel Organizations rates Minnesota Highway 61 second among the nation's scenic drives exceeded only by the Blue Ridge Trail in the Appalachians. When Ontario completes its portion of Lake Superior Rounds and Mississippi Parkway gains its proper identification, Minnesota's Highway 61 and North Shore Drive will leap into, and hold, a position of dominance. Next year will mark initiation of that new position.

Two injuctions frequently expressed, not yet accepted: "The North Shore folks had better get active in planning and zoning or inferior uses to which their beauty is put will rob them of their treasure," and "What all northeastern Minnesota must do is quit talking about reforestration and start getting the job done."

Surest investment for profit a man can make is the right type of lakeshore profit. Why aren't more thousands making it? Fear of what the assessor will do to the non-resident owner.

The only really serious handicap the state has in translating lake scenery and pleasure into what should be is the inability or delay on the part of our people to realize what we have and what can be done in marketing it. Minnesota's 10,000 lakes are a giant bank deposit, invested for us by a generous nature, relatively unappreciated and drawing only one-half of one per cent interest.

"I expect to pass through the world but once; any good, therefore, that I can do, or any kindness that I can show to any fellow creature, let me do it now; let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again."
—Henry Drummond

They Must Agree

President Eisenhower's visits to West Germany and to Britain have been pleasant, as they were expected to be. Most encouraging was the reception he received by the people of these nations. The enthusiasm with which he was greeted at all public appearances was largely a tribute to him personally. It also was an expression of confidence in our country, a reminder that a large part of the responsibility for world leadership rests upon our government.

But according to most observers the success of his journey will depend largely on the results of his talks with President deGaulle of France. The French government is very much involved in a hot war of its own, fighting hard to suppress a revolutionary group that seeks independence for Algeria.

For the time being this is deGaulle's No. 1 problem. He would like to have more cooperation from his NATO allies in this struggle, and Algeria probably will figure just as prominently in the Paris talks as Communism and Khrushchev.

Eisenhower therefore will face the biggest test of statesmanship this week. There is world-wide interest in the Paris meeting and much concern about its outcome.

Fortunately both Eisenhower and deGaulle are aware of the urgent need for harmony at this time. The possibility of disastrous consequences if they fail to agree is so great a threat to the peace of the world that every effort will be made to adopt a program that will have united support. There is every reason to believe that both deGaulle and Eisenhower will enter into these talks with a realization that they must resolve all differences, and that is encouraging.

Right Man For the Job

Twenty years ago today the second World War was getting off to a bad start. On August 23, 1939, Adolph Hitler and Joe Stalin had entered into a non-agression pact. September brought with it the invasion of Poland by the Nazis and Communists. On September 3 France and Britain declared war on Germany.

The non-agression pact with Stalin gave Hitler time to dispose of the French and British. With that chore out of the way he took after the Russians and by that time our country had become involved.

Out of the ruins of World War II a new world has emerged. The old order was swept away. Empires crumbled and new alliances have been formed. Sleeping giants were awakened and now are stirring restlessly.

Nations that 20 years ago had not made much progress beyond the bow and arrow stage now have jet planes and are playing with nuclear power. New empires, dictatorships controlled by leaders who openly admit their plans for world conquest, threaten the peace of the world.

This is the disorganized, dangerous world in which we are now living. These are the problems that are uppermost in the minds of Western World leaders on the eve of the Khrushchev visit to our country. They share a great responsibility.

They probably will not make the mistake that Chamberlain made at Munich. They will not make concessions to buy a temporary peace. The records of the World War that started 20 years ago, and from which we have not yet recovered, are too fresh in their memories.

The important thing is that they remain united. Eisenhower's job now is to keep them united. He is the right man for this important assignment.

Pork Barrel Dollars

President Eisenhower vetoed a big public works bill last week. If his veto is sustained some public works projects that are much needed will be delayed. If, on the other hand, Congress overrides the veto, then millions of the taxpayers' dollars will go down the drain, wasted on projects that cannot be justified.

Congress can provide later for projects that should be authorized. But the money that will be wasted if the vetoed measure is now adopted will never be retrieved.

The sum involved in this bill is considerably more than a billion dollars. Nearly every state will share in the distribution. The big item for Minnesota will be an additional $2,444,000 for making the Mississippi navigable an extra mile above the dam at Minneapolis, a gift to his home town by Senator Humphrey at the expense of the taxpayers, approved by Congress, contrary to the recommendations of engineers.

That is the way these pork barrel bills are framed. They include a few much-needed projects that are wrapped up into one package with a lot of local vote-buyers. Enough of the crumbs are scattered about to get general support, and that is how pork barrel bills are passed.

Minnesota, and many other states, have given to the chief executive one effective curb on this kind of spending in an item veto. Minnesota's governor, for instance, can veto any item of which he disapproves, in an appropriation bill, without killing the whole bill.

The president should be given such a right, but the politicians in Congress are not willing to yield a power which enables them to have so much fun with pork barrel dollars.

Saber Rattling

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has stated that he's not interested in visiting American military bases or installations. That probably is his way of saying that Communist military bases and installations will not be open for inspection by visiting Americans.

His position could be justified as an unwillingness to reveal either weakness or strength. Our guess is that he is restrained mainly by a feeling of uncertainty. If he were sure of his superior power he probably would be glad to stage a demonstration.

The unfortunate thing about this relative military strength is the probability that the Communists know more about our power than we do about theirs. Maybe our military leaders are withholding information and that we have secret weapons they have not revealed. We hope so.

But we are afraid they have talked too much for our own good. All the Communists have to do to convince their own people that we plan to destroy them is to quote our official blabbermouths who are constantly rattling sabers and announcing their marvelous plans for mightier weapons that will be perfected in a few years.

Teddy Roosevelt put the emphasis on the need for military strength when he said, "talk softly but carry a big stick." Greater emphasis now is needed on temperate speech. Build the power plant but quit the blowhard talk about how tough we are.

Poor Minneapolis

(Sioux Falls Argus Leader)

The Minneapolis Tribune sputters with indignation over President Eisenhower's veto of the public housing bill and says in effect "you can't do that to us."

The Tribune's displeasure stems from the fact that two primary projects in its city are involved. One is an "urban renewal" project in downtown Minneapolis and another is a housing venture with 1,000 units.

The plight of Minneapolis, it contends, is "too serious to be neglected."

And so perhaps it is. But is Minneapolis so poverty stricken, so lacking in vigor and so much in need of a crutch that it is compelled to ask Washington for assistance on civic projects? Has the vigor that built the city vanished? Has it now reached the stage that it must stand before the capital in Washington with a tin cup to do what should be done?

If so, that isn't the Minneapolis of old—the city that set the pace for the nation with it's vim, vigor and vitality?

Minneapolis surely can do what Sioux Falls is doing. Our housing development is substantial and there is a constant program of so-called urban renewal — all without the benefit of alms from Washington.

Does It Just Seem That Way?

(Art Suel in New Prague Times)

As construction starts on the new House office building, Washington columnist Ed Koterba cautions about avoiding the glaring mistakes of the new Senate office building, which he lists partially as "plush rugs over costly tile, dislocated tunnels, auto ramps too steep for long, modern cars, and mail chutes that don't shoot mail" . . . Does it just seem that way or are there actually more and bigger mistakes made in public building construction than in private construction?

Not Sufficient

(Wall Street Journal)

Once upon a time there was established the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development and the International Monetary Fund.

This was during World War II and the idea, in case you have forgotten, was to provide a capital fund for economic development loans and for currency loans to the war-torn countries and the under-developed countries of the world.

But this did not prove sufficient, and so we had the U.S. loan to Britain, the U.S. loans and grants under the many names of what is now the International Cooperation Administration.

But this was not sufficient, and so we increased the resources of the U.S. Export-Import Bank.

But this was not sufficient, and so we set up the U.S. Development Loan Fund to make "easy" loans repayable in local currencies.

But this was not sufficient, and so the World Bank was broadened to include an International Finance Corporation to invest in special enterprises in under-developed countries.

But this was not sufficient, and so we are now organizing a Latin American Bank to make special loans south of the border, and we have proposed a similar Middle Eastern Fund to make special loans in that part of the world.

But this was not sufficient, and so this week the U.S. launched a campaign to establish a $1 billion world agency to be called the International Development Association. It will be used to spur economic development in under-developed countries on easier terms than those poor countries can get from the World Bank, the Monetary Fund, the Export-Import Bank, the U.S. Development Loan Fund, the Latin American Bank or the Middle Eastern Fund or the International Cooperation Administration.

We just thought you'd be interested in knowing, since all of these roads lead directly to the U.S. Treasury, of what might be called the U.S. Taxpayers Cooperative Fund. The question in the end, we suppose, is whether that Fund will be sufficient.

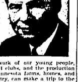
REPORT from the GOVERNOR

by Orville L. Freeman



Minnesota's state fair is in full swing this week. It is a remarkable occasion, to be enjoyed by hundreds of thousands of people. The departments of Minnesota state government have prepared exhibits to show Minnesota citizens a picture of some of the activities of their government.

Three Buildings

Education and Conservation have separate buildings for their exhibits. Schools from all over the state contribute to the interesting display in the Education building. Conservation has fascinating displays of animals and fish, and will emphasize water resources and water conservation.

A third building combines displays and exhibitions from many other state departments. Hours can be spent here, profitably and enjoyably, learning about a miscellaneous array of subjects ranging from how the Public Examiner protects the people to models of new buildings planned for the state.

Safety

The Industrial Commission has an exhibit on industrial safety, emphasizing safety equipment, clothing that is designed to prevent accidents, and other safeguards. The Insurance Department exhibit emphasizes the function of the state fire marshal in fire prevention and protection.

Free Eye Checks

The Highway Department is again providing free eye examinations to determine whether any person has vision adequate to meet safe driving standards. Uncounted numbers of people who took advantage of these free eye checks last year were surprised to learn that their vision was not adequate for safe driving. Corrective glasses obtained after learning of such defects could prevent accidents and save lives.

Highway Construction

This year the Highway department is also presenting an atractive model display showing every step in the construction of new highways, from the acquisition of the land to the establishing of traffic control after the highway is completed.

The State Highway Patrol is presenting the many services it provides for the public, such as first aid and other emergency assistance.

Minnesota Attractions

Both the Highway and Welfare departments are showing movies, free — of course. The Tourist Bureau has set up its travelling exhibit of Minnesota attracions, the same one that is shown at sportsmen's shows and on other occasions outside the state.

The Department of Public Welfare has important and authoritative information available on adoptions, on mental retardation, and on our mental health program. The Department of Employment Security has information for all who may want to know about social security and retirement.

The Safety Council is this year emphasizing what communities can do to insure safety for bicycle riders.

Shelter From Fallout

Of particular interest is the full size model of a home shelter against possible radiation fallout, provided by the department of Civil Defense. We have read much about such shelters lately, and we even saw pictures of a honeymoon in such a shelter. Here is your chance to see a model and learn how it ought to be equipped. The Department's exhibit also shows how fallout is measured.

All of these, plus some of the truly remarkable illustrations of the work of our young people, in 4-H clubs, and the production of Minnesota farms, homes, and industry, can make a trip to the state fair both an enjoyable and educational experience.

YOUR SENATOR REPORTS

HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

Practicing what we preach—For the watching two-thirds of the world's peoples who are not white, and especially for the one-third of the people of the world who are not committed to either side in the struggle between the Communist way of life and Democracy, what some Americans feel to be only an internal problem—how we treat our non-white fellow Americans—becomes a matter of intense personal interest. Discrimination and prejudice in America are not only deeply harmful within our own society, but they have increasingly bitter and harmful effects on our foreign policy, on our attemps to maintain a world of basically friendly nations. So long as discrimination on the grounds of race or color remains in America, our professions of idealism and equality among men will always be attacked as hypocrisy by our enemies abroad.

Balancing the moral budget—There has been much talk about balancing the Government's money budget for the current fiscal year, but there surely has not been adequate recognition of the fact that there is a moral budget to be balanced, as well. When intolerance, prejudice and discrimination continue to flourish in the North as well as in the South, the balance sheet does not add up—despite the fact that there has been encouraging progress in the last generation. An important change in the moral and spiritual climate has come about in America, but custom and even the interpretation of the law in many parts of our country continue to conflict with the spirit of our Judaeo-Christian heritage and of our American Constitution. The very bed-rock of American society is that all men are created equal under God, and that they have a right to equal treatment before the law. Justice and opportunity should recognize no color or race.

Action in Congress—Early in this session of Congress I joined with Senator Paul Douglas in sponsoring legislation to protect children and parents from violence and insults during school integration proceedings. It would provide help to States and to local authorities which are making an effort to integrate their schools, and would Authorize the Attorney General of the United States to seek court injunctions against violations of civil rights. I have also introduced seven other measures designed too protect the human rights of minorities—supporting the Supreme Court rulings on school segregation, outlawing the poll tax, and prohibiting discrimination in employment. Although we are nearing the end of the First Session of the 86th Congress, I intend to press for action on meaningful civil rights legislation before we adjourn this year.

Parents can play an important role in preparing a child for a big event in a child's life—his first day of school.

Providing him beforehand with factual information about school and helping him establish habits that will make the school routine easier are steps toward making that first day and the following school days successful, according to Charles Martin, extension family life education specialist at the University of Minnesota. Here are some specific ways he suggests parents can help.

• Find out what goes on in school so you can explain to your child what it will be like. Picture school as a place to enjoy as well as to learn.

• Be sure your child knows his name and address before he goes off to school. Still better, get him an identification tag of some kind to wear. Sometime an emergency may arise when the child may not be able to tell his name and address; hence the importance of an identification tag.

• Start early to establish habits that will make school routine easier for the child. For example, he should know how to dress himself and how to put playthings away; he should know proper toilet procedures and he should be able to eat without a parent to help him.

• Teach the child the safe way to school. If he walks, show him the easiest, safest route; teach him traffic rules and why they are important. Once he starts school, go with him several times so he is sure of the way himself.

If he must take a school bus, a play situation at home can teach safe boarding and leaving the bus as well as proper conduct on the bus. Teach him also the danger of hanging arms or hands outside the window.

Martin adds that a pre-school physical education for the child can help both parent and teachers, particularly if any physical disabilities are found that may affect him in his school activities. Invaluable, too, for present and future is an accurate record of the child's immunizations and serious illnesses.

Crookston Church Is Robbed 2nd Time

Burglars Early Saturday Get Away with $50 Cash

Trinity Lutheran church in Crookston was again burglarized early Saturday morning. The burglary was the second one within six weeks.

Burglars entered the church sometime after 11 p.m., and got away with between $40-$50 which they found in a file. An attempt to enter the safe failed.

Rev. Ralph Tellefson notified police Saturday morning when he saw the mess which the burglars had left. Rev. Tellefson also said that the burglars had entered sometime after 11 p.m., the time he left the office.

Burglars broke the lock on the office door, then searched in the secretary's desk and in Rev. Tellefson's desk for a key to the safe. The key was not there, so the burglars broke the lock on the file where they found the money.

The church was robbed on July 12, when burglars got away with between $900 and $2000.

Long-time Worker Gives up Post with Retarded Children

Mildred Thomson Retires after 35 Years as Head of Program for Retarded

A woman who is known by thousands of parents and professional workers alike throughout Minnesota for her work with mentally retarded children will retire September 1.

She is Mildred Thomson, head of the section on mental deficiency, state department of public welfare, who is completing 35 years of service as the head of the state's program for the retarded.

In those years, she has seen an almost complete reversal in the thinking and planning for the retarded, from the many long years during which the only solution was to place a retarded child in an institution, until recent years when parents can keep their children at home and send them to classes, specially planned for them, in the public schools or to day care centers.

The change is due in part to this dynamic woman who has been called "the mother of the program for the mentally retarded in the United States," and in part to the parents of the retarded whom Miss Thomson herself helped organize into associations after World War II.

There have been other awards for Miss Thomson, besides that of seeing programs for the retarded grow. She has been president of the American Association on Mental Deficiency and she received the first meritorious service award of the National Association for Retarded Children.

In her honor, a testimonial dinner was held August 27th in Coffman Memorial Union, University of Minnesota, co-sponsored by the state department of public welfare and the Minnesota Association for Retarded Children. Chief speakers were Dr. Dale Cameron, chief of medical services for the department of public welfare, and Dr. Donald Bergland, Northfield, president of the Minnesota association.

Parents Invited to Spend weekend at Camp Courage

The fifth annual weekend for parents of visually handicapped children will be held at Camp Courage, Cedar Lake, Annadale, on September 12 and 13.

This institute is sponsored by state services for the blind in cooperation with the Minnesota Society for Crippled Children. Parents and their visually handicapped children will attend. Youth activities will be supervised by skilled camp counselors and nurses while parents are taking part in the work session.

The arrangements provide a stimulating setting for the children and an opportunity for parents to exchange experiences, explore ideas and contribute to the program led by professional people. The theme is designed to assist parents in dealing with the emotional impact of blindness on the child, family and community.

James O'Keefe, Welfare Consultant, services for the Blind and Coordinator of the session, urges any late applicants for the session to contact him directly or their local county welfare departments.

Open House Airport Is Set September

Dedication of Area Vocational School Building Is Feature

Plans for the open house and dedication of the Area Vocational school A & E school building at the airport were the topics of discussion at a meeting held Monday afternoon at the Rex cafe.

Participating in the discussion of tentative plans for the open house, which is to be held Sept. 27, were representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber, council, vocational school, flying club and the airport commission and manager.

The alternate date for the event, in case of inclement weather, was set for Oct. 4. The airport will be open to the public at 8 a.m. Sept. 27, when the open house gets under way with a flight breakfast sponsored and manned by the Jaycees.

The public, as usual, is invited to attend the breakfast to impress out-of-town visitors at the breakfast of the public support of aviation in Thief River Falls.

Named to the arrangements committee were: Orin Meltz, Jaycees' breakfast chairman; Dan Illies, airport manager and parking arrangements; Olaf Dahllen, finance chairman; Robert Wurst, flight contest prize chairman and C of C liaison; Dawn Larson, flying club concession; Stan Nelson, school arrangements and dedication program chairman; and Mack Draper, flight contest and transient aircraft arrangements and publicity.

Others in the flying club, CAP, Jaycees and other organizations will be assisting in putting on the open house.

Plans for the event include static displays of a jet and other aircraft, including home-builts; model airplane flight demonstrations; flight contests for visiting and local pilots, and the formal dedication of the Aircraft and Engine mechanics school shop building.

As yet, no definite program of events has been arranged other than the flight breakfast, which will be served 8-11 that day.

Another popular feature of last year's Aviation days program at the airport will also be included in this year's open house. The idea of selling airplane rides at one-cent per lb. will be continued Sept. 27, with a $1 minimum for each ride.

Last year several planes were kept busy all afternoon and well after dark flying the many passengers that flocked to the field to take advantage of the novel system of pricing rides.

STUDENT Elisabeth Sorensen, whose home is in Denmark, has come to the Gatzke area where she will make her home during the next several months with the Delmar Hagen family while attending school at Middle River. The foreign exchange student is being sponsored by the American Field Service and the Middle River Parents and Teachers association.

Girl from Denmark at Delmar Hagen home at Gatzke, to Stay Year

Many people move from one farm to another, but for one resident of the Gatzke area, such a move meant a trip of more than 10 days.

The person is an attractive 17-year-old resident of Denmark who is making her home in the United States on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Hagen who live 1½ miles west and three miles south of Gatzke.

Elisabeth Sorenson came to this country as a foreign exchange student under the sponsorship of the American Field Service and the Middle River Parents and Teachers association. Part of her expenses have also been underwritten by the Middle River student council.

A resident of Selskaer in the southern part of Jutland, Elisabeth is the only child of a farming family. Farming in her home area is much like that of this region, according to the Danish student. Dairying is the main industry, with some swine also raised. Crops include barley, wheat, oats, and kohlrabi, which is raised as cattle feed.

The journey to the United States started for Elisabeth with a trip to Copenhagen in the family car, a train ride from Copenhagen to Rotterdam and a nine-day boat trip to New York. Arriving in the United States on Aug. 19, she boarded a bus for a 30-hour trip to Minneapolis where she visited with relatives briefly before making the bus trip to Middle River where she was met by the Hagens.

A graduate of high school in Denmark March 24 of this year, Elisabeth will attend Middle River high school for a year to study typing, English and other subjects which will aid her in teacher's training when she returns to her native land. After completing her college work, she expects to teach English, German and mathematics in Denmark.

As with most foreign exchange students who have lived in northwestern Minnesota for a year, Elisabeth is looking forward with some apprehension to the coming winter. Her home, which is near the sea, seldom has snow and what little comes falls in January.

Temperatures seldom become very cold at Selskaer and the below-zero readings, so common during northern Minnesota winters, will probably be long remembered and discussed by the Danish visitor.

70 Handicapped Persons in Area Are Rehabilitated

State Agency Reports Two from Pennington Co. Are Included in Total

Seventy handicapped residents of northwestern Minnesota have been rehabilitated into productive employment during the past year, according to Marvin Spears, supervisor of the Bemidji district office of the state division of vocational rehabilitation. This was an increase of 13% over the 62 persons rehabilitated last year.

This increase in the number of persons served by vocational rehabilitation was general thruout the state, Spears reports, and the state division set a new record high of 1,173 person rehabilitated. This was 22 more than last year.

Of the Bemidji district total, two were from Pennington county, and two from Red Lake county.

The division of vocational rehabilitation helped these persons return to or enter employment despite their handicaps by providing a variety of services. Rehabilitation counselors provide advice and guidance in selecting a vocational goal, training to help the person prepare for that goal and help in job placement when the person is ready to work.

Other services are also provided to the extent that the disabled person cannot provide them for himself. These include medical services, maintenance while in training, artificial limbs for amputees and tools and equipment needed in employment.

No Additional Soil Bank Land in Pennington

County Land in Soil Bank Now Exceeds Maximum of 25 Pct.

Patrick W. Culkins, manager of the Pennington county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, announced today that the Soil Bank division had informed the county ASC office that no additional land would be contracted under the Conservation Reserve program in Pennington county this year.

The decision became mandatory under existing law, because established limitations deny the opening of a soil bank program in any county which has 25% or more of its cropland in the soil bank previous to the opening of the program for the succeeding year.

Culkins stated that inasmuch as approximately 31% of Pennington county's cropland was under contract previous to the opening of the 1960 program, the Soil Bank division was not permitted to allocate any funds whatsoever to the county for further participation in the program in 1960.

Not more than 25 per cent of Marshall county cropland may be placed in the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank program for 1960, according to Edward A. Johnson, chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. The county currently has slightly more than 20 per cent of its cropland in the program.

The determination to restrict Soil Bank land to 25 per cent of the eligible cropland was received by the county office from the State ASC committee.

Marshall county's committee had requested an increase to 30 per cent following a recent series of meetings held at several county communities.

Soo Line Seeks to Discontinue Train to Sault St. Marie

Company Reports Trains 7 and 8 Losing Money at Rate of $220,000 a Year

The Soo Line Railroad this week asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to discontinue on October 2, its overnight local trains between Minneapolis-St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. The trains, Nos. 7 and 8, currently are losing money at the rate of $220,000 a year, the company said. Passenger revenue derived from the trains is less than the wages of the engineers and the cost of the fuel necessary to propel them.

The communities in Minnesota, northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan affected by the discontinuance will continue to have express and milk service. The Post Office department has assured the Soo Line that every effort will be made to provide satisfactory substitute mail service. Communities between Minneapolis and Dresser, Wis., will continue to be served by trains Nos. 62 and 63, which operate from Minneapolis to Duluth.

"Faced with ever-increasing costs and strong competition from other modes of carriage, both public and private, the Soo Line must conserve its limited resources and as soon as possible obtain the substantial and badly needed savings that can result from discontinuance of services no longer desired by the general public," the Soo Line pointed out in its petition to the ICC.

"Continued losses of the magnitude sustained in the operation of these trains are a serious burden on the Soo Line's ability as an interstate carrier to maintain its lines, replenish and expand its equipment supply, and render adequate and cheap freight service to the public."

5 Times More Rain in August Than Year Ago; Total Is 5.02 Inches

August of 1959 in the Thief River Falls area was a month of heat and humidity, hail and high winds and, above all, plenty of rain in contrast to some sections of the state which were declared drought disaster areas.

Compared to August of last year, the area had more than five times as much rainfall during the past month. Only .94 of an inch was recorded last year in comparison to the 5.02 inches in 1959. The greatest amount of rain during a one-day period fell on the 3rd when 1.53 inches was recorded. Rain was measured 14 of the 31 days of the month.

During August of 1958, daytime temperatures were generally from the high 60's to the low 80's with the hottest day having a 95 and the coolest night a 38. Near-freezing temperatures in the 30's were recorded twice during the month and several times, the mercury was in the low 40's. Despite the lower temperatures and sparse rainfall, heavy dew kept farmers out of the fields until mid morning.

This year, the warmest temperature was the 90 posted on the 7th and the 30th. Daytime temperatures were in the 90's only once, 15 days in the 80's, 12 days in the 70's and three days in the 60's. The daytime readings, higher than last year on the average, were coupled with high humidity.

Hail severely damaged crops in the northwest Minnesota area on the 9th when a storm struck southeast of Thief River Falls. The same storm stripped 22,000 acres of the best crop land in the Hallock area where 80 to 100% of the grain was flattened A second hailstorm strom struck the area on the 11th. The large number of rainy days further slowed harvesting.

Defective Icebox Causes Death of 2 in Bemidji Motel

Gas Refrigerator Blamed In Monoxide Death of Man and Son of Ontario, Can.

A faulty gas-burning refrigerator left carbon monoxide concentrates in a Bemidji motel room in which a Canadian father and his teen-age son died.

The findings were contained in a report sent by the state board of health to the Minnesota attorney general's office Monday.

John W. Cairns, 55, Willowdale, Ontario, died in a Bemidji hospital Sunday night of carbon monoxide poisoning. His son, Wesley, 13, was found dead in the motel last Thursday. An autopsy revealed cause of death.

Cairns and his wife were both unconscious when discovered by the motel operator. Mrs. Cairns had regained consciousness. Her condition remained critical.

Robert W. Matson, deputy attorney general, said the examination was made under a law giving the state authority to investigate hotel and motels.

B. C. Olson, coroner of Beltrami county, had conferred with the attorney general's office after complaining that officials were denied entrance to the cabin by Mrs. Catherine Cords, motel owner.

Reporting on the progress of the new $192,000 building project to replace the school burned last year, Mr. Orcutt said that all joists are in place and that the steel roof decking material is on its way by rail.

Pork Heads Food Buys This Month

Turkeys and Fruits Also Are in Liberal Supply

Cured pork, pork chops, roasts, spareribs, hams, bacon, sausage and all the other pork favorites will top September's plentiful foods list, according to Eleanor Loomis, extension consumer marketing agent at the University of Minnesota.

U.S. Department of Agriculture reports show that the pork from the big spring pig crop is going to market and, as a result, pork is the buy of the month.

Continuing as a good buy during September will be family-size turkeys.

There'll be plenty of milk for September school children. The production is slightly below a year ago, supplies still are in excess of demand. Fruits in heavy supply will be: locally grown apples, pears from the Pacific coast, grapes from California and Arizona, lemons from California and limes from Florida. Production of Bartlett pears in Pacific states is way up—17 per cent more than last year and 12 per cent above average. The western grape crop is large, too.

Large supplies of lettuce, sweet corn and onions are expected among the numerous fresh vegetables on September markets.

School Board to Meet on Tuesday

The Thief River Falls board of education will hold its September session next Tuesday, Sept. 8, instead of on the regular date Monday, Sept. 14, it was announced today.

Invite Requests for Sewage Aid

Department of Health Sets Oct. 15 Deadline

Applications for federal funds to aid in financing construction of municipal sewage treatment works will be received up to Oct. 15, 1959, for consideration in the state program for the fiscal year of 1959-1960, according to Dr. R. N. Barr, secretary of the state board of health.

The same criteria used in determining priorities for the applications last year will be used this year. The present and potential water pollution hazards and financial needs are taken into consideration by the commission in establishing these priorities.

Last year 46 applications for grants for a total of $1,213,000 were received from the municipalities in the state. Federal funds were sufficient for nine of these applications. Projects approved and funds granted were located at Arlington, Elk River, Fergus Falls, Gaylord, Grand Marais, Pine River, Red Wing, Sauk Rapids and Stillwater.

Requests for information on the grant program and for application forms should be addressed to the Water Pollution Control Commission, Department of Health Building, University Campus, Minneapolis 14.

Kenneth Nyquist Killed When He Darts In Front of Car Driven by Roy Ose

A 5-year-old Biwabik boy was killed Tuesday when he darted into the path of a car driven by a Thief River Falls man on highway 135 near Biwabik.

Kenneth Richard Nyquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nyquist was killed when he was struck by a car driven by Roy Ardeen Ose, 25, rural Thief River Falls.

Ose hold highway patrolmen the boy darted into the road so fast he had no chance to stop.

Three persons also died in a four-car crash about 13 miles northeast of Blackduck on highway 72. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn D. Creighton and Clay J. Timmerman, 25, all of Hampton, Ia. were killed in a crash that resulted in four injuries, two of which were critical.

The crash came as a Blackduck constable chased two Indians, who crashed into the rear of a car occupied by five Ponemah residents. The constable, George Diebert, then ricocheted off the wreckage and into a southbound car occupied by five Iowans, three of whom were killed.

The other two Iowans, Mr. and Mrs. Clay J. Timmerman, sr., Diebert, and an occupant of the Ponemah car, Betty Ann Stillday, were hospitalized. The Iowa car rolled over several times after the collision. Others in the Ponemah car were only shaken up.

Diebert managed to radio for help despite his injuries and ambulances from Bemidji were sent to the scene.

The two riders in the car being chased dashed into the brush after the crash but two suspects answering their description were picked up in Blackduck later.

L. Bischel at Dale Carnegie Course Graduate Session

Leon Bischel was one of 75 graduates of the Dale Carnegie courses from 10 communities in North Dakota and Minnesota who met last Saturday for an all-day training session at the FM Hotel, Moorhead. These graduates will assist in the instruction of future classes, said Lochie Gast, Fargo, area supervisor.

Appearing in newspapers of the Minnesota Editorial Association through the cooperation of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture.

Tripling the return from the farm business is nothing to sneeze at. But Jerome Lubbesmier, Sauk Rapids area farmer, has made such a jump. According to Benton county agent, Burton Olson, he took over the place in 1951, laid out 37 acres of contour strips, 75 acres of wind strips, and 3 miles of field windbreak in 1955 and did more the following year. He used fertilizer and lime and has since tripled his output. Now he has a new set of buildings, a good line of machinery, a better dairy herd, and a farm that's paid for. His major gain: a more enjoyable life on the farm.

Planning a duck crop like you would any other farm project is something many a farmer does seriously these days. Robert Rothi, Ortonville, has sprayed strips in a large marsh area. He created more open areas for breeding and nesting and moved rocks and hay bales in the water areas. His philosophy is that wildlife has a definite place in farm operations.

Late summer seeding can work out well even in western Minnesota. And Morris Simonson, Cerro Gordo, can thank a thistle problem that helped him find it out. He plowed a 12-acre field in June, 1957, and kept working it until mid-August when he had the thistles well under control. Then he seeded the field with 10 pounds of Ranger alfalfa per acre on Aug. 20. According to William Hueg, Extension agronomist at the University of Minnesota, Simonson had a good stand the following year—just as good as where he seeded in spring with a companion crop. Looks like a good idea for those of you who need more land in forages for next year.

Low spots in fields and no drainage add up to a mudhole that never amounts to much. But drain the field and it may produce well. Leonard Moe, farmer in the Marshall-Beltrami conservation district, found this out. He got help from the ACP program in installing drain tile, and planned the project so well he had no trouble getting more credit to construct drainage ditches, buy fertilizer and improve farm buildings. John McMartin, SCS worker, helped.

Data on Pensions to Be Mailed Soon

Veterans Asked Not to Write to Fargo Office

Veterans and their dependents now on Veterans Administration pension rolls will in the next few weeks receive by mail complete information on the new pension law signed by the president on August 29.

W. R. Byrd, manager of the Fargo VA center, urged VA pensioners not to write VA about the bill. He said his office has its hands full with the new law and answering letters will only delay matters for everyone. He added, the new law does not go into effect until July 1, 1960.

Mr. Byrd estimated that about 68 per cent of the veterans disabled from non-service connected ailments will get more money under the new law and larger checks also will come to about 70 per cent of the widows on VA's rolls.

E. Ehrenstrom to Speak to Jaycees Tonight at Elks

Elwood Ehrenstrom, who will be an instructor in the airframe and engine mechanics school to be opened shortly at the municipal airport by the area vocational school, will be the guest speaker at a dinner meeting of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce this evening at 6:30 in the Elks club rooms. Bruce Hall, Jaycee president, will conduct the meeting.

Governor Attacks Drinking Drivers

Criticizes Failure of 1959 Legislature to Act

A reduction in the percentage figure of alcohol in the blood above which a person is presumed to be intoxicated was urged by Governor Orville L. Freeman at the summer meeting of the Minnesota Safety Council in Duluth last Friday, August 28.

Speaking at the council's award banquet, the governor said, "Very competent medical authorities have shown that the person whose blood-alcohol count is between .05 and .15 per cent is a dangerous driver. I am recommending that the percentage which may be admitted as prima facie evidence that a person was under the influence of alcohol be lowered from .15 to .05 per cent."

Under the traffic act, a person whose blood contains .15 per cent or more of alcohol is presumed to be intoxicated, while a lower figure may be introduced with other evidence.

The governor cited the failure of the 1959 legislature to pass an implied consent bill which would require chemical tests for intoxication under certain conditions. "The implied consent bill, together with consideration of lowering the presumptive degree in the definition of intoxication, must be a part of Minnesota's heavy armor in our war against the drinking driver," the governor said, urging everyone to work towards the adoption of both rules.

$800 Damage in Collision Tuesday

Richard D. Langevin, city, was tagged for failure to yield to cross traffic, after his car and another were involved in a collision at the Fourth st.-Horace av. intersection, which resulted in damages estimated at $800 to both cars, about 4:20 p.m. Tuesday.

Langevin, southbound on Horace av., struck Mrs. Alma S. Kast's car in the right-rear fender and door as she was nearly across the intersection of Horace at Fourth st. She was westbound on Fourth.

Damage to the Kast car was estimated at $300, to Langevin's $500.

Sunday's Sermon

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

COMPENSATION OF YEARS

ONE of the compensations of growing older is a growing caution that ofttimes brings its reward. When the eye is not as quick and reflex is not as swift, the man who is growing older realizes he must be a little slower when he is behind a wheel.

Vivid memories of hair-breadth escapes when he crossed on a red light or did some other foolhardy thing may tend to make him slower on the accelerator and quicker on the brake. Thus the memories of the past are one of the compensations of growing older, for there may be avoided the recollection of killing a fellow being or maiming him for life.

It is a pity that many of life's lessons are learned by experience, provided that death does not intervene to remove all opportunity of learning.

If the elders are disposed and the younger are ready to listen, the elders may be, through their own past, the prophets of the younger men's future. Reference is made, not only to attitude behind a wheel but also to attitudes in all places of life.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare
University of Minnesota

Train Lest Ye Be Trained

Who is the boss in the family today? Is it the wife, the husband or the children? Don't blame the children if they get control; blame the parents.

An infant is born into the world utterly dependent upon someone — usually its parents. The child looks up to the parents from the very start of life. That is the time to begin training. Gradually the parents should direct and teach the child the right ways to be a good member of the family. A good member wants to learn and wants to respect authority which is going to help him.

A child gains experience as he grows, but during these growing years his experience has not been enough to give him good judgment. His choice usually is something he likes or something exciting. The present is very vital to him; the future has little meaning. The child wants to choose the right thing, but someone, the parents, must direct him. Lack of parental direction often turns the tables; the parent becomes the one who is required to be good and to give in or to please the child.

A parent must not become excited over minor things. Too much stress on an issue creates importance to it, and the child may want to try it again. Casually say, "Let's pick up the pieces and we'll get another glass," then forget and don't say any more about the broken glass. Be a relatively easy-going, sympathetic parent, willing to play and to give affection, but keep one step ahead of the child.

Parents, you are the ones from whom the child expects to receive instructions. Firmness coupled with friendly acceptance are traits in parents which denote genuine understanding of children.

Bagley Nips Halstad in Region 1st Round

Baseball fans who were in attendance at Bagley's Brustad Field on Wednesday night were treated to a sparkling pitching duel between a pair of classy lefthanders, Jerry Daniels of Cass Lake and Bagley, and Bob Hanson of Gary and Halstad. The two southpaws were draft choices of Bagley and Halstad, respectively, in the Region Two B tournament, and Daniels gave Bagley a 3 to 1 win over Hanson and Halstad in a first round tourney encounter. Bagley will meet the Alvarado Farmers of the Red River Valley league in a second round game at Bagley on Saturday night.

The tournament will continue on Sunday afternoon and Sunday evening. If a fifth and deciding game is necessary to determine the regional champion, this game will be played on Monday afternoon.

In Wednesday night's well-played and interesting game, the two teams rocketed along in a scoreless deadlock until the 8th inning. In the top half of the 8th inning, Daniels led off with a hit that bounced over second baseman Watner for a single; LeRoy Riewer drew a walk, sending Daniels to second; Curt Josephson, attempting a sacrifice, forced Daniels at third, the play going from Hanson to Jevning; Bill Lawrence grounded out, pitcher to first base, with Riewer going to third and Josephson to second; Bruce Lindell then drove a ground single just inside the third base bag, scoring Riewer and Josephson. Jim Lawrence sliced a triple into right field to score Lindell and give the Merchants a 3 to 0 lead.

The Halstad Pirates came back in their half of the 8th inning to tally their lone run of the game. Jerry Jevning fouled out to third baseman Josephson; Arlo Brunsberg was nicked by a pitched ball; Alden Holte lofted a pop fly to second baseman Dwayne Syverson; Don Nelson singled to right-center, with Brunsberg moving around to third base; pinch-hitter Jerry Mehlisch singled over the mound, scoring Brunsberg; Cactus Watner walked, loading the bases; but Daniels whiffed Hanson to end the threat.

In the last half of the 9th inning, the Halstad squad made another bid at scoring when, after lead-off batter Marlyn Annenson had fouled out to first base, Al Coen drew a walk. Pinch-hitter Don Nulting struck out, but Brunsberg kept the rally alive when he was hit by a pitched ball. Holte grounded to third base, and all hands were safe when Josephson fumbled the ball. With the bases crammed, Nelson hoisted a routine to fly to center fielder LeRoy Riewer to end the game.

The two pitchers were in charge of the game throughout, and had their strikeouts pitches slicing the plate. Daniels, although tagged for eight hits, had eleven strikeouts; while Hanson, the former Fargo American Legion junior hurler, had ten strikeouts. Hanson whiffed the first six Bagley batsmen to come to the plate. Both hurlers gave up four walks apiece, and Daniels twice hit Fertile's Arlo Brunsberg with high inside pitches.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

The Time is Now

With the announcement by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service of a shortened duck hunting season, and a reduction in the bag limits, it is evident that the ducks are in short supply.

And it is evident, too, that if the numbers of ducks are to be increased, the cooperation of sportsmen and their organizations must be obtained, and the efforts of these organizations must be coordinated for the benefit of the migratory waterfowl.

One of the organizations that has been active in promoting and furthering the "welfare" of waterfowl is Ducks Unlimited. This organization, through the voluntary contributions of sportsmen, has undertaken, and carried to completion, numerous "duck factory" projects in Canada.

It is a fact that state license monies, and federal duck stamp revenue, cannot be expended on game conservation projects outside the statutory boundaries of the United States. Ducks Unlimited is not restricted by such boundaries, and the funds this organization receives is used largely to provide nesting areas in the Canadian provinces.

The Canadian provinces have been happy to cooperate with the DU engineers, and the provinces have provided the tracts of land for the various projects.

Russ Embury is the Pennington county chairman for Ducks Unlimited. Russ will be glad to explain the objectives of DU, and he will be glad, too, to receive your contribution for a membership.

Prestige

The Thief River Rifle Club gained considerable prestige the other day when, through the efforts of Leonard Hanson, George Thorson was registered as a member of the local club. Thorson is currently the "big bore" rifle champion of Minnesota, having won the title in last year's tournament at Camp Ripley.

Thorson, following a twenty-year career in the army, has retired and is now residing on a farm in the Grygla area. Having regained his civilian status, George will be eligible to compete with the local club as a team member in the "big bore" rifle matches that will be held at Camp Ripley this month.

In addition to the Minnesota title, Thorson, in his travels around the country during his army service, won state championships in California and Texas. For a number of years, Thorson was a member of the army rifle team, and competed in the national matches at Camp Perry, Ohio.

Thorson's membership should add interest in the activities of the local rifle club. Plans are under way for the construction of an adequate rifle range, and a land-lease for this range has already been secured. The National Guard, too, is anxious to have the local club provide rifle range facilities.

Making Amends

In making our compilations of the individual batting averages of the Thieves last week we did an injustice to Frank Gunderman. It's true, as we stated, that Frank banged out twenty hits in fifty-seven trips to the plate in Northern Minny league play, for an average of .351. But we forgot to mention that one of these twenty hits was a home run.

To deny Frank Gunderman due credit for a well hit home run is being just about as cruel as removing potatoes and gravy from his diet. And that home run is well-remembered, for it was a clout that carried over the fence in center-field at the Fair Grounds diamond. The blow came in the 8th inning of the Thieves vs. Fosston game here in early July, and was struck off the righthanded slants of Dave Carlin. The Thieves won that game by a 11 to 7 score.

Sorry, Frank.

Want to Bet?

Jim Kimball, the director of game and fish for the state conservation department, announced that the 1959 duck hunting season would open on Wednesday, Oct. 7, at 12:00 P.M. As far as the rank-and-file duck hunters are concerned, that mid-week opening date will "live long in infamy."

Ordinarily the duck hunting season opens on a Saturday, giving the wage-and-hour worker an opportunity to get out into the fields and marshes, and get some shooting at the ducks before they, the ducks, become gun-shy. But not this year.

We are willing to make a small wager that come Wednesday, Oct. 7, Kimball, George Selke, and other bureaucrats of the conservation department, will be out on favored duck marshes and passes.

Only Three Appear in Court Monday

Two Others Forfeit Bonds on Traffic Charges

Only three persons appeared in municipal court to face charges on traffic law violations before Judge H. O. Chommie Monday. All three were brought by city police.

Claire E. Carlson, city, pleaded guilty to going through a red traffic signal, resulting in an accident and was fined $10 plus $4 costs, while Joe G. Holtan, rt. 1, was fined $10 plus $4 costs after pleading guilty to speeding.

Having an open bottle of alcoholic beverage in his car cost John W. Grindeland, city, a $15 fine plus $4 costs after he pleaded guilty to the charge. Clary N. Eliason, Minneapolis, forfeited $30 bond on an open bottle charge.

Arthur B. Cloutier, rt. 3, forfeited $15 bond on a charge of going through a stop sign.

Wednesday, Larry A. Dimmen, Fargo pleaded guilty to possession of beer by a minor and was fined $10 plus $4 costs. On the additional charge of having large dice obstructing the rear window of his car Dimmen was fined $10 which was suspended after a warning by Judge Chommie.

Hamm's Team Plays All-stars Tonight

Game Scheduled for 6:15 If Weather Permits

Weather and playing conditions permitting the city champion Hamm's Beer team will meet the All-Stars in an exhibition softball game on the East Side diamond this evening, Thursday, 6:15 p.m.

According to present plans, manager Lowell Collins of the All-Stars will give Helmer (Ham) Myhrer the starting assignment against the Hamm's, with Dave Martin catching. Available for relief duty, and ready to take over the pitching duties midway through the game will be Bjorkman's Milt Reierson.

The Hamm's squad will be reinforced by the presence of such players as catcher Frank Harger, centerfielder Rod Max, and relief pitcher Jesse DuChamp. Highway Dept. Asks Care over Labor Day by State Motorists

Nine persons have been killed on the average Labor Day weekend since 1949, the Highway Safety Division reported today. During the 40 days of the 10 holiday periods 90 persons met death on the highway.

For a 10 year average, there were 579 traffic accidents reported to the highway department in which 352 persons were injured in addition to the nine deaths.

During the four-day Labor Day weekend in 1958 seven persons lost their lives as a result of Minnesota motor vehicle traffic accidents, and 317 persons were injured in 203 non-fatal accidents. A total of 582 accidents were reported.

Beginning Friday evening, the last rush to enjoy our marvelous Minnesota summer will begin, Mark Markson, chief of the highway safety division said. "It will continue through Monday as many persons have a frantic race to have fun during the last of the summer's three big holidays weekends."

"The above factual reminder that people die when drivers rush should be a deterent for motorists," he said. "The National Safety Council estimates that 400 persons will be killed and about 12,000 others will suffer disabling injuries in traffic accidents over the nation. If we hold our avarge, 32 of those will be in Minnesota."

Markson gave five life-saving tips to motorists:

1. Don't try to drive too far—400 miles a day should be the limit, and a lot less after working or engaging in strenuous play.
2. Cut your speed at least 10 miles an hour after dark. Drive at a rate which is safe for the conditions of weather and heavy traffic.
3. Don't drive if you drink.
5. Don't take chances and watch out for the other guy.

"Labor Day has been set aside to honor the skill and industry of the American working man," he said. "But we should recognize that safety is a way of life both on and off the job. American workers have achieved remarkable records for safety on the job, but we have to take those safe working habits beyond the plant into the home and onto the highway. Labor Day was never meant to be celebrated with traffic accidents. Drive in such a way that you get to work Tuesday without incident."

83 Pct. of Twin City Area People Own Cars

Approximately 83 per cent of the households in the Twin City metropolitan area own automobiles, according to a report issued today by the Minnesota highway department. The report stated that there are 463,000 automobiles registered in the metropolitan area, and that only 17 per cent of the households had no cars.

The report is a part of the Twin Cities area transportation study being conducted by the highway department in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. The study area comprises some 900 square miles and includes Ramsey county and portions of Hennepin, Carver, Anoka, Washington and Dakota counties.

Almost 63 per cent of the 414,000 households in the area own one car and nearly 18 per cent are two car families. Only two per cent, or 8,280 households, can boast of three or more cars.

Car ownership, the report indicates, varies widely between the many communities or districts in the metropolitan area, with the average of cars per household increasing quite uniformly outward from the downtown areas to the suburbs.

In one downtown Minneapolis district, for example, there is an average of one car for every two households, while in Edina, which has the highest ratio in the entire area, there is an average of more than one and one-half cars per household.

In a district bordering downtown St. Paul there is only one car for every three households, while in West St. Paul there is one car per household, and in White Bear Lake there is an average of nearly one and one-half cars per household.

The transportation study, of which these figures are only a small part, is of major importance to the residents of the metropolitan area. It will provide data on all factors affecting traffic patterns which will form the basis for planning a modern system of major streets, highways and freeways that should be constructed by 1980 to serve the metropolitan area.

Timber Products Offered by State

To Be Offered for Sale in Five Northern Counties

A fall sale of timber products from state-owned forest lands will be held in five northern counties when 5,476,000 board feet of logs and 61,510 cords of pulpwood and other products will be offered to the highest bidders, E. L. Lawson, director of the division of forestry said today.

The auction sales will be held at county court houses of Itasca on September 22, Beltrami on October 14, St. Louis October 16, Koochiching on October 20 and Lake of the Woods on October 22.

Terms of the sales and appraised values are advertised in the county newspapers and will be in advance of the sales. Lists of tracts to be offered are furnished interested purchasers 30 in advance of the sales.

According to terms of a law passed by the 1955 and 1957 legislatures, 41700 Christmas trees growing on stagnant spruce swamps will be offered on a 15-year "harvest-improvement" lease. The purpose of this experimental project is to determine if better growth can be stimulated on the stagnant swamplands by ditching, selective cutting and other forestry practices over a period of time. The successful bidder submits an improvement program to the conservation department for approval. More than 3,400 acres of state land are contained in this pilot project.

R.R. Valley Potato Industry Starts Advertising Drive

Campaign Is Financed Jointly by Growers and Federal Matching Funds

A "double-barreled" advertising campaign and market development program, authorized by the Red River Valley Potato committee some weeks ago, is underway and coordinated with the availability of the new potato crop, according to an announcement by Lyle W. Currie, executive secretary.

The potato committee, headed by John P. Bushee, set up the national - regional advertising program which will reach millions of consumers, brokers and retailers throughout the marketing area. This program will be supplemented by market development representatives made possible under a federal-state matching fund market development program.

The advertising plans will give Red River Valley potatoes top level national representation through some of the nation's most popular, wide circulation magazines.

The first advertisement is scheduled to appear in Look magazine's October 13 edition, available September 29. According to information available this is the first time that fresh potatoes has ever been brought to the attention of the consumer at this level.

Currie said that the advertising program will be designed to emphasize the superior flavor and quality, the natural growing conditions and the rich glacial soil found only in the Red River Valley of the North.

The state share of funds under the matched fund program is provided by the Red River Valley potato industry. Immediately qualified men are appointed, all segments of the trade, jobbers, wholesalers, retailers, institutional users, processors, food editors and others will be interviewed for pertinent information which will assist in increased movement of the fine potato products of the Red River Valley.

"Happiness doesn't depend on what we have, but it does depend on how we feel towards what we have. We can be happy with little and miserable with much." —W. D. Hoard

Progress Slow But Sure

Some day we will come to a realization that there are more effective and less costly ways of settling labor disputes than by strikes. Progress comes slowly. The wisdom of moderation is impressed upon us only as we learn to understand the folly of excess. Force yields grudgingly to reason. But as trial by jury has taken the place of lynch law, so, eventually, agencies will be established to settle disputes between management and labor.

There probably was justification, in the days of the old West, for hanging a horse thief. Because there were no courts and no jails, hanging a thief provided a primitive society with quick and effective protection from a particular offender. After courts and jails were available there were many who still thought horse thieves should be strung up. But that opinion no longer prevails.

Strikes are more restrained than they once were. There probably was a time when force was justified. Force now is frowned upon and strikes are conducted according to specific rules and regulations. The trend toward greater restraint will continue.

Basically the strike is an agent of force. It gradually will yield to the procedures of reason and justice.

Progress is slow. New ideas are accepted cautiously. But we are moving in the right direction.

Better Service Ahead

Harold T. Miller of Minneapolis has been named Director of Research for the Minnesota Taxpayers Association. His service in such a capacity will add much to the effectiveness of that organization. Having served as Research Analyst for the Minnesota Legislative Research Committee and as Accountant for the Senate Finance Committee over a period of many years, he has an excellent background of experience in government. Ted Miller knows whereof he speaks mainly because he doesn't speak until he knows.

Minnesota needs a strong taxpayers association, and with the guidance of Ted Miller the present association may develop some much needed strength. From our observations, it has been ineffective in the past because it has limited its activities largely to bellyaching. It probably is natural for such an organization to have a negative approach. We think, however, it has been too negative.

Its record has not been impressive. It has opposed tax increases, but it has seldom been heard in opposition to appropriation increases. While other considerations are important, the most effective way to keep taxes from getting out of line is to keep spending from getting out of line.

That will always be the taxpayers' main line of defense. And that is where Ted Miller can be helpful in advising those who direct the activities of the Taxpayers Association.

Einar B. Nelson, recently named president of the association, will give the organization strong executive leadership.

Why The Sudden Honesty.?

China's Communist rulers have admitted that their 1959 production targets were too high and are impossible to achieve. The schedules for this year were based on exaggerated reports for the 1958 actual, they admit. Quotas for next year will be more realistic.

Just why the Chinese Reds should make such admissions is not clear. Whom were they trying to fool in the first place? For the rank and file, within or outside of China, the figures in themselves would mean nothing. Only for a few economists, informed on past production records, would they have any meaning, and past records probably are limited and unreliable.

The figures no doubt were impressive in the neighboring countries where the Chinese were trying to convince hungry people that Communism is the way to prosperity, but why admit that the figures were false? The only conceivable answer is that they have become so obviously false that admission offered the only solution.

Because we as Americans may not visit in China, and learn about conditions there first hand, we lose sight of the fact that people of other nations are permitted behind the bamboo curtain. Competent reporters give us reliable information about conditions there. Chinese authorities are aware of this, and that probably is an important factor in their honesty.

It is a good argument, too, for permitting Americans to visit the country and draw their own conclusions.

Not All News Is Bad News

(Christian Science Monitor)

Some newspapers habitually "over-play" the ugly aspects of daily life. But several years ago Simeon Strunsky in a serious book on the press and its public pointed out that the proportion of good to bad news in most responsible daily papers was far from being what the readers seemed to think it was. He declared that the constructive far outstripped the sensational and sordid.

Recently the Yonkers Herald Statesman, having been taken to task by a reader for printing news of juvenile delinquency, and having been asked to print more news of the constructive activities of young people, replied: "We would say that — in an average issue of the Herald Statesman — the 'good' and 'constructive' news about Yonkers young people exceeds that of the 'bad apples'—the juvenile delinquents—by about one thousand to one."

Because of the impact that crime or other sensational reports make on the reader it is easy for him or her to exaggerate the amount of such reporting and to ignore other sorts that appear in greater volume on the same pages. This is not to say that there is not too much playing up of the sordid in an effort to pander to so-called mass taste. But the reader as well as the editor has a responsibility for this which he can exercise through his selection of newspapers and by adjusting his sense of perspective to the facts of responsible journalism.

Bans Not the Answer

(Calgary Herald)

The government is quite right in doing nothing more than drawing the hazard and danger from misuse of plastic bags to the public attention. The great hue and cry raised both in the United States and Canada following several fatal accidents to children, seems to follow a trend which has been growing more and more apparent of late: If anything gets in the way, ban it; if anything is remotely dangerous, ban it.

There is no question that if these bags are misused by children they can be dangerous. But so can automobiles, or gasoline, or hammers or a million other objects which are in daily use in the home and elsewhere. People seem to be growing more prone these days to ask for official help or intervention instead of using their common sense in problems such as these.

All that the government should be required to do is what it has done—and, indeed, what the dry cleaning industry has and is doing—draw the matter to the public's attention and let common sense take over from there.

The act of living is dangerous. Do we hear anyone crying for a ban on this?

Your Office in Washington

by Congressman

ODIN LANGEN

A short time ago the daily newspapers were filled with items concerning the activity on Capitol Hill. This is no longer the case, however, as the number of issues before the Congress narrows and adjournment seems just around the corner. As I write this, there would seem to be three major pieces of legislation standing between the 86th Congress and its adjournment—labor-management reform legislation, financing of the Federal Highway Program, and housing. The first two of these have brought a very large volume of mail to this office, indicating the great concern of our Ninth District people over these important problems. This interest on the part of the people has been very gratifying and helpful to those of us who serve you here.

Labor Bill Conference

I had thought that by the time I wrote this it would be possible to report to you on the final version of labor-management reform legislation as approved by a House-Senate conference committee. However, the committee is still meeting in an attempt to compromise the differences in the House and Senate bills over secondary boycotts. This should in no way be interpreted as criticism of the committee, however, in that they have been doing an admirable job in what is a very difficult assignment. Final agreement in all areas other than secondary boycotts is reported to have been very nearly reached, with one member of the committee stating that the compromise bill, as of now, is "90 per cent Griffin-Landrum." When finally reported, the conference bill will be voted on first by the Senate and then by the House. The votes in both Houses will be simply to accept or reject, with no amendments allowed on the floor.

Federal Highway Program

It would appear as this is being written that the House Ways and Means Committee and the House Public Works Committee are closer to agreement on a way to finance the continuation of our Federal Highway Program than at any previous time. Reports have it that the Public Works group will agree to accept the Ways and Means proposal of one cent per gallon increase in the Federal gasoline tax for 22 months, and report this bill to the Floor soon. If they don't, the Ways and Means Committee has threatened to bypass them and take their proposal directly to the entire House of Representatives.

Housing

Last Thursday the House passed a second housing bill by a vote of 283 to 105. A first housing bill, as you will recall, was vetoed by the President, and after an unsuccessful attemp to override this veto the Senate approved a second measure. The present bill, it is said, will cost $1,050,000,000 as compared with the original bill's $1,375,000,000. It was passed by the House in its identical Senate form, which means that it now goes to the President, who is still dissatisfied with some of the bill's features. This dissatisfaction, plus the possible adjournment of Congress in the near future, makes it very difficult to predict whether he will veto or sign it.

YOUR SENATOR REPORTS from the Desk of SENATOR HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

Clean Water: the nation's need—Without clean, fresh water, we simply could not live on this planet. Water-suply experts see a top limit of 600 billion gallons a day on the supply of water. Already we use 270 billion gallons a day, and the experts predict America will be using the full 60 billion gallons a day by 1980. By 1980 we won't be able to waste a single gallon of water. Yet pollution of our water supply by sewage and industrial use is a growing threat to this vital national resource. Thanks to the hard work of Senator Eugene J. McCarthy, the Senate public works committee last week approved the Blatnik-Humphrey water pollution control bill to expand federal assistance to local communities to build sewegae treatment plants.

Action by Congress—Since the federal water pollution control program began three years ago, construction of sewage treatment plants by local communities has increased from an average of $222 million to more than $380 million a year. But to catch up with the backlog of sewage treatment needs, to replace obsolete sewage plants and to keep up with the growing needs of our people and our industries, we must invest at least $575 million a year on sewage plants, according to the Public Health Service. Our legislation calls for $100 million a year in grants, with local communities paying 70% of the total costs of their projects. The House has approved the full figure, and the Senate public works committee, last week supported a figure of $80 million a year. We are assured, then of getting a substantial increase over the present $50 million annual program.

Benefits for Minnesota—During the past three years under the Blatnik-Humphrey water pollution control act, 29 Minnesota communities have received federal grants to help build needed sewage treatment plants at an estimated total cost of $11,300,000. Three-fourths of these communities have less than 25,000 population. Without the 30 per cent federal contribution, many communities would not be able to go ahead on these urgent self-help water pollution control projects. Dr. R. N. Barr of the Minnesota department of Health estimates that Minnesota sewage plant construction in the next three years will total about $21 million if there is sufficient federal aid. Other new sewage plant construction and improvement needs in Minnesota would total another $110 million.

Water pollution control—The polution control program is primarily a community self-help program. Federal grants can stimulate and encourage municipalities to take care of their sewage treatment needs, especially when they need just a little help to get them over the hump. Under the new Blatnik-Humphrey proposal, we will also encourage many small communities to join together in building area-wide sewage facilities by increasing the maximum project grant from $250,000 to $500,000. This program will promote good engineering practices and community responsibility. It will also protect our water resources—resources vital to our industry and farms, wild life and recreation and vital to the health of every American.

WHY DO YOU KEEP THAT RABBIT'S FOOT HANGING THERE, ZERO?
FOR GOOD LUCK! SO I WON'T GO DOWN WITH MY SHIP!
WHAT ARE YOU TALKING ABOUT? YOU'RE NOT EVEN IN THE NAVY!
WORKS GREAT, DOESN'T IT?
THAT'S ODD... THIS ROPE WASN'T HANGING HERE THIS MORNING
I WONDER WHAT IT'S FOR
IT'S SORT OF INTRIGUING, BUT I'D BETTER NOT FOOL WITH IT
HOW DO YOU EXPECT TO LEARN THINGS IF YOU'RE NOT CURIOUS?!
THIS OLD JACKET IS ONLY GOOD FOR DUST RAGS. I'LL GET A PAIR OF SCISSORS
I GUESS HE PUT THAT ONE OUT TO GO TO THE CLEANERS WHEN I BROUGHT THIS CLEAN ONE BACK
WHY ARE YOU CUTTING UP YOUR NEW JACKET?

THE LONE RANGER

THIS IS HEAVY!
THE RANGER AND TONTO BROUGHT IT HERE. YOU TWO SHOULD BE ABLE TO TAKE IT SOMEWHERE ELSE!
MEANWHILE, THE LONE RANGER AND TONTO REIN UP ON A NEARBY HILL--

Agent Offers Tips to Beneficiaries of Social Security

Kistler Points out How New Regulations Affect Income of Recipients

If you want to work after retirement age and forfeit some or all of your social security checks, that is your personal concern. If you lose some or all of your checks because you do not understand the requirements, that is a matter of concern o the Social Security Administration.

Walter D. Kistler, manager of the Grand Forks, N. D., social security office, stated that such a situation is possible. He urged all beneficiaries who are working or intend to work to inquire about the new provision in the social security law pertaining to earnings after retirement.

Under the present law, you can still earn up to $1,200 in a year and receive all of your social security checks. The major change in 1959 is that if you are working for wages and earn over $1,200 in a year, you will not lose a check for any month in which you do not earn over $100. As before, if you are self-employed and do not render services in your business some months of the year, you are entitled to payment for these months.

Kistler emphasized the point that any beneficiary who has net earnings from his business or total wages of less than $2,080 in a year should contact his nearest social security office, as some benefits may be due. Bear in mind, benefits are payable, regardless of the total earnings, for any month in which wages are $100 or less, and in which no services are rendered in a trade or business.

Wool Growers Urged to Support Program

Wool growers throughout the United States are urged to vote "yes" in the September referendum by Carl Nadasdy, general manager of the wool marketing associations of South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska.

"The future of the National Wool Act itself with its incentive payments is in jeopardy if the referendum fails," said Nadasdy. The wool and lamb promotion provided by the Wool Act will be discontinued if the referendum does not pass, he explained.

He also said that section 708 which makes up a part of the National Wool Act was developed jointly by the sheep industry and Congress to prove that the wool industry is interested in helping itself. Under section 708 wool growers throughout the U.S. contribute one cent per pound of wool and five cents per cwt. of lamb sold. This provides an advertising and promotional fund which helps the sheep industry help itself.

Currently the American Farm Bureau is making a public attack against the program, contending that it does not represent the opinions of the sheep industry.

Nadasdy pointed out that it will require a 66% "yes" vote to continue the program. This stipulation was placed in the law when it was first passed. It is therefore a more democratic process than our own governmental system which requires only a simple majority to win.

Nadasdy said the American Farm Bureau has a pile of statistics in its favor, but closer study shows these statistics have only surface appearance, misleading in value. One must look at long-term trends, he said, not isolated cases.

Then he said the promotional advertising program is beginning to show its real usefulness. Since the program began, fat lamb prices have been more stable than for any similar period of time. Even more important, he said, wool consumption during the first six months of 1959 increased 36%. This he believes is conclusive proof that the program is working.

Raw pack Tomatoes Have Best Flavor, Say Nutritionists

Process is Easier and Gives Superior Flavor, 'U' M. Experts Report

Canning tomatoes this year? Homegrown tomatoes are in plentiful supply at local markets and a good buy now for canning.

Grace Brill and Verna Mikesh, extension nutritionists at the University of Minnesota, report that so many inquiries are coming in from homemakers about the proper method of canning tomatoes that they are passing on some specific tips on preserving this popular vegetable.

Since tomatoes and tomato juice are no better than the tomatoes that go into them, select your tomatoes carefully. Use only perfect, ripe fruits. Discard all badly blemished or soft tomatoes.

Either the raw pack or hot pack method is satisfactory for canning tomatoes, but the raw pack method is somewhat easier and gives superior flavor. To prepare tomatoes for either method, scald them just long enough to loosen the skins; then plunge them into cold water. Drain, peel and remove all green portions and the hard core.

For the raw pack, leave the tomatoes whole or cut them into halves or quarters. Pack the tomatoes into jars within ½-inch of the top, pressing gently to fill the spaces. Add ½ teaspoon of salt to pints and 1 teaspoon to quarts. Adjust the seal and process in a hot water bath 35 minutes for pints and 45 minutes for quarts.

For the hot pack, quarter the peeled tomatoes, bring to a boil in an open kettle and pack in jars to within ½-inch of the top. Add salt as for the raw pack. Process in a hot water bath 35 minutes for pints and 45 minutes for quarts.

For tomato juice, wash tomatoes, remove the stem ends, cut into pieces and simmer until softened. Then put through a fine sieve. Avoid putting skin through the strainer, since it will make the juice less attractive.

Add 1 teaspoon salt to each quart of juice. Reheat to the boiling point, fill jars with juice to ¼-inch of the top. Process for 30 minutes in a hot water bath.

The long processing for tomatoes and tomato juice is recommended, the nutritionists say, to guard against certain types of flat-sour spoilage.

More information on canning is given in Ext. Folder 100, "Home Canning Fruits and Vegetables." Copies are available from county extension offices or from Bulletin Room, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1.

THE BARTENDER'S CREED
(Osterhus Publishing Co.)

Welcome, friend to my establishment; I'm always glad to have you come in, especially if you're young. It does not bother me at all if you develop cirrhosis of the liver, T.B., or cancer—all I'm interested in is PROFITS! Mine is a legitimate business, and I deserve much credit for furnishing patients for doctors, patrons for undertakers and a lot of extra work for charitable institutions, hospitals, morgues and cemeteries. The fact that you may ruin your health, break your mother's heart, disgrace your father's name, and damn your soul is not my concern, because I do not believe in a DAY OF RECKONING!

So, drink hearty and often, for when you're gone, there'll be others to take your place. The jingle of the cash register is music to my ear. And, just think, your hard-earned money is being deposited in a bank—in my name.

Then, when I have spent most of the summer rooting them out, the last cunning survivors always enlist the help of my own youngsters to plant a bumper crop for next year.

But there are weeds more serious than dandelions—weeds which like the tares in Christ's parable are planted by an Enemy. These are my real concern when I think about my youngsters. I want no evil to choke or twist the character of my sons and daughters. Nor do I want them to spread the spores of evil that will undermine the character of others.

I believe that God meant me to seek truth and moral courage through the teaching, preaching and fellowship His Church provides. Every Sunday I share these blessings with my family.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

HOME Garden TIPS

ORRIN C. TURNQUIST

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE
UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA, ST. PAUL 1, MINN.

Starting A New Lawn

Starting a new lawn in fall is already popular in Minnesota. In fact, more people would do well to follow the idea. Why? Fall planting helps avoid the weed problem, for one thing. Second, you don't have as much work to do on the garden at this time of year and probably have more time to do the watering that's needed. And third, fall planting can result in as good a lawn as will planting at any other time.

Through soil preparation before planting is important. Here are the main steps: Add organic matter to both heavy soils and light soils. Good sources of organic matter are barnyard manure, compost, and agricultural peat. Work the organic matter thoroughly into the upper six inches of the soil.

Add a complete fertilizer, such as 10-10-10 or 12-12-12. Apply 40 or 50 pounds per 1,000 square feet and work it in with the organic matter.

Use a good quality grass seed, adapted to your lawn conditions. Use bluegrass alone on a sunny lawn, and use a mixture of fescues and bluegrass in shady areas.

Keep the soil surface moist until the grass seed has germinated and start mowing when the grass is three inches high. Don't let it grow too long before mowing for the first time; early mowing doesn't hurt lawn grass.

You can apply a complete fertilizer again before the end of September.

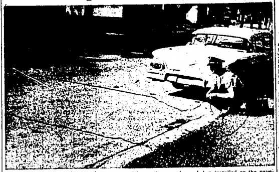
Walter Asselin, well known Oklee farmer and mail carrier, lost his right leg below the knee late Monday afternoon in a combine accident on the Asselin farm a mile west of Oklee.

Asselin was operating the self-propelled combine alone and his foot caught in the cylinders or rollers when he attempted to clear them. His foot and leg were crushed in the mishap and it was some time before his plight was discovered by a neighbor, Adelore Morrissette.

Morrissette discovered Asselin about 6:15 and summoned help but it took over two hours to extricate Asselin's leg, so tightly it was jammed between the cylinders. Dr. L. N. Dale of Red Lake Falls was summoned and amputation below the knee was mandatory. Asselin was put in St. John's hospital where his condition is good, Dr. Dale stated Thursday. Several blood transfusions were necessary after the accident.

New Apparatus to Help Catch Speeders in City



TAPES The steel tapes shown being installed on the pavement by Officer Don Olson are part of the speed recording device which will go into operation Tuesday, Sept. 8, by Thief River Falls police. Connected by cables to a recording device further down the street, the device will accurately measure the speed of passing vehicles and will better control traffic in the city.

Something new has been added to law enforcement devices in the city of Thief River Falls.

Tuesday, Sept. 8, a new speed recording device, purchased by the police department after city council approval, will be put into use to control traffic thruout Thief River Falls. Violations of speed limits will result in tickets being issued.

The device, which may be moved to different locations within a few minutes, is highly accurate. Cases brought into courts questioning the validity of the recorder's accuracy have invariably resulted in convictions.

Elton Cummings, Thief River Falls police chief, emphasized that the recorder is not to be used as a "speed trap" but as a traffic control device to educate drivers to stay within posted speed limits.

A demonstration of the new device on Main ave. N. Thursday afternoon proved its effectiveness. The majority of vehicles approaching the testing area were well within the posted speed limit of 35 miles an hour and others slowed perceptibly when they noticed the patrol car at the curb. There were, however, a few drivers who were stopped and warned that their driving habits, if repeated after the Sept.

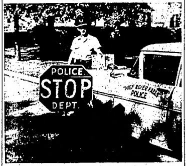
RECORDER The device in the box on the hood of the squad car is the electronic recorder which registers the exact speed cars drive when they cross the steel tapes shown in the picture at the top. The instrument is actuated by the switch Officer Olson is holding in his hand.



THE RESULT of too much speed on the part of motorists is the release of the stop sign and a record of the speed on the dial of the recorder. At that time, Officer Olson and his fellow officers will issue violation tickets to erring motorists.

Daylight Saving Had Been in Effect Since Last May 24

After having been in effect since May 24, daylight saving time will come to an end this year in Minnesota Tuesday morning, September 8, at 2 a.m., meaning that local residents will have to set their clocks and watches back one hour before retiring Monday night.

In adjusting to the new hours, it will be necessary to bear in mind that railroad trains, buses and airlines continued to operate on central standard time all thru the summer months, so their schedules will be the same as they were before fast time took effect in May.

The change back to standard time will be welcomed by those who like to get an extra hour of sleep in the morning, and also by operators of drive-in theatres.
